Dedication of the Trojan becomes more difficult each year as the subjects suited to the purpose become more numerous and more uniform in merit. Buildings . . . public—administrative and educational, residential—hotel and private . . . monuments . . . distinguished citizens . . . all are fitting to the occasion.

The 1934 staff includes the entire field of local patriotism in its book and dedicates this Trojan to Portsmouth.

Remembrance

Dramatics lacks a masterful and efficient coach . . . English literature and grammar are deprived of a devotee . . . we have lost a teacher intensely interested in spreading the knowledge she had gained . . . students recognized her ready enthusiasm for earnest discussion . . . there is a void . . . a void which, though we employ the most fitting words and phrases of all the languages, we could never adequately describe . . . in all our future days, our reminiscences will include the never ceasing labor to better classes collectively and individually of . . .

Miss Hazel Pfau

School as a rule, one of the most difficult parts of active life to which a youth must become attached . . . perhaps the most depressing act of his life is tearing himself from it.

School Executives

C. S. DALE

In all of our school activities Mr. Dale, principal for 7 years, has shown the true Trojan spirit . . . has kept P. H. S. in the lime light . . . and has always held the interest of the school foremost. With such a leader the list of future accomplishments of our school is unlimited.

LEONA WISE FELSTED

As Dean of Girls Mrs. Felsted has been truly a friend of every girl in P. H. S. With her intelligent guidance a successful organization has been accomplished whereby every girl is given ample opportunity to develop all of the best that is in her.

KATHERINE KRALL

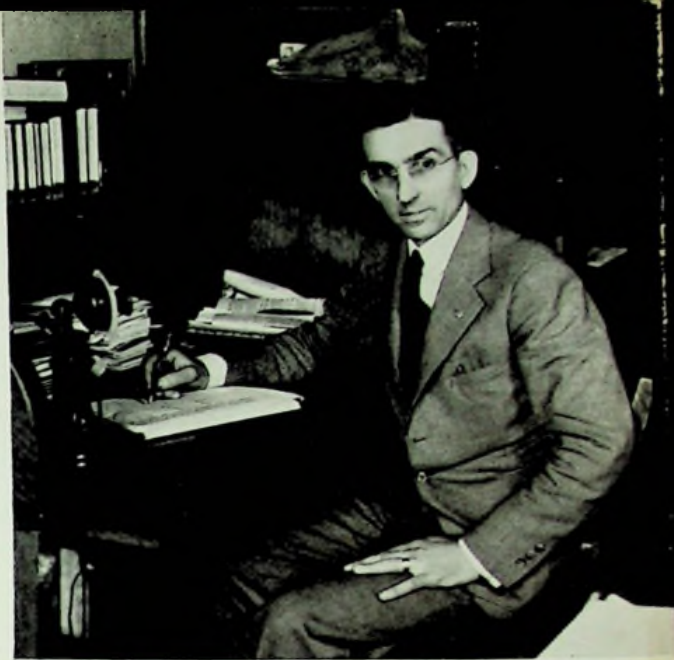

Miss Krall, office secretary, gives invaluable aid to the affairs of the office as well as to the students who go to her with various difficulties and questions.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

The executives of the schools, the Board of Education, have accomplished many of the apparently insurmountable tasks which have confronted them in the last few years.

Seniors

Now older and wiser, but four years ago, young and impetuous—we entered high school. From the first we made good. Selected Bill Clark our first president, Joe Graham—vice president, secretary—Mary Alice Dawson, and treasurer—Howard Brown. Elected Miss Colley, Mr. Kegley, and Mr. Lorentz sponsors. Had Freshmen Class Party . . . more fun!

Second year . . . full of thrills. Picked Jack Williams, Joe Graham, Mary Malavazos and Mildred Wendelken as our officers . . . Kept old sponsors . . . Gave Christmas Dance . . . best in years . . . a big night club . . . new idea. Class play was "Icebound," directed by Miss Colley. Well on the way to success.

As Juniors . . . very high reputation. The officers were—Spencer Cunningham, Ruth Burkitt, Mildred Wendelken and Kate Jones. Arranged for Miss Colley, Miss Blazer, and Mr. Pitts to sponsor. Had numerous activities . . . Valentine Dance . . . spiffy . . . play "Pay As You Enter" . . . fine talent . . . Junior-Senior Prom . . . magnificent garden.

Into 220 this year. Many honors connected . . . highest average . . . first graduates from Grant Junior High . . . outstanding in athletics, dramatics, and music. Gave two plays "The Family Upstairs" and "The Family Doctor." Miss Blazer coaching. A Senior Dance . . . given May 4 . . . memorable . . . the Trojan . . . excellent work. Other Senior plans for picnic, boat ride, Baccalaureate, Commencement, and the Alumni banquet.

Officers for this . . . the last year . . . were: president—Jack Williams; Flora Sutherland, vice-president; secretary—Mary Ellen Lloyd; and treasurer—Mary Malavazos. Sponsors were Miss Blazer, Miss Colley, and Mr. Freeland. Well, we're sorry to go.

In the pictures to the right:

Mary Malavazos, Jack Williams, Flora Sutherland, Mary Ellen Lloyd, officers . . . Center . . . the Rise and Fall of Jack Williams . . . The sponsors; Miss Colley, Mr. Freeland, Miss Blazer.

Out in the Cold, Cold Wurrld!

Quoting our all-activity man, DuPre—
 "Fancy seeing you here!" . . . Do I like the Great Outdoors—especially outdoor men! . . . That's all right, Kate, we all do . . . Lee looks tame enough, but just get him behind a steering wheel! . . .
 What a trio! . . . How did that junior rate this page? . . . I guess Ruth Mary just naturally rates . . . Bette and Caroline are the other two sleepyheads
 Reading top to bottom . . . J. T., H. S., E. W., J. W., J. G., . . . and a crowd from Miss Lloyd's select School, all of whom visited our school for assembly the day before Christmas vacation . . . Below . . . Peek-a-boo, we see you, Red!
 . . . Did you ask if we studied much?
 Well, yes and no . . . What a tangle!
 . . . Have a persimmon, Sam! . . .
 and last . . . What's your hurry?

Juniors

1932, the big year . . . entered High school . . . gave us that grown-up feeling. At initial meeting selected Ralph Dearth, Betty Jane Brechner, Roy Enterline, and Irma Moore for our leaders. To aid and sponsor us . . . Miss Blazer, Miss Gorsuch and Mr. Leach. Had a spiffy fall party . . . for Freshmen only. Put us in good spirits for remainder of school year.

As Sophomores . . . had bigger and better time. Elected . . . after close race . . . Bob Shumway, Joan Wiltsee, Ruth Mary Watkins, and Jane Drew for officers. Miss Kauffman, Miss DuPuy and Mr. Leach for sponsors. Had Christmas Prom . . . Christmas trees, lights, holly . . . all the trimmings . . . "The Wedding Rehearsal" . . . our first try at dramatics.

This year began in a big way. Heavy opposition in the election. "People's Party" won . . . Charles Ridenour for president . . . Ruth Mary Watkins—vice president . . . June Nagel for secretary . . . and Bruce Jones, treasurer. For sponsors . . . Miss Kauffman, Miss Bell and Mr. Leach.

