

The background is a dark, textured surface with a complex pattern of thin, overlapping lines in shades of blue, red, and white. These lines radiate from a central point at the bottom right, creating a starburst or explosion effect. Scattered throughout the scene are several glowing, semi-transparent spheres in a pale yellow or white hue. The overall aesthetic is dynamic and celebratory, reminiscent of a night sky filled with stars and streaks of light.

While learning about the Medieval Period, a group of students fight in the battle of Baden. All of the class, including Mr. Obannon, looked forward to going outside with pool noodles and playing games that were enjoyed in the years 1066-1185 D.C.

Volunteer, Heath Porter, stands "blind folded" as Nikki Howard asks him to try to solve a Rubix Cube in their College Prep Writing class. Everyone loved Nikki's creativity in her speech as she then compared herself to the complex cube.

Sophomore, Kyle Miller, stands proudly while teaching about Sacco Vanzetti in front of Mr. Green's history class. Many presentations were given as the class learned about the 1920's.

Learning at it's best

Poe poems, "Eldorado", Justin Tinsley, Jimmy Collun, Samantha Howard, and David Sheperd show the class their interpretation about star actors were eager to perform their hard work and still accomplish learning at its best.

Brittany Blake, Kayla Banks, and Caleb Howard stare amazed as Biology II teacher, Mrs. Kuhn cracks open their turtle shell to reveal its 'inner beauty' important part in the science students' lives while they learned about the habits and habitats of creatures everywhere.

Now a C.P.R. expert, Jessica McClary shows all of the important steps the Anatomy and Physiology class learned to save someone's life. After completing the final test, the well-educated students received a certified card that explained what they had accomplished and allowed them to perform C.P.R. at any needed moment.

Peer Listening
Peer Listeners are a select group chosen by Mrs. Bayes to go into the elementary school as role models and group leaders. The students have also agreed to be drug, alcohol and tobacco free.

Internship
If you are an intern you are placed at one of the schools in the district and are given the opportunity to gain a more realistic view of work responsibilities and a sense of career options.

Seizing the moment, Chelsi Wilson, Joey Sutherland, and KayLee Ross express their enthusiasm to the verb celebrar, to celebrate. In this Spanish II class, being shy is not acceptable as they performed the "Verb Game" activity everyday.

Tinny Evans, also known as Tineteo, stares down a competitor in an adrenaline pumping game of "Vocabulary Ball". Every Friday a game is used to improve the student's vocabulary and knowledge of the language.

Hank Leslie, or as some call him "El Campion", smiles as he beats out the class by writing the correct number on his marker board. Taylor Hardy however, doesn't seem to be as lucky in this round. This was a fun, exciting way to learn all the numbers, even the ones over one-thousand, for the test.

In his electricity lab, Michael Brown contemplates the order of the wires to get the light bulbs to work. Despite the huge amount of effort and patience required, he knew that was what he wanted his profession to be. Michael did all that he could in order to succeed.

