Worth of a Word

Weary thou hast grown of words and so doth now inquire,
If a word is worthy of the study I require,
Oh yes, I assure you that a single word is worth
More than gold enough to fill the oceans of the earth.
'Tis true words are merely air blown 'twixt the tongue and lip
Or, perhaps, the inky scratchings of the pen's dark tip,
And yet what is clay before 'tis on the potter's wheel
Or a block of marble ere it feels the sculptor's steel?
Who would give a bag of gold for marble in a block
Or put clay not formed or baked upon the merchant's block?
'Twould be folly! Clay and marble works are never bought
For themselves, but for the skill of he who hath them wrought.
Words have marble's strength and clay's soft gently yielding will,
But to bring forth beauty one must first acquire the skill.
Thou doth daily study words and spelling, writing, rhyme—
Study that today to thee doth seem a waste of time.
Canst not thou see study doth obtain for thee ability—
Skill in writing works of drama, prose, and poetry.

—Michael Porter

In Dedication

Cheryl Weisenberger

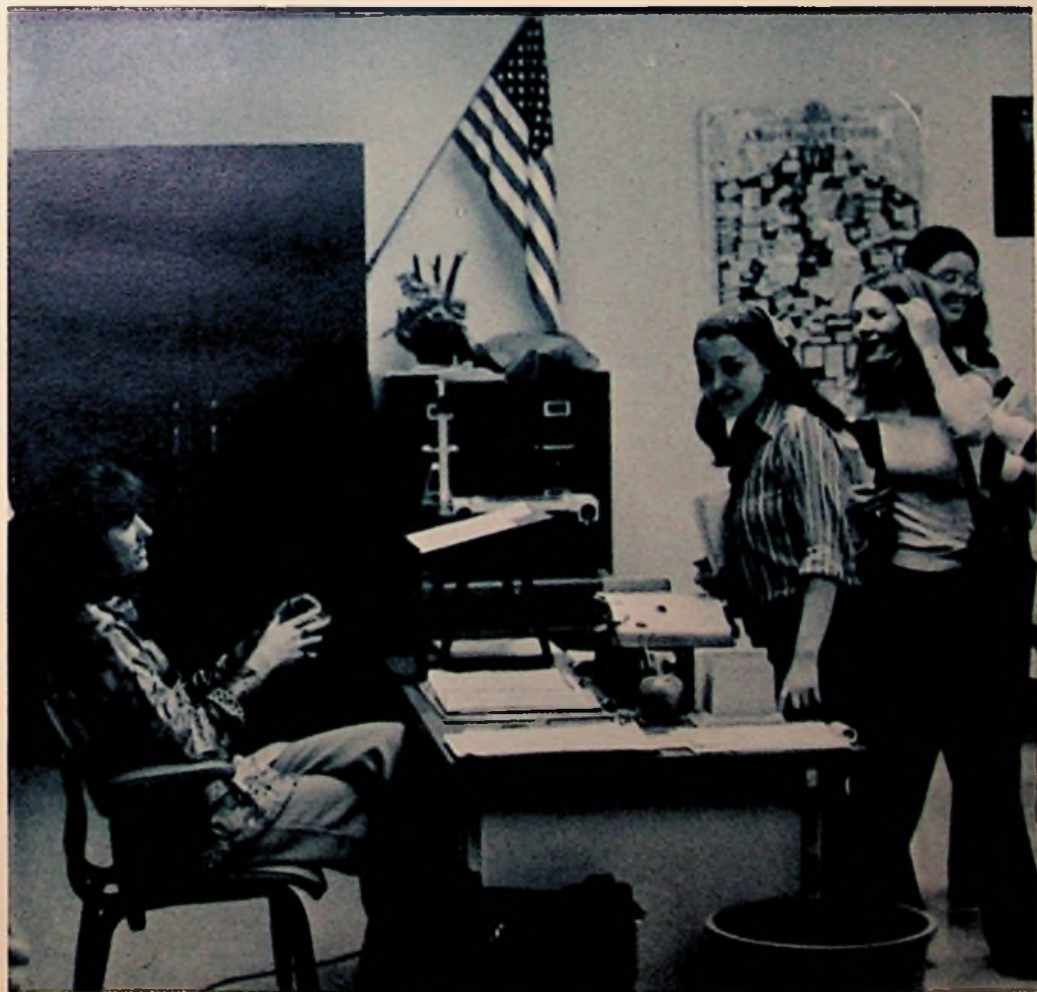

Educator—Friend—Human Being

Don't you dare!

Hold fast to dreams.
For if dreams die
Life is a broken winged bird
That cannot fly.