Our Junior Class play . . . "Digging Up the Dirt" . . . mysterious and humorous . . . directed by Mr. Leach. Bob Reno and Ann Nourot . . . the lovers. The Junior dance . . . in form of a barn . . . was a smoothie.

The big things of the year . . . the Junior-Senior Prom . . . was grand. Stars, horoscopes, rainbow, and a dream of an orchestra . . . Michael Hauer and his boys . . . an even dozen . . . Seniors had a grand time . . . and did the Juniors!

Next Year's Seniors

Need some practice Chad?
 Sarusabella Shumway, in her grandmother's wedding gown A slight correction, Wilma, it's King Kong isn't it? Now, about my operation—
 just Mary Lou gassin' again
 M. H. C. Man Haters', or is it Hunters', club All aboard for the Junior Barn Dance! Here's the two horse shay and we see below in costume the cast that dug up the dirt oooh, the kitty!

You just know they're Sophomores

Says D. Clark, "They'll never find me here!" Oh, no, it's just the suit I'm wearing Ronnie Rardin Boy, do I get 'em-Sisson! Gosh, as if I cared who discovered America! but oh! that grade-card, Bert! and then, says George, you wind it easily to the right Honest, we're not nuts, it must be youse guys! Peebles, Sisson. Gahm, recognize the tonsils in the rear? Below As we were the cutest things! Well, we're still cute.

Sophomores

Entered Portsmouth in 1933 with one thought . . . to make good. Of course some were skeptical . . . we fooled them.

In first year election, made fine choice . . . Edward Burney was president, vice-president. Jean Meyer . . . Margaret Jordan, for secretary and Dewey Peterson . . . treasurer. Miss Rimer, Miss Cochran and Mr. Wheeler . . . quite successful sponsors. Limited Freshmen activities . . . only a class party . . . but what a good time!

Knew more what it's all about this year . . . same urge to make good. David Morris . . . president, for vice-president . . . Robert Rardin, Sarah Ann Moore was made secretary, Jean Brooks . . . treasurer. Found remarkable sponsors in Miss DuPuy, Mr. Stewart and Mr. Wheeler.

Bigger activities . . . had grand Sophomore hop . . . big crowd . . . and a popular skating party . . . dramatized "She Wouldn't Stay Put" very cleverly in a special assembly on May 3rd . . . to end the year . . . Hope to roll on to success.

In the pictures to the right:

Freshmen

P. H. S. greeted us some four hundred September 14th and our ambition was fulfilled. Rather scared got over that soon.

Class election James Bailey selected as leader vice-president, Janet Heisel elected Bob Appel for money holder and to take notes, Don Covert. Three able sponsors, too Miss Gorsuch, Mr. Jackson and Mr. Lorentz.

Sponsored Circus Day Dance something new for Freshmen had clowns, pink lemonade and everything. Arabian Knights played very successful.

Eager and willing to work hope to be the best class yet. Alice Padan, Ruth Weisner, Mary Elliott and Helen Kline are the extra-brilliant people all above 95%.

Our Children

Behold, a business man!—Mr. Eynon Not just a gigolo, but awfully carefree for an officer,—Don! Maybe a winning smile would help, Mid Don't rush him too hard, girls, he's bashful and Kenny Webb! He's lost some of that dignity already Fishes all, but not quite all freshmen Why don't you sit down, Bobby? No, not seeing double; there are two of the Jones brothers Have you noticed that they never dress quite the same? and below All I need is a number! I'm the Appel of somebody's eye Did they tell you not to look at the camera, Bill? Let me tell you about my trip to Niagara and Pray, a lily—never a buttercup our own McCrimmon.

Did I Look Like That?

First Picture—OFFNERE

How sweet and innocent Ruth Braunlin looks standing in the front row! Nettie May seems resigned—to what, the 6th grade?

Second Picture—HIGHLAND

Two scholastic marvels standing in the second row Nancy Pennington and Eloise Ruggles Elizabeth Jordan is the personification of Polly Prim.

"Ruggles"

Third Picture—LINCOLN

That's right, DuPre, hold it. It's the smile that won't come off Clark Thurman glares fiercely at photographer from the back row Pete Drummond's traffic badge is proudly conspicuous.

Fourth Picture—MCKINLEY

Ellison Helbig looks a bit soured on the world cynic, eh what? Schuyler's freckles haven't changed a bit! Neither has Sam Vinson. Leona Atlas and Ruth Burkitt, the inseparables, were separated by Bette Mitchell.

Fifth Picture—OFFNERE

Mary Lou Albrecht is the ideal little school girl Dave Reider, staff artist, appears so young and trusting Jack Williams evidently was much shorter in those days else he wouldn't have had to peer out of the third row E. Wikoff also peeks at photographer over somebody's else's shoulder.

Activities . . . extra-curricular “doings” usually limited to those who can spare the time from studies to take part the number of such activities in P. H. S. far exceeds that in most high schools.

National Honor Society

A hushed assembly . . . a spirit of awe and reverence pervades the entire group . . . on the stage, four speakers seated behind gilt-lettered satin tapestries . . . in the background, a row of girls dressed in white; boys in dark suits . . . suddenly, absolute silence reigns . . . a list of names is read . . . the freshmen and sophomores with averages of ninety or above . . . then the secretary of the society steps forward . . . she opens an envelope . . . this is the long-awaited list . . . excited faces are seen among the juniors and seniors . . . then shining countenances and disappointed ones . . . the happy line timidly approaches the stage . . . behind the vice president of the Society—a girl robed in white and bearing aloft a torch, the symbol of the National Honor Society . . . the line files to take the four oaths—first is an address on scholarship . . . one of the requirements of this society is to be among the upper third of the class in scholarship . . . the line of students moves . . . this time, character, another foundation stone of the National Honor Society, is discussed . . . next the students hear about service—service to school, to community, to home . . . and finally the new members learn about leadership . . . The president of the Parent Teachers Association presents the pins to the new members . . . copies of the Constitution are also given . . . the curtain falls . . . it is the end of a much-remembered assembly.

Later there is a meeting . . . the 1934 officers—Spencer Cunningham, president; Mary Malavazos, vice president; Kathryn Jones, secretary; Bill Clark, treasurer—preside . . . new officers are elected . . . Edward Livingston will be president; Freda Jane Burkhardt, vice president; Marjorie Lloyd secretary; and Lloyd Parker, treasurer. Later in the spring a picnic is held . . . merriment, a fitting contrast to the solemnity of the initiation.

The Portsmouth High School Band - Yea Band!

Under the capable direction of Mr. Schnabl, this musical organization not only excels as a concert band, but also as a marching and military group . . . During the football season, the band plays at all the home games and gives marching exhibitions on the field . . . whenever possible, it journeys along with the teams and plays at the out-of town games.

Last year the band won the state contest and went on to the national contest at Evanston, Illinois . . . Here, for the first time, it competed with organizations of national reputation and received a second division rating . . . For the last two times, the band has won the state championship.

Marching in the Hallowe'en parade . . . in the torch-light procession . . . playing Christmas Carols on the public square during the holiday . . . officiating at the laying of the corner-stone of the new city hall . . . these are only a few of the many public duties performed by the band . . . Each year, junior and senior members of the organization who have maintained a high standard in music are awarded letters for the honorary music society known as the B-Sharp Club.