Prepare to be Amazed

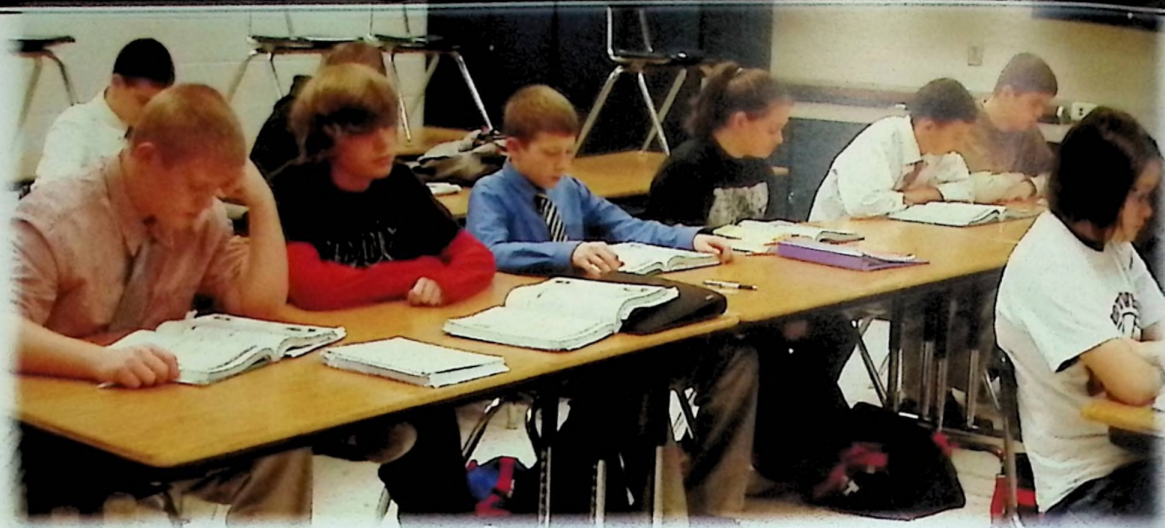

Senior Jamie Kulp works determined to complete his reading assignment. Although SCCTC allowed students to learn how to do a variety of jobs, they still had to keep up with their studies.

Derrick Walters and Alex Vest concentrate on welding a scrap piece of metal. Both the boys were tremendously talented in welding and were satisfied with their experience in the Welding Program.

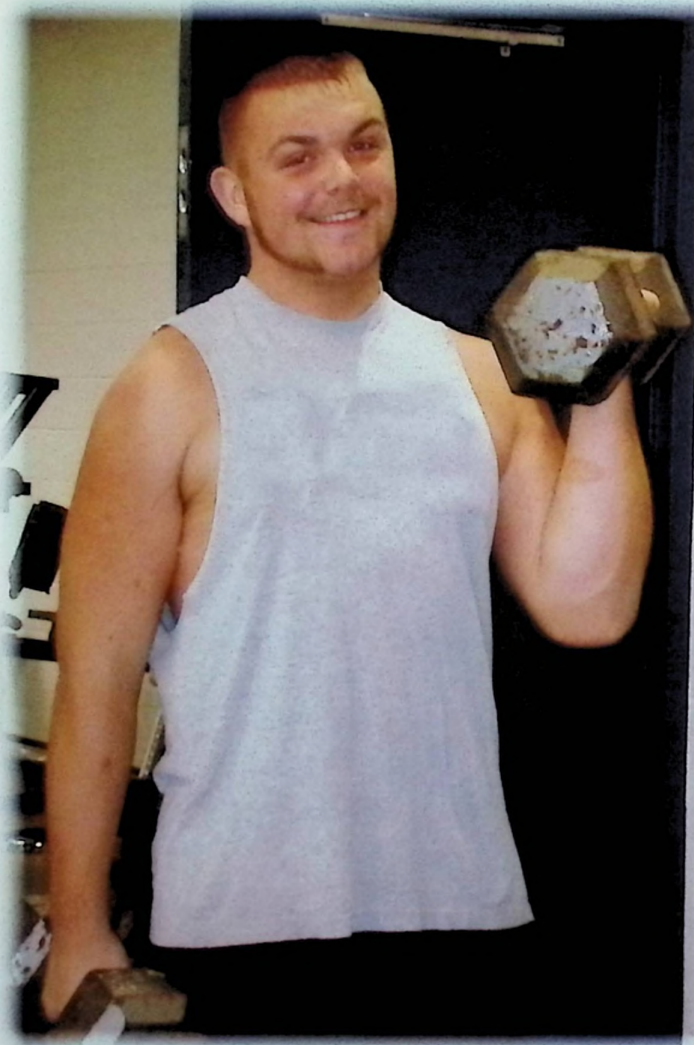

Taking in all the health facts, Mrs. Bayes' first block class works hard on completing their reading assignment. Besides building their brains, she also had her students carry out activities to build the student's muscles in the gym.

While in an intense game of pickleball, freshman Taylor Burchett gets down and ready for the opposing team's serve. To stay physically fit, Mrs. Bayes' classes are required to play many fun games after an informative health lesson.

Junior Tyson Brown, a weight lifting fanatic, takes a break from his bench weight and curls two 30 pound dumbbells in Mr. Spears' Athletic P.E.. Tyson has consecutively taken this class since his freshman year to keep his build and endurance for football.

Taylor Burchett stands with her grandparents, Anita and Bill Hamilton, along with family friends, Chau and Nam, in Bern, Switzerland. They visited Bern to attend Chau and Nam's summer wedding. They met when Bill was in the Vietnam war; Chau showed him around and he quickly became her 'American father'.