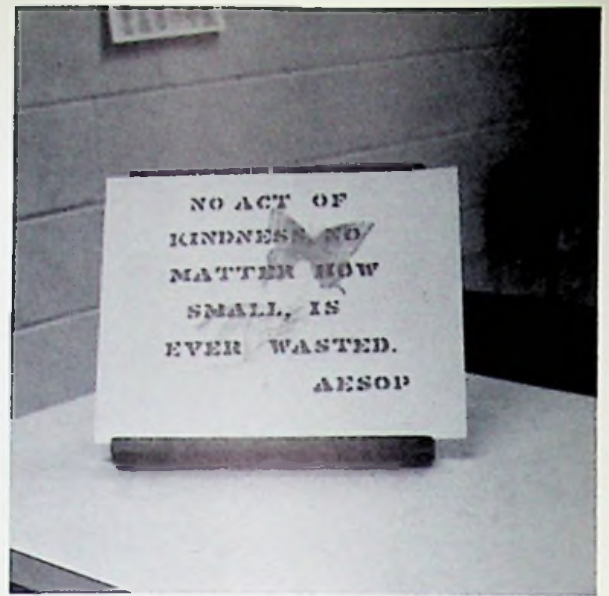

Miss Weisenberger has held fast to her dreams and has instilled others with the need to hold fast to their dreams also. She is more than a teacher to the students who are in her classes—she is both a friend and a warm human being. She has made English more than a class for her students; she has made it a wonderful experience that many of her students will remember after leaving school. For helping others understand life and hold fast to their dreams, we, the Annual Staff, dedicate the 1976 Bobcat to you, Miss Weisenberger.