The group organized by the mothers of the members of the band is known as the Band Mothers Club . . . The work that is undertaken by the mothers . . . sponsoring parties . . . giving banquets . . . and earning money, is greatly appreciated by the band.

"The Family Upstairs" - Fall Senior Play

We look into a typical American family's home: we see a little girl practicing on a tin-panny piano . . . a dapper young man making a telephone date with a girl . . . tired father coming home from a hard day's work . . . mother bossing and fretting . . . every-one complaining . . . wanting dinner . . . all mixed with the heat and noise of the street below. This scene adequately describes the action of "The FAMILY UPSTAIRS" presented by the Senior Class.

Joe Heller (Sam Vinson) Hard-working street car inspector trying to make his small salary meet the many bills of the house-hold and satisfy the demands of his quarrelsome wife . . . Louise (Janet Kugelman) the eldest child . . . an office worker . . . now twenty-one years of age, in whom no young men have become seriously interested . . . Mrs. Heller (Edith Russell) has one anxiety . . . the proper marriage of Louise . . . Mr. Heller is desirous of making his son Willie (Jimmy Tracy) go to work . . . Annabelle (Olive Lykins) . . . the kid sister of the family . . . her passion is not doing her piano lessons.

A summer evening . . . dinner . . . Louise announces that a young man is coming to call on her that evening. Charles Grant (Joe Graham), the young man in question, arrives. Embarrassed introductions . . . Louis and Charles alone. Before the evening is out, they are engaged. Mrs. Heller interferes and things do not move smoothly . . . Unhappy scene . . . broken engagement . . . Charles's mother appears . . . happy ending.

Sitting—Joseph Graham, Charles Grant; Jimmy Tracy, Willy Heller; Edith Russell, Mrs. Heller; Janet Kugelman, Louise Heller.

Standing—Billy Traber, Herbert Grant; Marianne Meyer, Mrs. Grant; Mary Malavazos, Miss Callihan; Sam Vinson, Mr. Heller; Olive Lykins, Anna Belle Heller; Miss Anna Blazer—coach.

“Digging Up The Dirt”

Mephitica Mephiticus; striped kitty . . . two young nitwits . . . disagreements . . . catastrophe . . . five pretty girls . . . complications.

This, in Walt Winchellian style, was the set up for the Junior Class Play, “Digging Up the Dirt.”

Prof. Halleck (Vernon Ishmael) . . . an archaeological professor . . . together with Kenneth Andrews (Robert Reno) and William Loomis (Edward Hornick) students of the professor . . . was vacationing in the Southwest in the hope of discovering Indian relics. However, Loomis and Andrews straightway discovered the mephitica mephiticus . . . and from then on the action became complicated. No clothing other than that in which the discovery took place, . . . forced to go about wrapped in Indian blankets . . . All well until the appearance of Aunt Miriam Eggles (Donna Daniels) . . . a friend of the professor . . . her niece and nephew . . . Betty and Allan Sherman (Anna Nourot and Arthur Duer) and their friends . . . The boys are mistaken for Indians; . . . ashamed to confess their true identity, . . . did not correct the mistake.

Prof. Halleck announced the discovery of Indian relics of great value . . . Jose Andre (Arthur Prince) . . . the Professor's Mexican cook . . . overheard this, and while the Professor was inspecting his finding, he “knocked the Professor out”, and escaped with the gold . . . Sheriff Carson (Earl Cooper) found the professor, and carried him home . . . Search was then started for Jose.

Romance was introduced . . . Betty discovered one of the Indian braves . . . Ken Andrews . . . was her sweetheart . . . whom she had thought to be in Europe. Prof. Halleck and Aunt Miriam make known the love they have had for one another for many years.

Jose is captured, the gold is returned to the professor, and everyone consents to marry everyone else. Was everybody happy? Well, we'll say!

The cast in the picture includes:

Seated—Earl Cooper, Ruth Evans, Mr. Leach, coach, Hester McFarland, Ann Nourot.

Standing—Arthur Prince, Freda Burkhardt, Donna Daniels, Vernon Ishmael, Arthur Duer, Bob Reno, Ed Hornick.

The friends from the Dude Ranch (not in the picture) were: Dorothy Davis, Charlotte Frostick, Ann Wolff, Carol Briggs, Charles Coriell, Harry Miller, William Watts, Charles Taylor.

"The Family Doctor"

Littered office . . . phone calls for doctor . . . comic love scenes between the cook and the doctor's "man" . . . real romance of two young things . . . sympathetic doctor's grief at loss of a patient . . . ruthless, scheming business man . . . exultant feeling of a woman cured of a horrible disease . . .

Life in a small town . . . big hospital built on hill . . . When old Dr. Kern refuses again and again to enter the new hospital, because he dislikes its business practices, Risser, builder of the hospital, sets out to ruin him . . . Soon all the rich patients have left Kern . . . In order to put his son through medical school, Kern had mortgaged his home . . . Risser holds these mortgages . . . the romance between Risser's niece and Kern's son is an added complication . . . Finally, Kern saves the life of Risser's only son after specialists have given him up . . . It is the proudest moment of the old doctor's life when he can tell Kern that Mr. Strong is going to build him a hospital of his own.

"In Old Louisiana" - Musical Comedy

Magnolia blossoms . . . softly shaded lights . . . hoop skirts . . . a quavering colored servant . . . his jolly wife, a cook in the family . . . villain in high top hat—cruel, scheming . . . rotund, old river pilot . . . garishly dressed pirate chorus . . . delicately shaded ribbon wound around maypole, a bloody duel . . . all this set in a southern atmosphere.

A romantic story . . . Plantation overseer, in love with Pilot Farley's adopted daughter, Rose . . . she, in love with Dick, ignores overseer . . . but refuses to marry Dick until she can discover her own identity.

In the meantime, the overseer forges papers proving that Rose is an octoroon slave belonging to him . . . he is accused of forgery by Dick . . . hence the duel . . . The villain, true to his character, shoots before the signal and wounds the hero slightly . . . However the old servant, Ned, takes care of the situation . . . The performance ends when Rose's French grandfather appears, and gives her to Dick.

Mixed Chorus

The Mixed Chorus is composed of about forty vocal students . . . boys and girls . . . from the four classes.

Early in the fall of 1933 a group selected from this organization . . . William Clark, James Warman, Harry Hamer, Bob Brown, Frank Moore, Norman Allen, Richard Vaughn, John Scott . . . together with students from the Junior and Senior Clubs sang in a chorus under the leadership of Prof. Leeder at the South-Eastern Ohio Teachers' Association at Jackson . . . This mixed chorus also sang several songs at the Christmas Vesper in the First Presbyterian Church given by the high school music department . . . Several students from the group were included in the cast of "In Old Louisiana" . . . Those who took part in the choruses, "Keep Him Guessing" and "Bargaining for a Heart" in "In Old Louisiana" were chosen from this Music Club.

This group has specialized in singing spiritual and religious songs, has studied theory and history of music as well as singing . . . A few of the songs studied this year are: "A Hunting We Will Go", "Billy Boy", "Where e'er You Walk", "Isabelita", "Hospodi Pomilui", "Pilgrim's Chorus ("Tannhauser" by Wagner)", "Soldiers' Chorus", ("Faust" by Gound).