Sophomore Kyle Trapp visits the Washington Monument during his trip to Washington D.C. He was selected as a People to People Ambassador to watch the presidential inauguration of Barack Obama, our first African American president.

Senior David Groves sits with his new kill, a twelve point buck that he shot during gun season. He took pleasure in missing an excused day of school to partake in his favorite activity.

Freshman Remington Throckmorton smiles as he holds his freshly caught bass. He was President of the River Valley Junior Bass Club and was fond of fishing regularly.

Sophomore Seth Tipton participates in Sea Cadets which is a Navy program for children ages 13-17. The cadets had to travel to Northern Ohio near Lake Erie for bootcamp at Camp Perry.

Victoria Kratzer barrel races during the fair. She enjoyed spending her summer getting ready for the numerous competitions she attended.

Eric Thompson encourages Anakin, a family friend, to pet his 4-H cow Rambo during the Scioto County Fair. He auctioned off his steer for $1700 at the Dairy Show that he enters every year.

Paul Redoutey and Sean Penix play in the American Legion Buckeye Boys State Band. They drove to Bowling Green University and stayed at camp for a week during the summer.

Mohawk Spirit

The student popular vote and a panel of judges selected Lauren Orban to represent Northwest in the annual Riverdays Pageant. Lauren's theme was 'Mohawk Spirit.' Decorating her float and writing her speech were only two of the endless tasks Lauren had to do to prepare for the pageant. The pageant was at held at the Vern Riffe Center for the Arts on August 30th. Her escort for the evening was her close friend Justin Teufel. Lauren competed against eleven other schools and won the title of Miss Congeniality, a moment she will always remember. "I loved sharing the experience with the other girls. We all became very close friends and always will be. Winning the title of Miss Congeniality meant the world to me." she says.

If you lived on a riverdays float, what would your theme be?

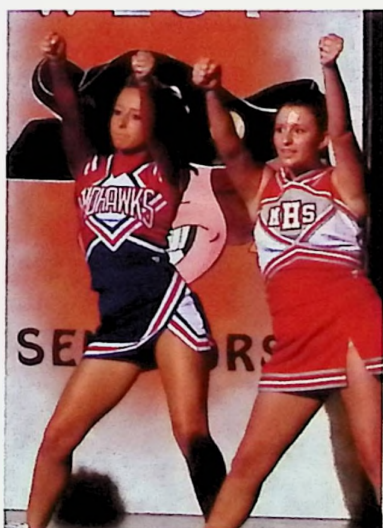

"The 70's because I love hippies."
-Kendra Altman

"Guitars because I love to play them."
-Jimmy Cullum

In shock, Lauren points to herself as she is being announced Miss Congeniality. The Miss Congeniality award is given to the best-all-around and is voted by the competing contestants.

Ashley Gilley, Holly Eichenlaub, and Kristina Horton play their saxophones during the Riverdays parade. They practiced for weeks in order to be perfect for the event.

Lauren comes out in her bedazzled basketball uniform for the sportswear portion of the competition. This was her favorite part of the evening because she got to show off her sporty side.

In order to give the contestants time to get ready, Brooke Jordan along with other cheerleaders dance during the pageant. "It was really cool and fun to dance in front of all those people," says Brooke.

The band takes a quick break from playing their instruments as they march in the parade. Well needed breaks were always appreciated during the hot and humid weather of the Riverdays Parade.

"When I heard about the float contest I simply knew I had to help. So I put my best ideas on paper and I guess they were good," says Becky LeBrun, float contest winner. The float was decorated to reflect 50 years of excellence.

Dressed in their Riverdays outfits, the cheerleaders pass out candy during the parade. They spent all morning decorating their float for the big event.

Lauren gives the judges a smile as she steps up to the microphone before her personal introduction. The girls' lineup was chosen at random and Lauren was chosen as lucky number one.

Thomas England stands drenched as he endures his last water balloon fight at band camp during the summer. Thomas, along with some of the band members, agreed the annual water fight was their favorite part of band camp.

With their heads held high, the Marching Mohawks proudly walk to the field for their halftime show to entertain the football crowd. Performing at the games helped build the band's confidence as they prepared for future competitions.

A group of energetic seniors sit with Mr. Havens during the pep rally. Pep rallies were always an excellent way to get the students pumped up and excited for the game.

