CLASS OF 1941

THE ADORATION OF THE MAGI

"We have seen His star in the east and are come to adore Him."

DEDICATION

For twelve years, we, the class of 1941, have received our education under the patronage of the Blessed Virgin Mary. She has been our constant guide and source of inspiration. Therefore, it is indeed fitting that we dedicate this, our Annual, to our Heavenly Mother. The blue and white of its color scheme are her colors. The designs and art work are in her honor. All throughout these pages we have tried to demonstrate our love and devotion to her. If our attempts have been successful, even to the least degree, we shall consider our efforts well rewarded.

FOREWORD

Within a few days, the class of '41 will leave Saint Mary's School. New experiences and new interests await us after graduation, but, nevertheless, we are loathe to forget those which have occupied our school days. We cannot hope to relive or repossess those events of the past, but we can, at least remember them.

However, more important than these memories of our days spent in school are the lessons we have learned there. The elements of an all-around Catholic Education have been instilled in our minds and souls. It is our fervent wish that these seeds of knowledge flourish and bear fruit.

In addition, during these years a bond of devotion has sprung up between us and our Heavenly Mother, Mary. May she continue to be our guide during the years to come. Under her protection, may we always be a credit to her and to the school, our Alma Mater, which bears her name.

Reverend T. A. Goebel

SAINT MARY OF THE ANNUNCIATION

The Blessed Virgin is the general theme of the Annual this year. The influence of Mary on a young student may be very great. I was not ten years old when I read my first book about the Blessed Virgin. It was a small book on "The Origin of Lourdes" written by Henry Lasserre, as an act of gratitude for the recovery of his sight. The history of Lourdes made a deep and lasting impression. After that, devotion to the Blessed Virgin was easy and natural.

At Notre Dame University, devotion to Mary is promoted among the students as a helpful means to maintain good discipline. A large Grotto of Lourdes is reproduced beyond the college church. Crowning the high dome of the Administration Building is a statue of Mary, the Mother of Grace, covered with gold leaf and shining down upon the whole campus. Student life is spent there in a religious atmosphere.

It so happens here, that our church has the title of Saint Mary of the Annunciation. Our church is filled with many references to the life of our Lady. Three grand paintings emphasize her Immaculate Conception, Annunciation and Assumption. The Sacred Heart of Mary is the picture in her altar. Three statues represent her as Our Lady of Lourdes, Standing Beneath the Cross and Receiving the Body of Jesus. The art glass windows depict her Espousals to Joseph, the Holy Family, the five Joyful Mysteries of the Rosary, her Coronation in Heaven, and the giving of the scapular to Simon Stock. The "Ave Maria" and the Rose of Sharon, emblems of Mary, are at the tops of several windows. But the most impressive decorations in our church are the ten large angel figures, which fill the panels of the ceiling. Each angel holds a ribbon on which is a verse of the Canticle, "Magnificat". Truly, all generations are calling her blessed.

Devotion to Mary will preserve one's faith. No one who has a right understanding of Mary's place in the economy of our redemption will ever fall into heresy. Devotion to Mary is an inspiration to high scholarship; it is a means for the preservation of morals. It promotes the love of God and the regular practice of religion.

Mary is the Star of the Sea. She will guide one safely across the ocean of life to the harbor of eternity.

DIARY 1940-1941

September 6 Well, three months have passed so quickly, and off I went to school this morning to register. This should be known as "Reunion Day," for I have not seen some of the "kids" all summer.

September 9 Dear Diary, this is the beginning of the end of high school for me - my last year to trudge up and down the great flight of stairs, sometimes wearily, often cheerfully, and occasionally fearfully.

September 13 Friday! End of the first week of school. Only 35 more! Today the Navy Recruiting officer showed some films in the gym about the routine life of a sailor. Oh! to be a sailor instead of just a scholar.

We Seniors held a special meeting in the assembly this afternoon to elect class officers. Those chosen were Eileen Crowe, president; Evelyn Jeanguenat, vice-president; Joan Dadosky, secretary, and Edgar Gibbins, treasurer. Heard from the "twins" that the Juniors also voted for class officers. Think they said that their new leaders are Martin Glynn, William Kinskey, Albert Varhola and Rita Briggs. Poor Rita!

September 15 Dear Diary, we cannot win all the time. It was a disaster tonight for the home team. Central was defeated by Dayton Chaminade 19-6. While I don't think the best team won, for we outplayed the Dayton boys, still it's the score that counts.

September 16 Got our noses to the grindstone and our backs against the wall by now. The Sophomores elected their officers: David Spangler, Mary Frances Vetter, James Adams and Felice Pugh. The Freshmen chose Rosemary Ebmeier, Rodney Kinskey, Dorothy Kern and James Sommer for their officers today.