Junior Glee Club

The Junior Glee Club is made up of girls from the freshman and sophomore classes . . . This group serves as a training class for the Senior Girls' Glee Club . . . Several periods are spent each week in studying theory and appreciation of music . . . During the past year the girls have studied the lives of famous music composers, essentials in writing music, and the families of the orchestra according to Walter Damrosch. They also have studied and sung folk songs of the different nations. The only personal appearance made this year by the group was at the Christmas Vesper Service where they sang a group of Christmas carols of the various nations.

Members of this club are:

First row—B. Baker, H. Bertram, M. Cassal, I. Cave, M. Elliot, O. Egerton, T. Farely, G. Fletcher.

Senior Honor Counsel

Developing in the character of freshman girls these elements which contribute to the growth of personality, especially charm in relationship with others—this is the aim of the Senior Honor Counsel.

Senior girls are selected for the counsel on the basis of personality and character . . . Scholarship is not a prime factor in the selection of members . . . A willingness to give service is necessary along with the desirable qualities of personality.

Each counselor is given a group of freshman girls . . . the number not to exceed ten . . . In regularly scheduled meetings, the senior counsel, under the guidance of Dean Felsted, discuss and interpret the new units . . . After further preparation, the older girls take up this work with the freshman girls . . . The meetings serve a double purpose . . . the senior girl learns how to get on with others, and she is aided in the development of initiative . . . The freshman girl has a chance to develop her own personality by meeting the other girls in her group.

Personality as a whole was considered in the first unit of work. Different types of girls were discussed and analyzed in an effort to discover how to be a good all-round person . . . The second subject was friendship . . . "What qualities do you need to possess to be a good friend? . . . How should we meet the failure of friends to live up to our ideals?"

Every girl likes to look her best at all times . . . so, personal appearance was a topic for earnest discussion. The girls attempted to solve such problems as proper makeup and care of the face . . . In manicure "clinics" the freshman girls were instructed in the proper way of caring for hands and nails . . . With many people, especially high school students, "what to say" and "when to say it" is a real problem . . . For this reason, the girls endeavored to improve their conversational abilities.

Portsmouth's 1934 debating team has the honor of having gone farther toward the state debate championship than any other Portsmouth team has ever gone . . . These debaters won the Southeastern Ohio District Championship by defeating Logan at Jackson . . . In the first round of the elimination of the district champions of Ohio, Portsmouth drew a bye . . . The Trojan team overcame their opponents, West High of Columbus, in the second round, ranking thereby among the four still left in the race . . . Troy overcame our team at Wilmington in the state-semi-finals.

A question of international importance was debated this year at the request of national authorities . . . The topic was "Resolved, that the United States should adopt the essential features of the British system of radio control and operation."

Judges for this year's debates were: Professors Cooper, Staats, Gamertsfelder, and McQuiston of Ohio University; Prof. Allen of Ohio State; Prof. Craig of Capitol University; Prof. Deim of Ohio Wesleyan; Prof. Gerrish and Prof. Butcher of Marietta College.

The high schools defeated by our local team were: Marietta, Athens, Nelsonville, Logan (affirmative), Hamden, and West High Columbus . . . Logan (negative) and Troy, which for several consecutive years has come in second in the state, were the two teams which defeated the Trojans.

Miss Gladys Hughes, a member of our faculty, has been coach of the debate teams for the last six years. During this period of time our high school debate team has won the district championship for five consecutive years.

This was the third year that Spencer Cunningham has debated . . . the second for Wayne DuPre . . . William Estep acted as timekeeper for this debate season.

Our affirmative team was composed of Anna Wolff, Edith Russell, Joseph Graham; later Spencer Cunningham and Wayne DuPre worked with Joseph Graham on the affirmative. The negative team consisted of Elizabeth Jordan, Wayne DuPre, Spencer Cunningham.

Those in the picture are:

First row—Wayne DuPre, Miss Gladys Hughes—coach, Joseph Graham.

Second row—Spencer Cunningham, Elizabeth Jordan, Edith Russell, Ann Wolff, and William Estep—time keeper.

The Gay Nineties - Honorary Senior English

"Gay Nineties" was organized by Miss Hazel Pfau to promote better scholarship among the seniors and to reward those students who have attained scholastic success in English . . . members of this society must maintain grades of ninety or above in Senior English . . . hence, the name "Gay Nineties".

This club is an honorary organization only . . . holds no regular meetings . . . takes part in no activities . . . Members were required to take the Every Pupil Tests in English . . . the rest of the English students did not have to take the tests.

Twelfth year English includes both grammar and literature . . . English and American authors are studied . . . The literature of England includes a history of the writings from the dawn of literature in England to such modern authors as Galsworthy . . . Mansfield . . . Shaw . . . nor were Shakespeare, Milton, and Johnson neglected . . . Only the modern American writers are studied . . . O. Henry . . . Garland . . . Lewis.

The seniors wrote original short stories . . . narrative compositions including such unique subjects as diaries of books and animals . . . thrilling news stories . . . beautiful scenes were depicted in the descriptive themes written by them.

The Friday before Christmas vacation was devoted to informal Christmas programs in all of Miss Pfau's classes . . . some students brought instruments and proved their ability as musicians . . . others recited or read poems . . . all sang both old and new songs . . . the members of Gay Nineties were in charge of the programs.

The Jolly Rogers - Pirates

Irregular meetings . . . indulgence in pirate customs . . . gayety of attire and equipment . . . ferocity of crew . . . all these seem to individualize this motely band from all other civilized groups which call themselves clubs . . . what do they do? . . . Once a year it is their custom to cease all hostilities long enough to present a bloody play to illustrate the ideal life of a pirate . . . the most recent murder-drama was known as "Blackbeard" . . . there were only a few killings in it, but of course, we are not quite out of the depression yet . . . Occasionally, when their desire to roam through foreign lands and seek more gold overpowers them, they beseech Mr. Leach, chief-pirate and what-not, to commandeer the expedition and away they go on another hike to the hill-country . . . No women are allowed . . . maybe they can't take it! . . . To the apparent satisfaction of all, the club has no set object and holds its meetings at random . . . after all, it is a he-man's club.

Girls' Athletic Club

Immense hairbows, gym shoes, and middies . . . these are the adornments of prospective members of G. A. C. during initiation week . . . a "bull session"—spanking, and a dose of castor oil usually concludes these elaborate ceremonies . . . each girl taking part in this initiation has earned at least one hundred points in high school athletics . . .

Pyramids of girls . . . the diving clown . . . a whirling wheel which turns out to be two G. A. C. members in stunts at the gym demonstration . . . Besides taking complete charge of this one feature—stunts—the G. A. C. sponsors the whole gym exhibition . . . profits from the ticket sale go to them, enabling the club to buy additional gymnasium equipment . . .