Must-haves for
CRAZY
Red and Blue

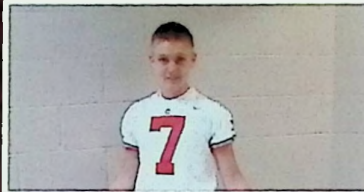

"A sweet Italian accent like Tony Soprano, 'Fuhgitaboutit.'
-Brandon Montavan

"An awesome store like Wal-Mart to get your costume."
-Brittany Williams

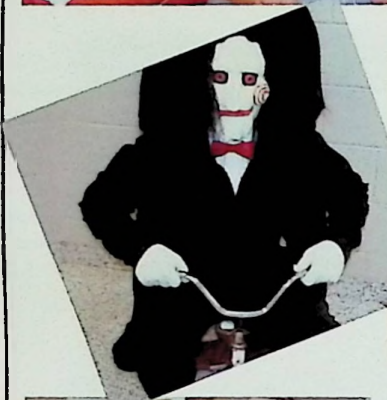

"A stellar football jersey."
-Brandon Shirey

"Peace, love and school spirit."
-Sarah Eichenlaub

"A manly kitty cat mask."
-Tyson Miller

Sophomore Jacob Shope shows his darker side while dressed as Saw. The best-all-around costume award was given to him for his creative use of props.

Senior Kristina Horton wins the scariest costume award. It took her weeks to decide what to dress as and resolved on a vampire.

Teachers Mr. Keeney, Mr. Crabtree, and Mr. Frantz dress as the Three Stooges. It was no surprise when they won the funniest costume award.

Julie Seaman and Taylor Horsley wear costumes from the movie 'Elf.' A panel of teachers voted them cutest couple.

Josh McCarthy and Bruce Grever dress up as bananas for Halloween. They unknowingly wore the same costume each thinking that he would be the only banana.

Freshman Savannah Galloway shows her sumo muscles. Her costume was incredibly unique because it was inflatable.

Mohawk Spirit, You Better Fear It!

"White Tiger because they look pretty."
-Carissa Ross

"Eagle, because they can soar high and touch the sky and that's what most of our students should do."
-Tyler Kephas

If you could change our school mascot, what would it be?

Every year during homecoming weeks, students dress up to support our school and show their spirit. Football spirit week themes were camouflage day, favorite team day, pajama day, red day, and spirit day. Halloween is also a favorite day which the students can show their school spirit. They delight in taking a break from the normal everyday dress code to show their more creative side. Many compete to win one of the awards given to the funniest, scariest, best-all-around, and cutest couple costume. Basketball homecoming themes were camouflage and wildlife day, pajama day, groovy day, and spirit day.

The Time of My Life

"My most memorable moments of homecoming were when Cyla Gillette and Sydney Moos couldn't get my carpet to unroll, when Tyson Brown kissed me, and when Eric Thompson crowned me." says homecoming Queen Alexis Mehaffey about the October 3rd ceremony. Her chosen theme was 'The Time of My Life' with red, black and silver as homecoming colors. The evening started with the court arriving Cinderella style in a horse and buggy. After the football game against the Valley Indians, everyone proceeded to the high school for the homecoming dance. The evening was filled with memories that everyone will remember forever.

What is the most important accessory for homecoming?

"The dress and crown because it's not really homecoming without it."

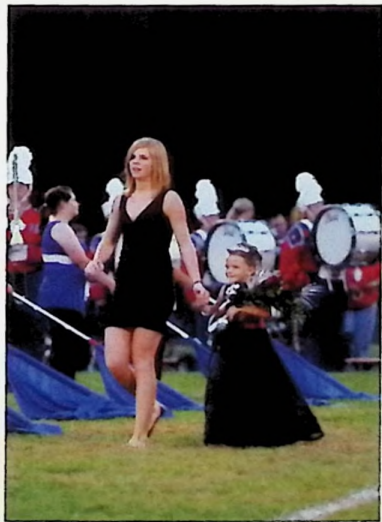

-Kelsey Beinlich

"The crown!"
-Shawn Puckett

Junior Vo-tech attendant Katy Phipps receives a hug from cheerleader Jasmine Gilley. Escort Jacob Emmons watched as Jasmine also presented her with flowers.