The Latin students formed the "Latina Societas" today, and at their first meeting elected Felice Pugh, George Bodner and Betty Meisel as officers. Wonder if Bode will be reelected an officer each year he takes Latin II.

September 17 The graduates of '40 should pat themselves on the back, for the Marian they published last year received all-Catholic honors. Here's hoping we do the same! Announcement of their honors also brought out news of our own staff. Hard work ahead!

September 19 That noise in the gym after school this evening was only the school orchestra holding its first rehearsal. Thought it was a riot!

September 20 I will have to tune up my wind pipes now as I have joined the Girls' Choir. Practice will be held in the Freshman Room on Wednesday and Thursday after school.

September 22 Today was the day! Went to Cincinnati today to witness the game between Cincinnati Elder and Central Titans. Had a grand time even though we were defeated 27-6.

September 23 The annual Junior-Senior wiener roast was held today at Camp Oyo. But it rained! By bucketsful and tubsful! So we had to roast our wieners inside of the main lodge.

The K. E. C. Club held its first meeting tonight, and it was decided to meet every Monday evening after school. So it will be knit one, purl two, indefinitely from now on.

September 27 The first meeting of the senior club, The Troubadours of Il Poverello, was held in the South Class Room today. Their practice of having "rotating officers" necessitates an election each month.

September 27 Got out of English class today for the first meeting of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade. Dot Ferrell and Frances Kopp gave up their positions as president and secretary to Lorraine Turner and Jean Russell. Robert Burk and George Vetter are the other two officers chosen.

September 29 Central defeated Columbus Holy Family today. The final score was 20-0. Oh, Boy! Guess we're on the right track now.

October 3 Tonight a big (and I mean big) but inexperienced Coalton team came to town to meet the Titans, only to leave, loser by the score of 32 to 0.

October 5 Dear Diary, today the members of the Vigilantes Mariae were announced. Imagine my surprise when my name was among the honor students for the first semester. 90 in department! Glory! feel my wings.

October 8 Today I joined Saint Mary's Girl Scout Troop - Senior Scouts, Troop Number 35. We are starting work immediately to pass our second class requirements.

October 10 Central topped Glenwood tonight, 12 to 6. I guess the Tigers were a little too over-confident.

Students of French I and II, (that includes me), are organizing a club. We will meet on Fridays in the Freshman Room during the French I class period.

October 6-12 Fire Prevention Week! And daily fire drills! Have I said enough, or must I add that every time that loud clang was heard, all was dropped to make a wild scramble for the fire escapes. Can't even day dream without interruption any more!

October 11 Went to the "Freshman Mixer", tonight - a dance which took the place of the usual initiation by the Sophomores. Had a good time without the usual stunts - and the Freshman seemed to like it better too.

October 17 Hot dogs and pop were served to the Latin Club members at a picnic at Balmert's camp this afternoon after school. Wish I had been there.

October 27 18-0 was the final score when the gun ended the game at Springfield this afternoon; Central was again the loser.

October 30 Oh, what a night! Went to the Girl Scout's Hallowe'en Party and am still shaking in my boots. What's that noise??:??:

November 1 Central's football squad began the month by losing another game. Playing the worst game of the year, the Titans were defeated by Sciotoville 14-7.

November 5 Well, I guess the third term question is settled. Today the Seniors conducted a mock election in the North Classroom, and the voters (students of the high school and the seventh and eighth grades) gave the Democrats a majority.

October 17 Looked like rain, but that didn't stop the outdoor enrollment of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade. The usual songs and exercises took place. Benediction of the most Blessed Sacrament closed the impressive ceremonies.

October 20 Went to West Virginia to see a thriller between Central and Charleston Sacred Heart. Central lost 6-2, but I had a grand trip.

October 23 Memories of my freshman year were aroused when I heard today that the Junior Scientists had reorganized - those were The Days!

October 24 Click! Click! Down they went, one by one, to have their pictures taken. It won't be long now, and the returns will be in circulation.

November 7 The high school chose their Homecoming Queen this afternoon. The winner was JoAnne Vetter, and Cecilia Virgin and Rosalie Duplain were her attendants. Was I green with envy!!

November 8 To observe Catholic and National Education Week, several members of the senior class presented a panel discussion on National Defense, followed by an open forum.

November 9 Today marked the end of the observance of Catholic Book Week. The members of all the English classes took an active part by making posters and studying Catholic literature.

A discussion on Education and National Defense

November 9 Held a real peppy pep meeting today in preparation for the homecoming game with Lima. And did those megaphones ever help to raise the roof! Hope everyone turns out to swell the crowd Sunday.