Talks on football and basketball given by the school coaches—Mr. Ness and Mr. Hopkins . . . girls report increased enjoyment of school games as a result of this instruction . . . then the climax of G. A. C. meetings—awarding of letters at the banquet . . . Madeline Ames receives cup for being the best sport in the school during her four years of athletics . . . a real honor . . . Varsity "P" letters given to the following girls: Lois Shumway, Edna Prayther, Madeline Ames, Mary Malavazos, Martha Shields, Charlotte Frostick, Mary Ellen Lloyd, and Bernice Heath . . . these letters represent one thousand points earned in athletics . . . any girl wearing a letter has been outstanding in almost all the sports . . . after the banquet a big dance closes all activities for the year.

Corridors of P. H. S. filled with little girls wearing big bread-wrapper hair ribbons . . . carrying pots, pans, spoons, and baskets . . . this is initiation week for Home Economics . . . very embarrassing to the candidates . . . amusing to the onlookers.

About two years after initiation, an honorary pin is given to these members . . . other requirements for pin: an average grade of at least 85% and service on at least two committees.

Tantalizing smell of fudge . . . creamy sea-foam displayed . . . candy sales held by club several times during year . . . money used to buy equipment for home economics department.

To promote closer relationships between home and school . . . to inform girls of the home economics world . . . to increase interest in home economics . . . to establish greater friendship among girls . . . these are the worthwhile purposes of the Home Economics Club . . . The sending of two girls to the State Convention is an additional activity.

On April sixth of this year Ruth Davidson and Lucille Phipps had the privilege of attending this meeting at Columbus.

Athletics . . . Were it torn from its deeply rooted place in the Trojan heart there would result a rapid decline of the true school spirit it is an essential foundation.

Boy's Athletics

The 1933 Trojan football team, another well-coached edition in our athletic field, made an outstanding showing in state-wide competition . . . defeated strong teams on successive Saturdays . . . gained tremendous power and attention . . . as a result, met Springfield High for the state championship Thanksgiving Day. Having defeated our traditional rivals . . . Ironton, Huntington, and Chillicothe . . . the team was backed strongly by the student body . . . disappointment was in evidence after losing the final game to this unusually strong outfit . . . however, this was easily forgotten in the realization that the season as a whole was a grand success . . . our full-back, Wedebrook, made the all-state honorary team.

Another far above average team was turned out in Basketball . . . more spotlight to our school . . . improved steadily from game to game . . . soon reached championship proportions . . . the Trojans first drew attention in the district tournament at Athens where they won handily from supposedly better teams . . . inspired by this they went to Columbus and in a series of hard-fought games, came out second, being beaten in the finals by Dayton . . . again one of our boys, Monk, was honored with a position on the all-state team.

The first call for track brought out a large group of boys . . . the team, composed of the best performers in each event, met several near-by schools in contests . . . defeated by Chillicothe . . . won over Wheelersburg . . . teams in golf and tennis also met neighboring schools for athletic honors.

To the right:

The Trojans take a huge piece out of the Columbus "Cowboys" line . . . Floyd Smittle and Jimmie Randall, assistant managers, put them away for the night . . . Little Walt Anderson, with varsity managers, Ken Beman and Earl Smith, watches and waits . . . Bill West brings 'em in . . . "Notes on Housecleaning" by Knight and Anderson . . . "Our Champs" give State and Illini fans a treat . . . "Toss-em-up-Hopkins" at his first love.

Coaching Staff

III COACH NESS

The standard that our football teams have set up in the past few years will attest the ability of Coaches Ralph Ness and Richard Hopkins. Each fall Ness seems to mould a winning team from green material. Although a heart breaking contest was lost to a strong Springfield squad, Ness's boys were easily classed one of the strongest teams in the entire state, in the season just passed. Excellent coaching showed continually in the Trojan's play.

RICHARD HOPKINS

III COACH HOPKINS

Our scrappy Trojans also made a more than creditable showing in a difficult basketball schedule under the capable direction of "Red" Hopkins. His style of play developed toward the end of the season and the team made a splendid showing, climaxing the successful athletic year with second place in the state basketball tournament. Though losing several letter-men through graduation, "Hoppy" will undoubtedly give us a winner next year with whatever material he may possess.

III COACH BRYANT

Four years ago Coach Bryant, a former athlete of Heidelberg College, came to Portsmouth High School. In a short time he was coaching the reserve football team, the intramural basketball team, and assisting with the track squad. Bryant is the type of coach that teaches the boys to play the game, not just to win it. His help in training the younger boys of the school for varsity squads has greatly added to the prestige of P. H. S. as a topnotcher in athletics.

HOWARD BRYANT

CHARLES LORENTZ

III COACH LORENTZ

The fourth member of the Trojan coaching staff is Lorentz. He assists with the reserve football team, lends a helping hand to the track team, and coaches the Sophomore basketball squad, the Tots. Lorentz works with the younger boys in basketball as does Bryant in football. Formerly coach Lorentz tutored the tennis and the golf teams. Lorentz always works with the boys with an ease that serves as a stimulant to their spirit.

1933 Football

Scenes to the right:

Got a rock in your shoe, Chappie? . . . It's your ball game, boy, get in there and scrap. . . . Cheerleaders, supervised by Mr. Donald Stewart, do a little exterior decorating. . . . Swarp to the right! Se—et! One! Two! Three! . . . Whoa, almost missed. . . . No, its not a contortionist, its just Wedy puttin' some poor pig's skin in the stratosphere. . . . Our "Preserves" have their moments, too.

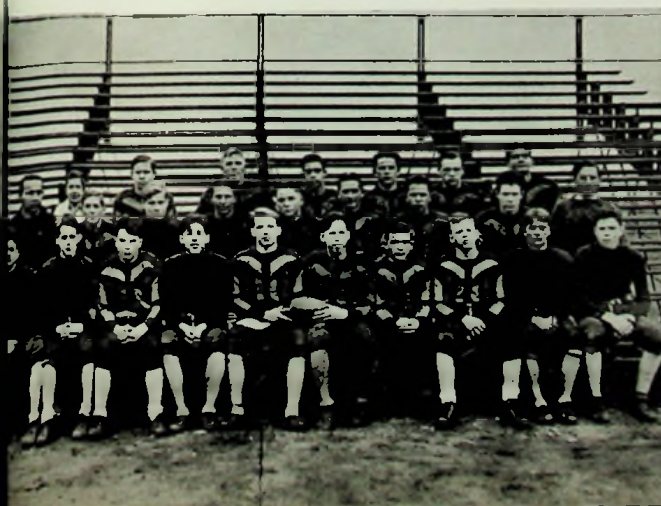

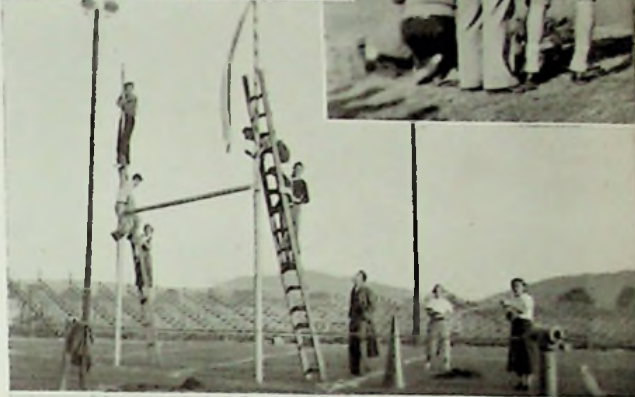

RESERVE FOOTBALL

Our 1933 Reserves gathered some invaluable football knowledge from Coaches Bryant and Lorentz. . . waded through a tough schedule at the same time. . . they started out by losing a tough one to Coal Grove after the final whistle had blown. . . came back strong to defeat both Blackfork and Chillicothe Reserves. . . then a streak of tough luck. . . dropped two to Manchester and Chesapeake. . . ended the season with a win over the Chillicothe Reserves and a tie with Coal Grove.