The football players run onto the field before the game as the cheerleaders get the crowd pumped up for the rival game against the Indians. The team appreciated the cheerleaders' support throughout the homecoming game and the season.

Before the ceremony, cheerleader Chelsea Howard helps raise the enthusiasm by putting up a spirit sign. "I really enjoyed decorating for homecoming to help the Queen. Homecoming night was my favorite game to cheer for because of the large crowd," said Chelsea.

The court wear their escort's jerseys as well as smiles while they anticipate the upcoming night. They spent the week decorating the stage to make the evening perfect.

The queen and her court make their grand entrance as they take a horse and buggy ride around the football field. Everyone looks forward to that moment of the ceremony.

Some of the football players leave Queen Alexis at her request as they hold her up on her majestic bench. With a good sense of humor Alexis acted as "the boss" during her reign.

Alexis is escorted by Luke Brown, Eric Thompson, Tyson Brown, and Jeremy Cassidy. She liked the fact that all of her escorts were family members.

Matraca Montovan holds the flower girl, Lydia Emmons' hand as they stroll across the field. Being a close friend of Alexis, Matraca was ecstatic to take part in her breathtaking night.

Nicole Kleinke, Jasmine Gilley, Cyla Gillette, and Sydney Moos pass the time before the ceremony by playing Candyland. Out of all three games, Jasmine triumphed over her opponents with no trouble.

Basketball players Allison Kremin and Patrick Cotton watch as Kori Brooke Smith congratulates Nicole Kleinke with a hug. Nicole loved the feeling of being elected by her peers.

Grinning from ear-to-ear junior attendant Matraca Montevon gazes into the crowd while being escorted by her good friend, Mark Moore. "I loved my homecoming experience and will cherish the memories forever," said Matraca.

Before the homecoming ceremony, Eric Thompson practices placing the crown on Queen Cyla. They felt as though practice was necessary to be sure it would be perfect on the court.

While the homecoming court takes time to relieve all of their stress before the upcoming night, senior Eric Thompson jokes with classmates Cyla Gillette and Ethan Toile. Although planning the night was a lot to handle, everything turned out better than expected, and they would never take it back.

Freshman attendant Kayla Clark is escorted by her cousin, Luke Brown. She was eager to share the evening with two of her best friends Katie Malone and KayLee Ross, who presented her with her flowers and trophy.

Morgan Morris and Kreig Crabtree pretend to hold her flowers and trophy during practice. Since this was her senior year, she wanted to make every moment count, and homecoming was an incredible experience.

At the end of the homecoming dance the senior circle sings along with their class song, "Don't Stop Believin'" Journey. Many tears were shed throughout the year as the time grew closer and closer to graduation.

This Is My Now

"Be able to bring someone from a different school to the dance."
-Cali Preston

"I think students should be able to pick the theme."
-Michael Banks

If you could, what would you change about homecoming?

"My favorite part of homecoming was when my friends and family came together to help decorate and when I was standing on the court thinking of all of my achievements I've made throughout my life." says Basketball Homecoming Queen Cyla Gillette about the ceremony on January 23rd. Cyla selected "This Is My Now" to be her theme for homecoming because it reflected this special time in her life. The colors were purple, silver, and black to go along with the decorations of a nighttime park. The ceremony took place in the gym followed by the varsity game against Oak Hill. After the game many students participated in the homecoming dance which took place in the cafeteria.

"Cats' because it's very fun and it keeps me on the edge of my seat."

-Blake Thompson

"I would love to star in 'Legally Blonde' because of the dog, Bruiser."

-Matraca Montavor

What Broadway musical would you consider starring in?

"The musical 'Hairspray' because I love to sing and dance like they do."

-Morgan Morris

"Phantom of the Opera' because his cape is pretty cool."

-Eli Emmons

Taking the Stage

While participating in a trust activity, four drama members hold Becky Ault by all of her limbs and gain her reliance. Taking part in exercise students grow closer to one another and have an incredible time while taking the stage.

Even after knee surgery, junior, Corey Willaims continues to act with his skit members . As you can see, encouragement was literally pushed toward Corey, but with great sympathy.

Wearing their sparkling alto shirts, a few ladies chime in on their part during the spring chorus concert. Although the girls were calm, cool, and collected, nerves began to overtake their stomach as they performed for the whole gym.