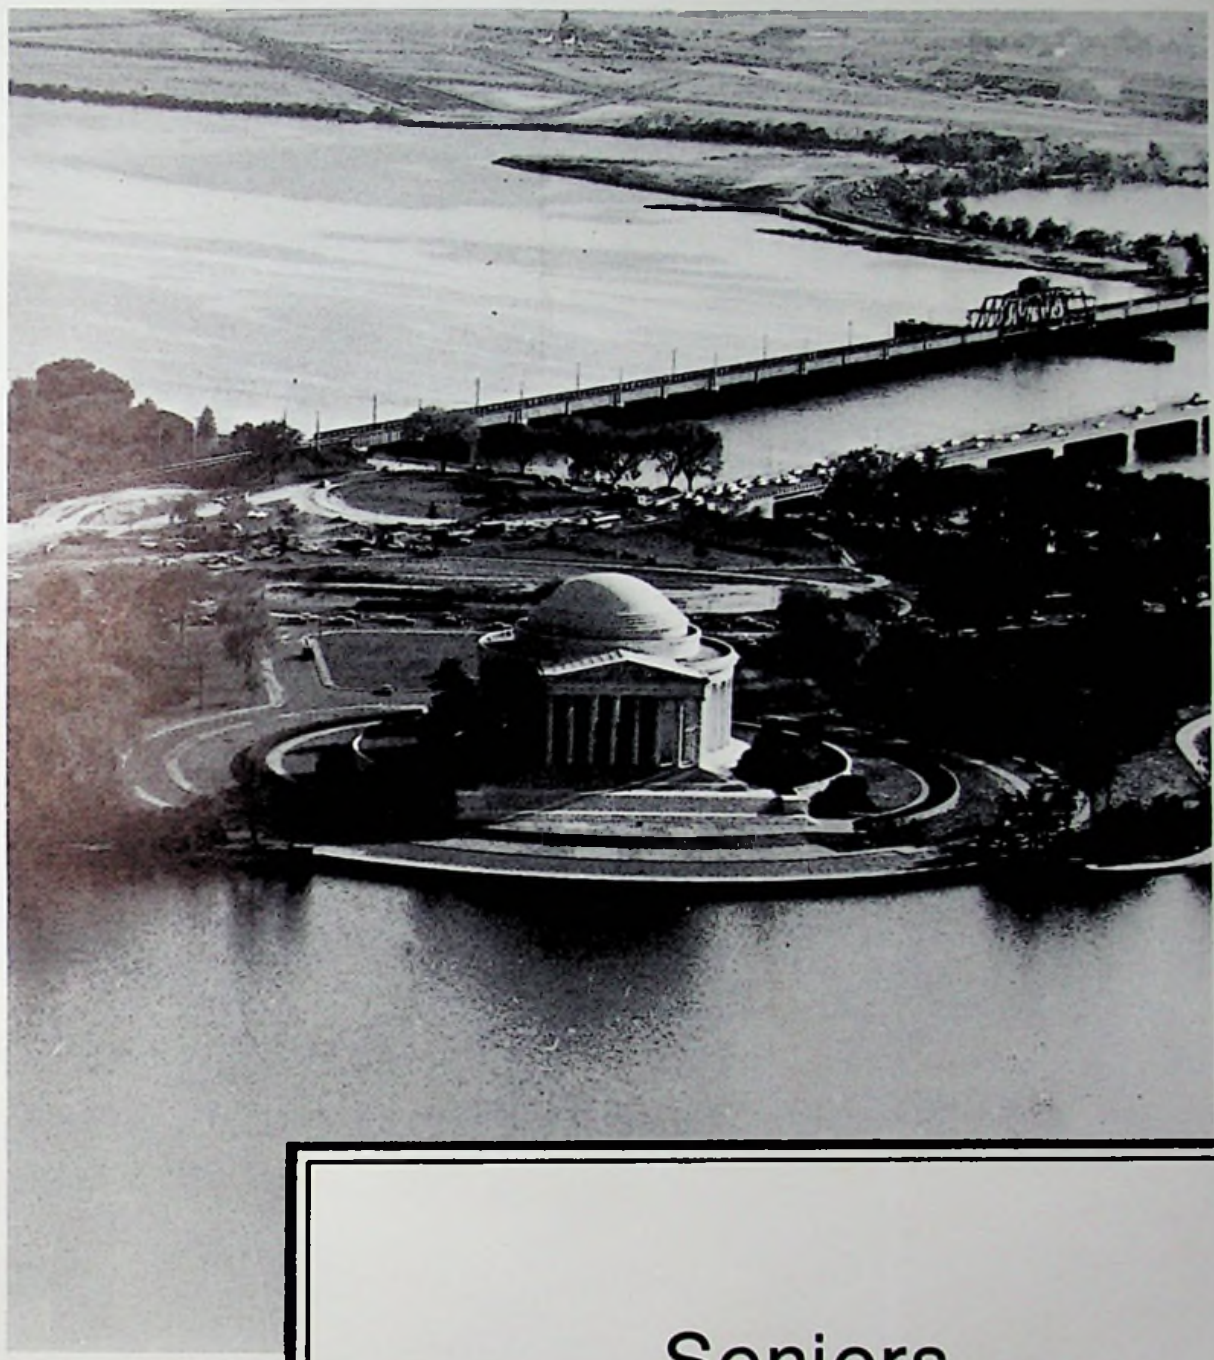

You don't have to be so happy that the semester is over!

I can't take it any longer!

The Star-Spangled Banner

The Seniors sing for the last time.

These sights are now but memories, lighting the corners of our mind. To some these memories are sad; to others they are happy. Whatever they are, the memories mark the end of a long struggle and the beginning of an even longer struggle. During that struggle, we'll all have the memories to brighten our day.

Their last time in a school assembly.

Insert wire A into slot B and press flap C.

Jeff: "It's not as interesting as Teddy thinks it is."

Does anyone need anything pressed?

It's hard to sleep with the light on.

No, Renae, you're not going to copy this time!

Vo-Tec

It sounds good except for the rattle, the knock ...

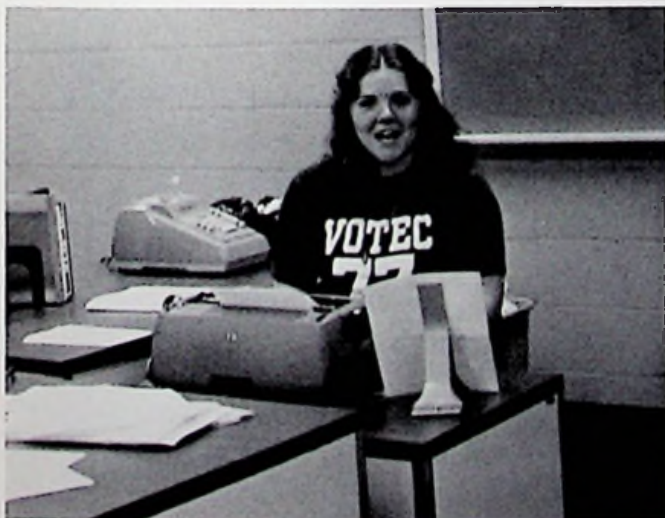

How do you draw a straight line?

Teresa, your typewriter goes in front of you, not behind you.

Open wide and I'll show you what it does.

Hey, the little thing in here moves when I push a key!

Yeah, I talk to plants. So what?