The squad was composed of ambitious Freshmen and Sophomores, fourteen of whom will be back as Reserves next season and eleven or twelve as members of the varsity squad. . . boys showing exceptional promise are White, Morris, and Copen in the backfield and Rardin, Daum, and Flowers on the line.

Reserve Football Team Below:

1933 Football Season

The team opened the season with a bang . . . Trojans—65 . . . Wayne, W. Va.—0 . . . Splendid Trojan co-operation, as the score indicates, was the word of the day.

Central Catholic was next. A powerful Trojan running attack scored a touchdown in each quarter for a total of 24 points, while an impregnable defense held the Catholics scoreless. (See next page).

||| R. STEWART

||| H. WEDEBROOK

“Pig” Gillen—one mighty tough watch-charm guard . . . “Red” Brandel—“Pig’s” equally capable running mate . . . “Wedy” Wedebrook—a great punter and All-State fullback . . . “Bob” Stewart—took care of right end . . . “Chet” Boren—a red-head and center combined . . . “Dub” Colburn—a small but mighty boy who barked signals.

||| C. BOREN

||| H. COLBURN

|||| H. HOPKINS

|||| C. TAYLOR

|||| R. CHAPMAN

Portsmouth then bit off a tough chunk of meat in the form of the Middletown Middies. Both teams played superb defensive football and threatened one another's goal only once, until the last minute of play in which the Trojans managed to push over the winning touchdown.

The Trojans went to Huntington where they held up the Pony Express to the tune of 20 to 6. Although all the boys showed up well.

|||| G. CARR

"Hoppy" Hopkins—a 200 pound right tackle full of fight . . . "Corn" Taylor—Hoppy's running mate, always rarin' to go . . . "Chappie" Chapman—our peerless quarterback and captain . . . George Carr—A wild-cat at left end . . . Carl Meadows—he's a good, dependable fullback . . . "Mack" MacKenzie—at center, he's a bear, both offense and defense.

|||| C. MEADOWS

|||| J. MCKENZIE

||| W. DAY

||| R. WENDELL

Wedebrook's spectacular punting and all 'round good playing made him the star of the game.

Our boys continued in their winning ways by defeating the Chillicothe Vikings in a hard fought game 12—0. The following week-end the Columbus West Cowboys came down and proved easy pickin's for us as we beat them 43—0.

Wendell Day—equally good at center and guard "Bob" Wendell—he did his part at left guard "Denny" Dearth—as scrappy a halfback as ever toted a pigskin "Cud" Turner—A left-half that lets no grass grow under his feet "Ronnie" Jackson—never stops fighting till the whistle blows Ora Tussey—he's at his best in the thick of it.

||| R. JACKSON

||| O. TUSSEY

|||| R. WELLMAN

|||| J. CATTELL

The highly touted Cleveland Glenville team put up a stubborn fight but were sent back home on the short end of a 26—7 score.

A decisive 20—0 victory over our oldest and bitterest foes, the Ironton Tigers, won a warm spot for the team in the hearts of all true Trojan supporters.

The Sciotoville Tartans received a 40—0 Trojan trimming.

and the Trojans were barely able to nose out a tough Alumni team 8—0.

On Turkey Day the Springfield Wildcats breezed into town with 28 straight victories to their credit. That evening they breezed out again with 29 to their credit. These Wildcats were just a big, husky bunch of boys who refused to be defeated and, consequently, beat the Trojans 20—0.

||| H. MONK

||| F. SUTER

"Ken" Redding—a hard tackler who stands his ground . . . "Ozzie" Osborne—he's a little boy of 235 pounds who makes a mean tackle . . . Frank Suter—a steady end who will be back next fall. Harold Monk—he snags passes and cracks interference . . . "Wes" Hart—an up and coming snapper-back . . . Harry Bourne—a halfback who can hold his own.

|||| H. MONK

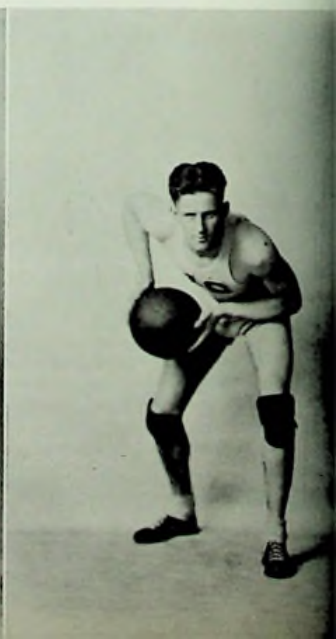

|||| H. WEDEBROOK

The old Portsmouth custom of playing New Boston was dispensed with this season . . . The opening game was a grueling battle with Central Catholic . . . Central boys certainly put forth real basketball, but when the final gun sounded—the score was P. H. S. 14—C. H. S. 7 . . . Next two victims . . . Columbus Central and Norwood . . . Both teams barely defeated by the Trojans . . . Trojans took one on the chin in next start . . . Hamilton—29 . . . Trojans—22 . . . Fun's fun and all that—but too much is plenty . . . Next six games were wins . . . Lima, Parkersburg, Ironton, Huntington, and Pomeroy were all crushed by the formidable opposition of the Trojans . . . On the road Marietta won a heartbreaker . . . 27 to 21 . . . (See next page).

"Monkie" . . . all-state forward . . . amassed 79 points in season . . . Made a fine showing . . . will be back next year . . . more power to you . . . "Wedy", captain and center this year . . . won a berth on Southeastern District team and all-state second squad . . . "Wedy" leaves us this year, leaving a big hole to fill . . . Bender proved a very steady player . . . hit the bucket enough to total 90 points during season . . . chosen All-Southeastern guard . . . Bender is a graduate this year . . . "Ronnie" has one-half of next season yet to play . . . a genius at breaking up opposing plays . . . usually got that "so-badly-needed" field goal . . . a good friend and a clean sport.

For the second time the Trojans defeated the Huntingtonians—25 to 12 . . . Then hung up one sweet victory . . . P. H. S.—28—Middletown—17 . . . The Vikings from Paint Creek journeyed down to the floodwall city . . . result—a big hole in our wall . . . tune of 15 for Chillicothe—14 for P. H. S. . . . True to football precedent Springfield defeated Portsmouth in a scrappy skirmish . . . The Trojans came right back and defeated Columbus East . . . a return engagement at Ironton was won by a big margin . . . Boys wound up their schedule by scoring 21 points against Chillicothe's 5 points . . . all made by free throws . . . The boys then won 6 straight games of tournament competition . . . defeated in the finals by Dayton Roosevelt . . . viewed in Columbus Coliseum by thousands of Portsmouth fans . . . special train . . . big time.