When I Grow Up, I Wanna be Famous!

*Elvis collected police badges from every city he performed in.
 *Sheryl Crow started out as a back up singer for Micheal Jackson's Bad Tour.

*Bruce Lee was so fast that they actually had to slow down the film to see his moves.
 *Will Smith was a millionaire by eighteen.

Ready to sing, Kevin Montgomery holds the mic and waits on Mr. Colegrove's cue to begin. Along with the other selected members, Kevin participated in the All County Choir and was a needed asset for chorus during both semesters.

-Katie Malone

Some of the basketball cheerleaders get the game started off by doing their hello cheer. The girls loved to take the floor and cheer their team on every second they could.

Varsity cheerleaders KayLee Ross, Katie Malone and Chelsi Wilson talk about the game while they eat. The girls liked stopping to have a meal after away games.

The basketball cheerleaders perform their dance at halftime. Many of the girls agree that dancing was their favorite part about cheerleading, but also very nerve-wracking.

The cheerleaders anxiously await to hear where they placed in the 'Cheer for a Cure' competition. Finishing 2nd in their division gave them confidence as they moved on to their next contest.

The junior varsity cheerleaders take the floor to get the crowd involved. They loved to see the crowds enthusiastic attitudes.

Cheerleaders Kenzee Hackworth and Brooke Jordan show their school spirit before a football game. Both girls cheered for football and basketball.

Joseph Koeing looks for a teammate to pass to while Jeremy Blankenship gets into defensive position. The team enjoyed the extra practice during the JV contest at Meet The Mohawks.

If you could play for an NBA team which would it be?

The team gathers around Coach Scarberry during a time-out while he presents a different strategy. They played an outstanding game against Wheelersburg that night.

Kenny Crabtree shoots the ball over the Notre Dame defender. Kenny played tough defense in the win over Notre Dame.

Justin Jenkins and Jonathan LaJoye double team the West opponent. The freshman team always pushed each other to finish the games strong.

Junior Varsity players Jenna Euton and Alexis Gambill attempt to block the pass by a Lady Indian. The girls knew how to work together to succeed in their game.

Rachael Shumway posts up and works to get around a Minford player. While Minford was one of the junior varsities toughest matches Rachael did everything she could to help her team mates.

Kayla White jumps up to block a shot by a West player. Although the West defense was aggressive Kayla managed to shut them down from her position.

Senior Kim Taylor seals out her Waverly opponent. With the advantage of her height, Kim made an excellent guard for the Mohawks.

Ashley Gilley gets back on her feet after taking a fall while fighting for the ball. Despite her small size, Ashley put up quite a battle on the basketball court.

Paden Richard pulls himself out of the pool after completing the freestyle. Paden also competed in many relays and other individual events.

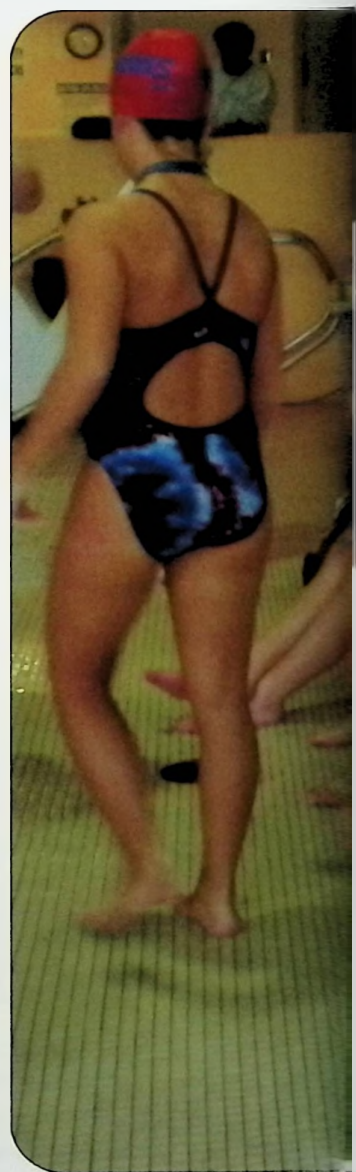

Pond Prugmahachakul takes a quick breath during the 200 meter relay. He was a great asset to the relay team which finished 5th at the SOC meet.