1976 Junior-Senior Prom

In Memory Of

Chris Darby

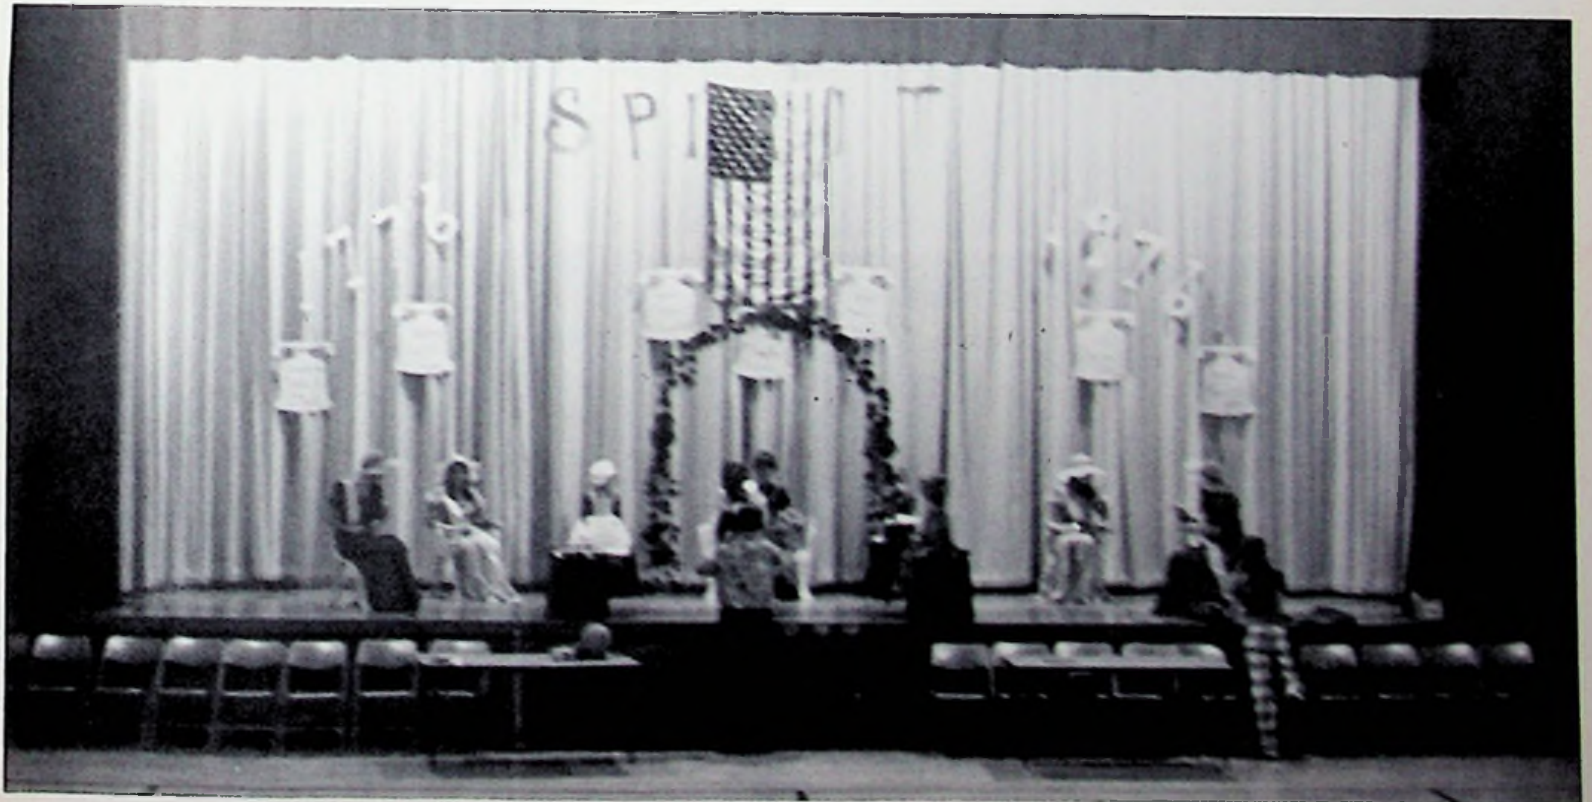

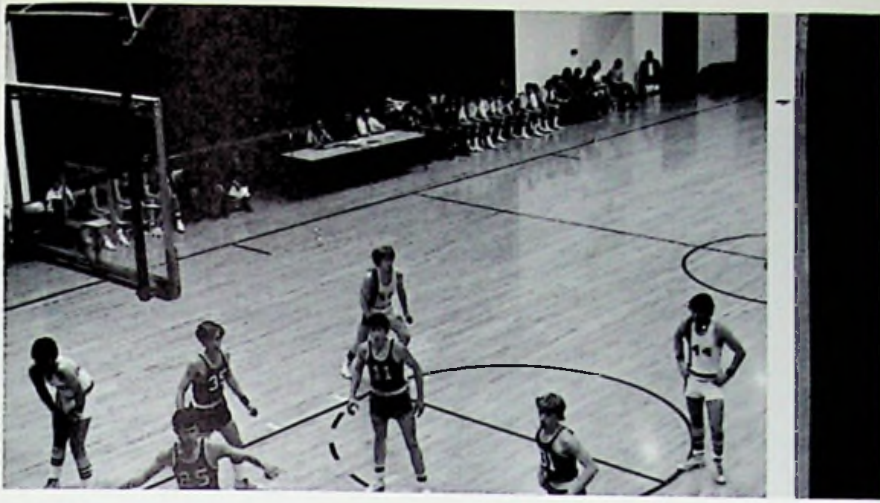

Young and strong
He left that morning
It was routine
Nothing new and different
Yet it was his last act
Although comfort is hard to give
He left many helpers
Good friends and family
Sweet memories of
Sports accomplishments and
School activities
Those things all kids do
He left memories
Only he could leave.

D. R. Porter

Chris Darby was killed in a tractor accident in the early summer of 1975. Having just completed his Freshman year Chris had his whole life before him. We hope that this page will help his friends recall the life he did lead and the good that was accomplished through it.

The Staff

Mark covering N.H.S. practice.

Janice works at Vo-Tec.

At least one person works.

Shane, trying to get some cooperation.

I know Rose, "Just one more makes one hundred. I need good ones."