"Chet" was a consistent guard . . . sometimes handicapped by small stature . . . always "stuck to his man" . . . we all hate to see Boren leave this year . . . "Double-dribble" Hotz was our flash man . . . on the floor he's raring to go . . . Hotz is a Junior . . . should make one fine basketball man . . . George Carr is a steady "keep at it" player . . . a first string substitute . . . usually did what was expected of him . . . played his last game for P. H. S. this past season . . . Leo played with the Reserves . . . was also a first string varsity sub . . . often broke into two games in one night . . . "Otway" is a Sophomore . . . will put out a lot of basketball in those two years.

Portsmouth Cheerleaders

When thinking of school spirit and pep, the cheerleaders come first to our mind Under a new sponsor, Mr. Stewart, they displayed more vim than ever Those receiving letters are: Ed Hornick, Johnny Millar, Pete Drummond, Donna Daniels, Mary Snedaker, Jeanne Wilson, Frank Sheridan, Freda Jane Burkhardt, and Alberta Wittenberg . . . and don't forget our faculty cheerleader, Mr. Monrad . . . whose "we are we" enlivened all the basketball games.

In action to the right:

Push 'em up, Tony Hornick, Millar, Drummond, in the rear; Daniels, Snedaker, Wilson and Wittenberg in front Count them out—one, two, three! Ssssst! Then hobble back! It's Pete doing the famous diving act way over Johnny and Ed Below something to yell for the latest play, as advertised and the seniors of 1937, a la girls gym demonstration.

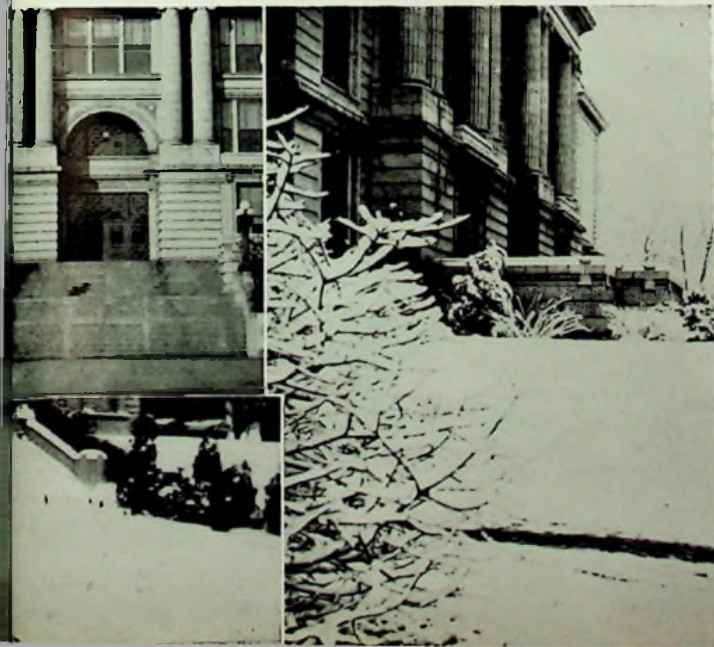

Features a little tartar-sauce for the Trojan Every feast needs condiments . . . the year book is no exception.

It is pictures like these that remind us all that the building in which we have practically lived for quite a few years has many moods, humors and phases They recall an enjoyable school life long to be remembered to almost every senior Any season . . . any weather has found us entering and leaving those doors . . . glancing through those windows it is hard to think of becoming a mere onlooker.

Denny's Diary

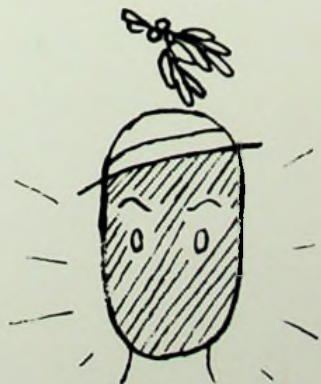

i am denny the dinosaur
perhaps you wonder why i have taken my typewriter upon my knee in this unprec-

this is the nine thousandth bicentennial of my great battle with tessie the tricedatops on the spot where phs now stands and i am anxious to commemorate it as it was a great moral victory for me? also i have always longed to seek poetic expression and am glad to give my art for phs which has been my home for these many years

so here i am to give you the inside dope on topics of mutual interest and is denny
the dinosaur on the inside!
on sept 11 school began and it seemed mighty good to see the innocent frosh get tangled up in the halls again. some of the boys had grown moustaches of a really superior sort ah but that is one of the sad details of my life a dinosaur cannot grow a moustache. class elections were contested with fervor tickets platforms and signs by the candidates may

Per mr h waldron and mr don stewart are the new teachers in the school this year? on the 20 second thesecond the trojans smeared the wayne wonders 65-0 and i shrieked until i thot id split an infinitive and had a hot dog between halves. during september most of the clubs met and appointed committees made plans for future meetings etseterah then on the 20 ninth we walloped the central catholic titans 24-0 and before a cheer leader could say eeeaw it was oct 1.
october is a nice month perhaps because it has an r in it and you can eat oysters in months with r in them but still i don't like oysters and i do like october? to get down to gneiss which and dinosaur will tell you is bedrock this month we had a fire drill which always thrills everyone especially when there is a test in progress. not to change the subject but the trojans certainly are bearing the torch for old phs they have bowed the heads of the Central Titans Chillicothe Huntington and Middletown oh but that was a game 0-0 the last minute of play and then we made a touchdown and i was so excited i forgot and swallowed my chewing gum 6-0 what a game~~†~~%!

the new ReVelers were chosen during the month long may they smear the grease-paint for phs and all the clubs had nitiations which are just too much fun but oh i have to stop for here it is november! and did november manage to keep us busy answer it did? the juniors gave a dance alack-a-day if only dinosaurs could go to dances & everybody pronounced it a hit and then the band sponsored air races which shows how progressive they are. the annual convention of the journalism association met at columbus of course i went for everyone knows my vers libre speaking of the Echo and everybody is, as one dinosaur to another critic they have turned out good papers. the debate team was chosen this month and it looks good a new radio club was formed. John s. Moore spoke in assembly on hitler who is a guy in germany Mr. hard talked to the civics classes and you needn't think ive forgotten football because heres the dope; we nailed Cleveland Glenville. Columbus West. Ironton. Sciotoville East. the alumni and then on turkey day Springfield cleaned the field with us time:20-0 but it was a great season good work boys*(“!