Makin' a Splash

Divin' for Victory

Samantha Howard pumps her arms during the 100 meter backstroke. She excelled in other events, but this was her favorite.

"When Michael Fezell swam in socks up to his waist."
-Kyle Miller

"In 5th grade I got caught underneath a pool raft and almost drowned."
-Tori Salsbury

"I went on a cruise and there was a tropical storm. I was heaving the whole time."
-Jordan Nickles

What is the most traumatic water experience you've ever had?

Some swimmers take a break in between their events to hangout and cheer on their fellow teammates. The team had many new members that helped contribute to their great season.

Three-year swimmer Megan Gadd swims quickly to finish her race. She participated in the 500 freestyle, and she was part of the 200 and 400 meter relay teams.

-Lauren Bassler

-I like to sit with Kayla and scream 'Look at 'em Go.'
-Rachael Shumway

Junior Hank Leslie holds running blocks for his teammate Kenzee Hackworth at a Waverly track meet. When the boys and girls weren't occupied by another event they were willing to help each other out when needed.

Chelsi Wilson sprints for the finish line in the 4x100 relay. Chelsi was very competitive as she strived for first place to overcome the Oak Hill runner.

Several track athletes prepare to set up the 100 meter hurdles. During home meets if you weren't in an event at the time you were always on the hurdle crew.

Sophomore Kayla Griffith jumps over the first hurdle in the 300 meter hurdles. Kayla put much time and effort into practice so she could get it right.

Hailey Layne winds up as she prepares to throw the discus at the Northwest Invitational. Hailey was dedicated to spending her time for preparation and practice in both discus and shot-put.

Chelsea Howard sprints her last few feet before she hands off the baton to the next runner. Chelsea was the leader of the 4 x 100 relay team.

The varsity team huddles together after taking the field in a tournament game against Westfall. By winning this game 2-1, the girls also won sectionals and advanced to district finals.

"Well, I'm confident, well-rounded and awesome because that's just how it is."

-Brittany Williams

"Athletic and boring...I have no life."

-Rachel Moos

"So good I'm indescribable. No word for it."

-Rachal Lutz

How would you describe yourself?

"I'm open minded. I mean I did come here from Austria."

-Angela Reiter

"I'd say I'm athletic, expressive, and exuberant."

-Haley Schackart

"Musical because without music I wouldn't be as open minded."

-Taylor Hardy

Cheering their teammates on. Some of the girls give encouragement where it is needed. Coach Cable loved their enthusiasm and support throughout the entire season.

Devan Scarberry winds up as she prepares to throw a strike against Wheelersburg. When Devan wasn't pitching, she played left field for the Mohawks.

Freshman Rachel Moos swings the bat with all her might to hit the ball against West. The Lady Mohawks won the game 10-2.

Focusing on the batter at the plate. Brooke Jordan reads the sign from the catcher for the next pitch. Although Brooke was only a sophomore, the opposing teams had a hard time hitting off of her.

Senior Alexis Mehaffey sprints to cover the base as teammates Rachel Moos and Katie Malone scramble to get to the ball. Not being used to the turf field made things more difficult when trying to catch a ball.

Brittany Ellis the Mohawks third baseman decides what she is going to do if the ball is hit to her. Brittany was always prepared for anything that came her way.

Derek Ellis gets in his batting stance and waits for the perfect pitch. The game took place at the Chillicothe VA field against Notre Dame.

Steppin' to the Plate Swingin' for the fence

Without hesitation, Derek Spencer sprints to third base after one of his teammates hits the ball. Looking to score, Derek always did what was best for the team.

Being the center of attention. Coach Powell stands in the middle of the varsity huddle to give his pre-game sermon. His speeches were aimed to raise the intensity level to pull out a win.

Joey Shaffer quickly jumps up from his catcher's stance to prevent the other team from scoring a run. Joey, being the starting catcher, loved throwing and tagging people out any time he could.

Covering home plate. Jared DeLong aggressively awaits the throw from the catcher for the tagout. Being pitcher, Jared had to be alert at all times.

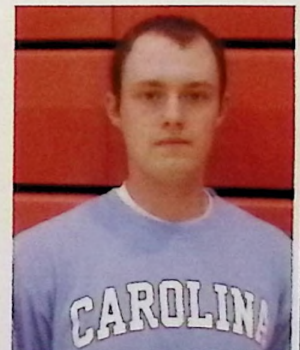

Which Major League Baseball player would you compare yourself to?