Staff

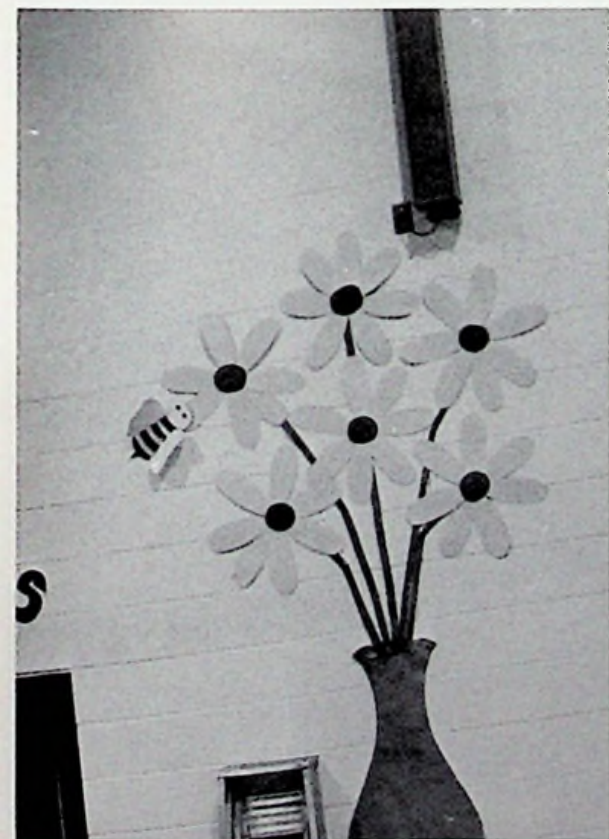

It's hard to get upstairs when she's kneeling.

Steve, you can't sell annuals like that.

Donna and Mary are always goofing off.

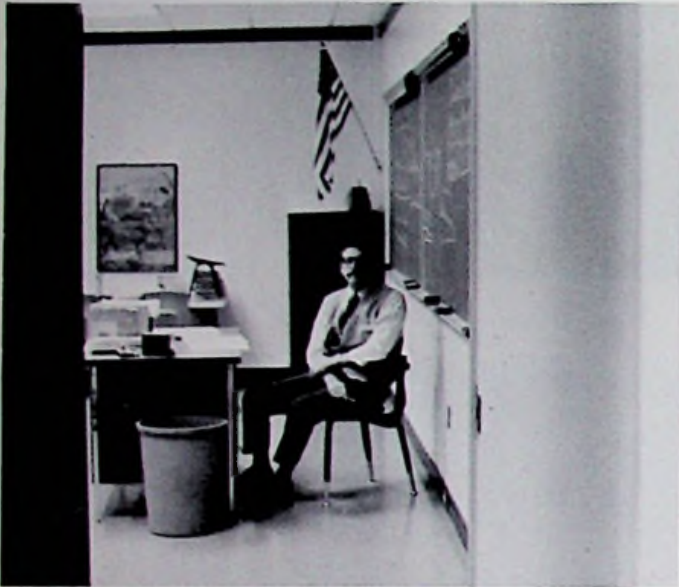

Patty always hides from a camera.

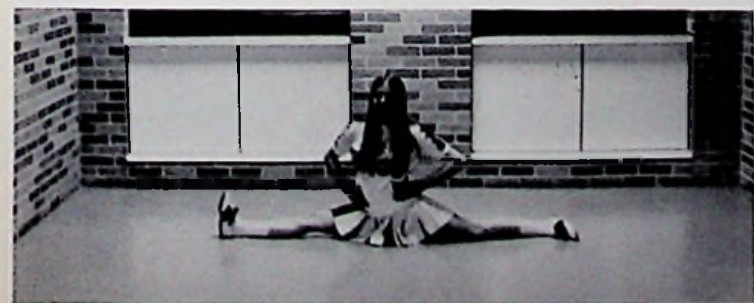

The privileges of an editor!

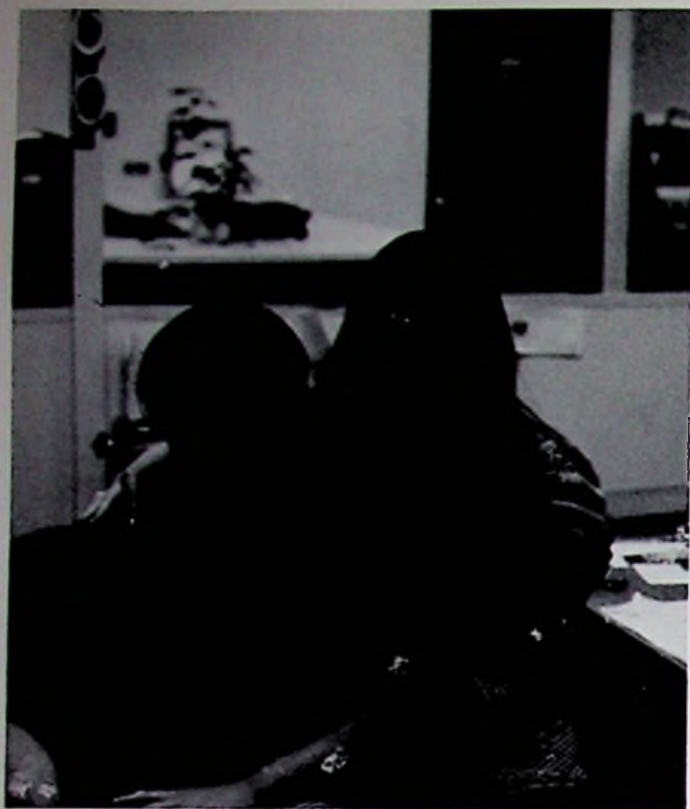

Memories

These pages contain pictures of events that are just memories now. Some events are exciting and "once-in-a-life time" happenings. Others are just everyday occurrences that all add up to make our memories.