december comes under the sign of capricornus the goat and after all these years at PHs ill say the wise guy prepares for that semester grade card in december or else& do you get my meaning? the seniors gave their play*The Family Upstairs*on the eighth well as the big banker said to give credit where credit is due the coaches the cast et al are to be praised for this mellerdrama. the 12th a bigger and better basketball season opened with the defeat of central Catholic and i guess our boys know their strength for they certainly used it on columbus Central and Norwood— ah that was a game my face grew crimson with pent-up emotion as we won 27-26 in overtime play. in assembly this month all the varsity and reserve football boys received their letters and band members were given state and national medals i wonder if theyll wear them probably theyll be afraid of being took for generals or something on dec. 15 the seniors gave Xmas assembly in the form of a country school and those great big upperclassmen certainly had a lot of fun reverting to childhood santa was there and i was as glad to see him as anyone even if i am old enough to know well you know what. beautiful gifts were given to miss Colley, miss Blazer and mr. Freeland the class sponsors and thus came vacations ushered in by the sophomore hoppe a

when they won from Marietta and Athens and then lost to Logan. the question was draw a deep breath resolved that the united states should adopt the essential features of the british system of radio control personally i preserve an open mind. the auditorium quivered with moonlight and roses when the revelers gave their one act play (not quite such a goose) and shook with hell and high water when the jolly rogers resuscitated "blackbeard" our trojan basketeers buff aloed parkersburg iron ton and huntington twice then oh the irony of life chilli cothe and springfield played taps over us. the seniors took time out to gnash their teeth when the psychological tests were passed around now they know how much they know the pta gave a tea dance which was a spirited affair despite the lack of both tea and job of talking put them in line for the state tournament. the trojans noble lads played elegant basketball to win from Pomeroy Columbus East Iron ton and lose to Marietta. I am also truly gala affair. i was left alone then but it didnt have a chance to get lonesome for c. w. a. workers were repairing the building and of all things i got a Xmas card from tessie the triceratops you remember tessie with whom i once had an epic battle well i think she wants to make up? and so passed dec. with the trojans on a barnstorming trip ruining Lima Centrals good disposition and being smacked by Hamilton and happy New Year" vacations fitful fever over and everybody back to the pursuit of higher learning with untarnished new years resolutions? 2 doz orchids to last years trojan it won all— ohio honors by the way this jan the staff put out a handbook chuck full of vital information about phs i bought one even if i have been around here long enough to tell the young squirts something by crackie* & % the debate teams fired the opening salvos of oratory crumpets. oh i almost forgot 1934 wasnt the only litle arrival that came with jan for lo and behold another cargo of intell ectual argonauts in search of the golden fleece i. e. sheepskin i. e. diploma beached high and dry in phs which is a poetical way of saying the semester ended a lot of freshmen joined ye merry throng long live ye new semester (% † february in my estimation was just a little too early for spring and everybody was tired of winter but gentlemen hush it was a month to be remembered. the debate teams led off with no hits no runs no errors i once saw a big league game they won from Hamden from Logan and from Nelsonville. which neat proud of the reserves the tots and the babes for they have followed thro all season with difficult schedules. on the 20fourth the juniors gave their annual play "Digging up the Dirt" a production whose setting was out where the hand clasps a little firmer in assembly the D.of A. presented a flag to the school judge Vernon Smith made the presentation p. s. well i almost forgot to mention that february is the month of valentines and i havent received such a shock since the ice age what do you suppose tessie sent me a valentine?%)% march came in like a lamb and then forgot itself and went out like one too which is nice for those who dont like lions as i live and gasp look what our basketball team did this month they completed their regular schedule by striking Chillicothe pink the new drum major was chosen at that game and then on the seventh day they marched off to Athens and won the southeastern district championship by defeating Greenfield Athens Marietta and Pomeroy oh i shall never forget it if i live to be a hundred in the shade. then the next week our conquering heroes sallied forth to columbus for the state tournament and lo they won from Columbus North and Tiffin Columbian but in the finals the trojans succumbed to Dayton Roosevelt 46-30. theyve played great basketball this season and they have been just good oldfashioned sports. good boys. our debaters also rose to state prominence when they won from Columbus West to enter the semi-finals. and right then i remembered that old ditty we sang when i was a dinasette ‡when greek meets greek then comes a tug of war‡ for when the trojans met the forensic sons of Troy Ohio there was indeed a mighty argument but we proved short of breath Troy won. dramatics came into its own in this month of mars when for the first time in 5 yrs Shakespearian plays were given under the sponsorship of the juniors an ingenious class if ere i saw one. The hendrickson & bruce co presented Julius Caesar & Hamlet my only regret is that shakespeare did not write free verse so i denny the dynamic dinosaur might have been compared to him. then too that supermusical In Old Louisiana was given a lovely operetta my deep baritone voice would have got me a part but i found upon investigation i could not navigate the stage it being not so spaciouly apportioned as i. several important assemblies were held: Thomas Craig told us of his adventures with wild animals in india mr. Craig never knew tessie the national honor society assembly was held. and activity letters were presented. this month also saw a novelty which i hope will be repeated the freshmen gave a dance. the sophs added their quota to the entertainment with a skating party. & and so came april the month on which we depend for our flours in may and it was a month of high revelry. the girls gave their gym demonstration and to use an uncouth expression it packed em in. the family doctor how well we remember his sulphur and molasses was eulogized in the senior play of the same name given on the 20sixth and twenty7th, well run thy course oh seniors. in assembly civitan awards were given and also prizes for the current events test given by the kiwanis club. on april 20 the girls athletic club gave their banquet dance speaking of girls tessie the tremulous triceratops and i are corresponding regularly weve even forgotten what we fought about) on saturday april 28 was given the much publicized junior-senior and on the same day there was a track meet at Chillicothe..

may is the seniors month a very short month and doubly short to them. ill miss them however well carry on. on may two the sophomores gave their play She Wouldn't Stay Put which applies aptly to the sophomores for theyll be shorenuff juniors next year. on the fifth our scholarship team went to athens in a body theirs but to do or die and of course they did it. on the fourth our seniors gave what they called the spring sport skip two days later Rev. Dickhaut preached the Baccalaureate sermon for them. may eighth they had their big picnic and doubtless enjoyed even the ants in the potato salad. Doctor Donald Tippet delivered the commencement address may 10 and then i saw over 250 more seniors enter the great big world. now let me tell you something seniors some folks may think your kinda young and inexperienced but im about two hundred thousand years older than them and i still think the worlds your oyster and youll open it so there. and if you ever come back to phs drop around and see old denny hes for you i feel all sort of choky inside. on the seventeenth the steamer washington steamed into port for the annual boat ride and on the same day the band entered the state contest at columbus. then came may 18th the date of the alumni banquet and the last day of school i guess im a sentimental old fool anyway goodbye and good luck everybody")&C/

WE'RE TALKING ABOUT YOU!

They may have said other things; they may have done other things, but here's what we'll remember them for:

- Spencer Cunningham: I just concentrate
- Mr. Freeland: Uh—er—yes, Columbus discovered America in 1492
- Bill Clark: Me look like Clark Gable? His ears stick out
- Leona Atlas: I know I flunked that test
- Christine Russell: My dear, it's just too divine
- Mr. Dale: Pass to your second period classes
- Bob Seiling: Yeah, this car and six dollars and we saw the World Fair
- Howdy Wedebrook: I take pleasure in presenting these cups
- Elizabeth Miller: Oh, Freddy, you're a scream
- Jimmy Tracy: My stories have a touch of O. Henry
- Mr. Leach: "My children, tomorrow we will have rat meat
- Almost anyone: But when they tacked the babies to the wall and started throwing knives at them—well, laugh, I thought I'd die
- Bill Estep: It's not sprinkling, it's drizzling. Look in any standard dictionary.
- Laura Ruth Ward: Then there was the traveling salesman
- John Purslow: Who're you calling Heaven-eyes? I'll pop you one
- Charles Ridenour: The people are for me
- Joe Graham: Resolved, that the United States should adopt the British form of radio control
- Joan Wiltsee: It must be fate