- Brandon Phillips, because he's my favorite player.
- Jermey Blankenship

Hollywood Nights

On April 18th Grand March began with the prom attendees walking out on a red carpet. Everyone dressed to perfection to fulfill the prom theme of Hollywood Nights. Then, all the students left to dine and returned to the school later that evening for the dance portion of prom. At prom the couples had fun dancing and socializing with friends. Later, everyone traveled to City Limits for after prom. All were excited to play endless laser tag and to bowl countless games while having the chance to win door prizes. They ended their glamorous night with the presentation of two grand prize laptops to Misty Fairchild and Steven McCoy.

If you could take a celebrity to prom who would it be?

"Chad Grey, because he is cute, he can sing and he seems like he would be a fun person."
-Becky Ault

"Carmen Electra, because she is pretty."
-Malte Peterson

Many prom goers including teacher chaperones, flock to the dance floor when the DJ "slows it down." Overall, this was the most relaxing part of the night for several of the stunning dancers.

Several prom attendees laugh while they share a joke about Sarah Eichenlaub's mother's amateur photography skills. They agreed to meet the limo at Sarah's house and were very disappointed when the limo was late.

Senior Bronston Bennett escorts girlfriend Kayla Forester during Grand March. Kayla's aunt made the clothing for them due to the lack of camouflage prom attire.

Seniors Thomas England and Ellen Adams stand outside the school waiting for grand march to begin. Ellen was ecstatic when she found a colorful dress to match her eclectic style.

Almost everyone dances to "Jump On It," a crowd pleaser. Other school favorites included "The Cha Cha Slide," "The Mocorana," and "Don't Stop Believin'."

Seniors Megan Clay and Ashley Zuefle decoratively place a roll of film in the gym. They were constantly staying after school to create background props for prom.

Acelin Taylor, Alex Green, Brooke Moore, Tiffany Caudill, and Brittany Vaughn take a break from dancing to freshen up. They thought it was cute that they unintentionally matched in different shades of blue.

A group of close friends take a break from bowling at after prom to eat. The senior class officers were pleased to have had Subway cater the event.

An anxious group of seniors await the signal to begin the walk through the halls and into the gymnasium to start the graduation ceremony. Everyone's nerves were at an all time high at that moment.

A group of excited seniors goof off to waste time before they had to line up for graduation. They had to be at the school at 12:30 to get ready even though graduation did not start until 2:00.

Mr. Scarberry presents Heath Porter with a hero award in recognition of his heroic act of saving a life. This award was given to him during the Honors Banquet.

Valedictorians Nikki Howard, Jade Emmons, Lauren Bassler, and Arika Bennett stand with news reporter Carrie Cline. They were attending WSAZ News Channel 3's Best of the Class recognition ceremony.

Paul Redouty and Alexis Mehaffey are recognized by Delores and Ray Miller with the Sean Miller Memorial Scholarship. The scholarship was given in honor of Sean Miller, a 2006 graduate.

Eric White stands with Lauren Orban as she removes the trash from her locker. On the seniors last day, it was announced that all graduating students were to clean out their lockers for the final time.

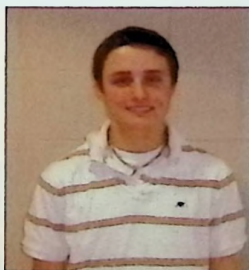

After making her walk onto the stage Misty Fairchild receives her diploma from Mr. Scarberry. It was a very joyous moment for her family, who cheered loudly when her name was called.

Hats Off To You

-Kayla Schackart

"A new car because I don't have one."
-John Underwood

If you could have anything, what would your dream graduation present be?

Friends and family members gathered on May 17th to witness a graduation. All had prepared for this day since kindergarten and found that it had approached far too quickly. Students spent the first part of the day getting dressed in the traditional cap and gown. Afterwards, they walked alphabetically into the gymnasium to Wagner's Pomp and Circumstance. Then, after many speeches were made, each one took his or her turn walking across the stage to receive a diploma. Finally, Mr. Scarberry announced them as the 2009 graduates while they moved their tassels and threw their caps in celebration of their accomplishment.