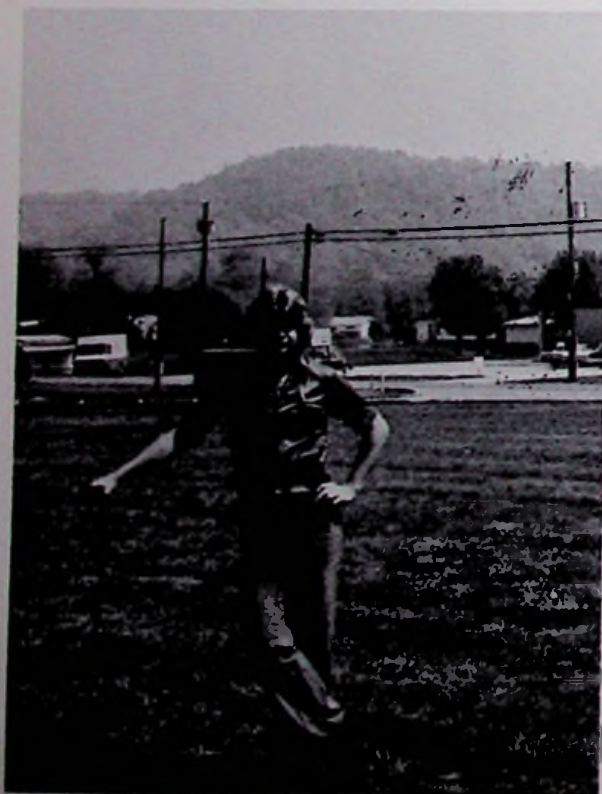

These memories may mean a lot to some and little to others. We hope that everyone will find at least one thing which will be- pleasant memories to them.

What do they remind you of?
Skipping when the teachers was absent.
A final victory.
An award won. What?

Were they good memories or sad ones? Were things fun or were they boring? Just how were they? Can you remember?

Did you help arrange it? Were you in it? Did you have to clean up? Did you just watch?

Did you have to do it? Did you do it because you wanted to? Why? I know why I did! Do you?

What do these mean to you? Happenings or memories?

What ever they mean to you, they mean something to someone! We hope that these pages have brightened someones day.

Grade School

In Memory Of Johnny Brannigan

Memories

The first steps
The sweet, toothless smiles
The first words
The skinned knees
The stubbed toes
The cuts and bruises
The "Mommy, Daddy I love you!"s
The joy at Christmas
The laughter together
The fun times shared
The stories of school
The crooked-lettered cards
The junk in his pockets
The pleas of "one more minute"
The love shared
The times of misunderstanding
Are all that is left
Nothing but —

—DRP

Johnny Brannigan was killed in the Fall of 1975 on his way to the Jr. High Homecoming Football game. He was a student in the Fifth Grade. We hope that this page will help his friends and family to remember the good times whenever they see it.

A Message From The Editor

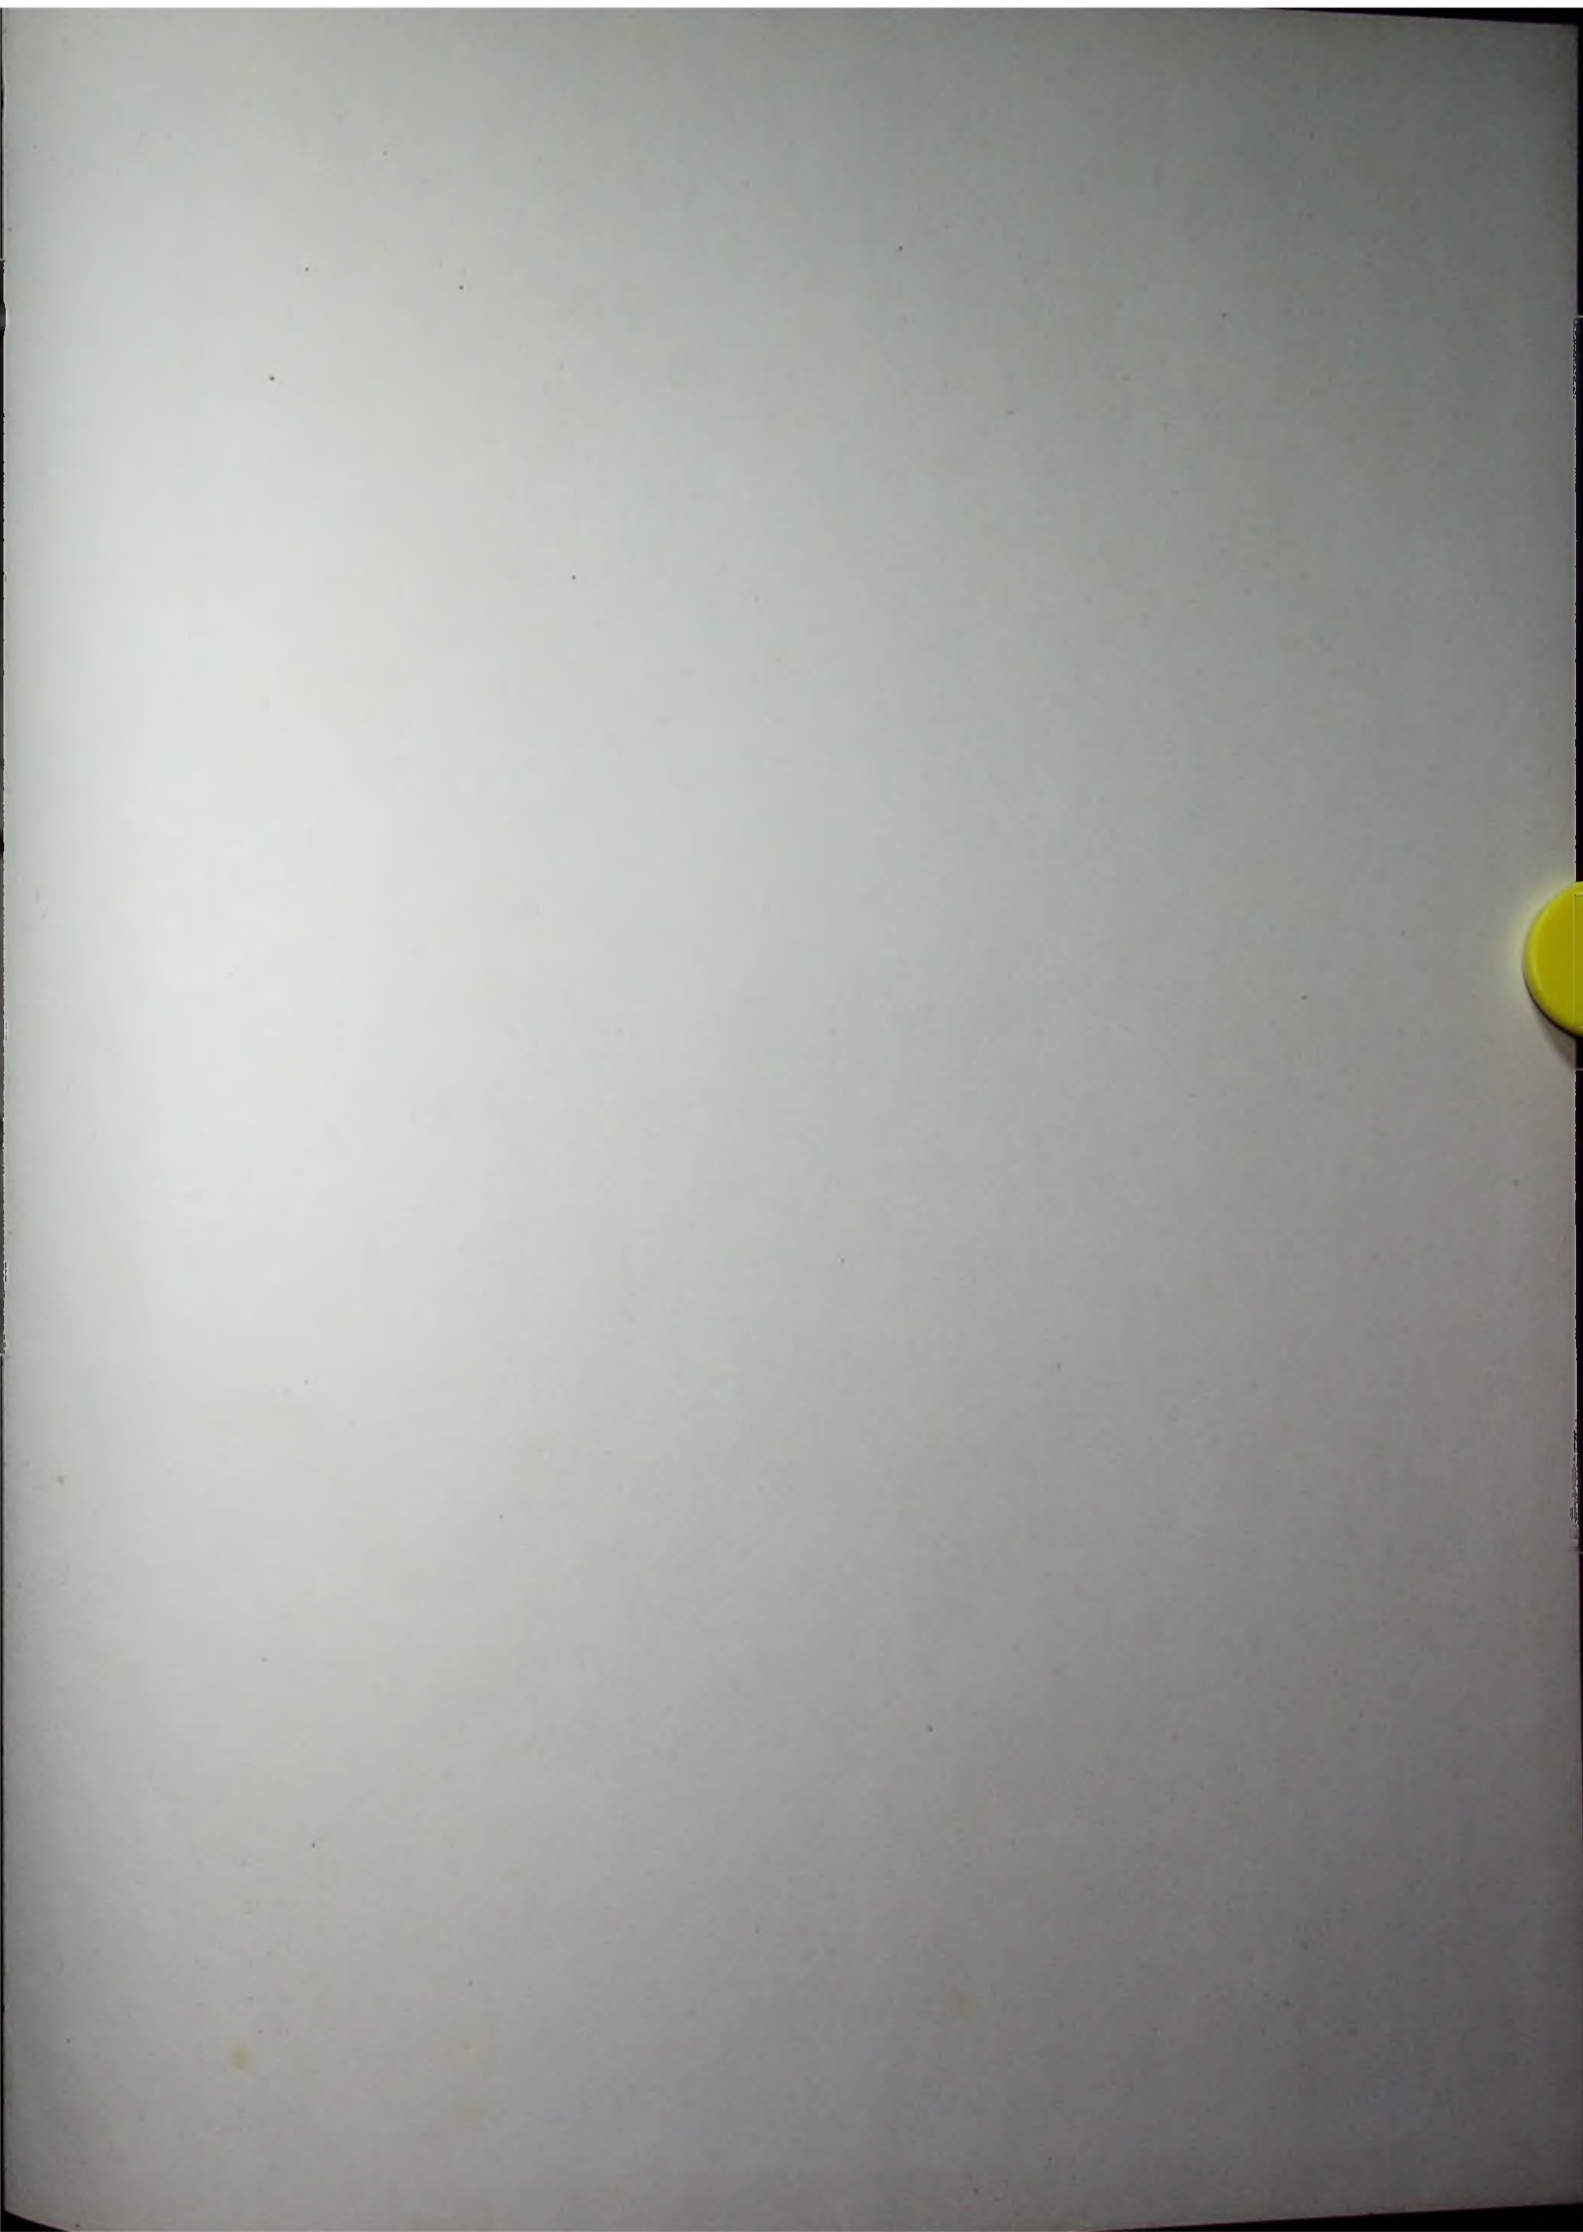

As we close the books on the 1976 BOBCAT, I think of what all has gone into it. The main ingredient was a lot of hard work, which was spiced with plenty of fun. The end result was a great feeling of accomplishment as the last box was taped shut.

I'd like to take time to thank all of the Staff for their hard work, especially the ones who came after school was out to help finish the book. The Business Managers did a marvelous job, as did the others in their various assignments. Also, on behalf of the Staff, I would like to thank everyone who has cooperated during the taking of pictures and the selling of ads. The biggest thanks, however, go to Miss Clark who has helped everyone very much.

Again, thank you, to everyone who has helped to make my job as Editor much, much easier.

Don Porter