November 10 The Homecoming Game today was a success. Central won 30 to 0. Hooray for our side! Eats were served in Saint Mary's Cafeteria at a "get-together" after the game.

Cafeteria

November 11 Marked observance of Armistice Day and at eleven o'clock we all stood at attention and said a prayer for our departed soldiers. Before dismissal at three-fifteen the cheerleaders led a few rousing cheers for the grand game the Titans gave us Sunday.

November 15 Gave a report in the French Club meeting this morning. Also tried my voice at a few songs. Fortunately, the meetings are informal.

November 17 What's wrong with our team? Nothing! Nothing! Nothing! They beat Ironton Saint Joe 13 to 0. Goodbye to football-- last game for our seniors: Gibbins, Bocook, Louie Vetter and Scherer.

November 20 Hurried home after school to hear the Red Cross Radio Program. I was particularly interested because it was given by a group of our Seniors.

Although we were unable to attend the Convention of the Journalism Association of Ohio Schools in Cleveland this year, copies of our first and last annuals were sent for exhibition.

November 21 Political differences are forgotten. Free day for Thanksgiving.

November 22 Still vacation. Glad Roosevelt kept Thanksgiving Day to Thursday.

November 25 The Christmas Health Seal sale opened. "I hereby pledge myself to do my part. . ."

November 26 We Seniors are going to have to work hard to beat the performance that the Juniors gave in their class play this evening, for the "Boarding School" was a great success. Oh, if only I were an heiress!

November 27 The Girl Scouts have resolved to help make Christmas, 1940, happier for others by dressing dolls for the firemen's toy fund.

December 8 Feast of the Immaculate Conception.

December 10 This morning five senior girls and nine sophomore boys organized a C. S. M. C. discussion club. During their meetings they will study mission problems.

December 11 Not to be outdone by the boys, the sophomore girls have also organized a Round Table discussion club.

December 11 A turkey dinner, complete with the trimming, was enjoyed by the football players tonight at a banquet in their honor. Trophies were given to Edgar Gibbins as co-captain of the team and to Mark Fleming for his good sportsmanship both on and off the field.

December 12 Another Round Table! (and not a round table in the school) This time it's thirteen of the junior girls.

A very impressive ceremony took place today. Christ the King was enthroned in both schools. The purpose of the enthronement is to make Christ the King the center of school life and to instill within the hearts of all the students a more fervent love for Him. The Troubadours had charge of the ceremony.

December 13 Got out of another class today for the December meeting of the Senior Mission Unit. A skit, "Closed Doors of Bethlehem", presented by Frances Kopp and Ruth Emmett, was the highlight of the meeting. All the classes are helping the poor this Christmas by collecting money or clothing to send to the needy.

December 15 Heard Patricia Ferrell this afternoon broadcasting from Chicago on the "Your Dream Come True" program. Some people have all the luck--I've been wishing for a piano for ages, and here she gets one just by saying so.

December 16 Old man winter must be here. Christmas decorations made the high school building bright and cheery. The assembly rang with carols. And besides, Central's first basketball game, with Chillicothe, was a success, 49-13. Looks like we'll have a good team.

Having passed second-class requirements with the Girl Scouts, I received my merit badges at a candle light investiture ceremony tonight.

To make my joy complete, vacation started today - two whole weeks!

December 27 The Latin Club held its annual Christmas Frolic this evening. One of the main events was the awarding of prizes to Mary Jane Adams, Joan Dadovsky and Patricia Ferrell as winners of a Latin Essay Contest. The Latin Club must rate - even got a write-up in the "Times".

December 31 Plan to sit up and see in the new year. Hope I have as much fun in '41 as I've had in '40.

January 6 Back to school again, and this time to prepare for semester tests. Who brought that up?

January 8 The Titans didn't do bad in Huntington this evening. Came home with a 43-23 victory over St. Joseph.

January 15 Central put up a good fight with Wheelersburg but lost its first game 37-33.

January 17 Catholic Students' Mission Meeting held in Assembly this afternoon. Discussions were given by the Sophomore Round Tablers. A quiz contest, boys versus girls, was conducted among the round tablers. George Bodner and Dorothy Meisel won. Senior girls were time-keepers and judges.

January 18 The Titans do get around! Traveled to Indiana to play St. Joseph Prep School and returned with a victory. The boys visited Chicago and South Bend and had a fine time.

January 20 Frances Kopp was chairman of an Inauguration Day Program in the assembly this morning. Mr. A. J. Quinkert, local forest ranger, was present and gave a short talk. Mr. F. D. Roosevelt also present - via radio.

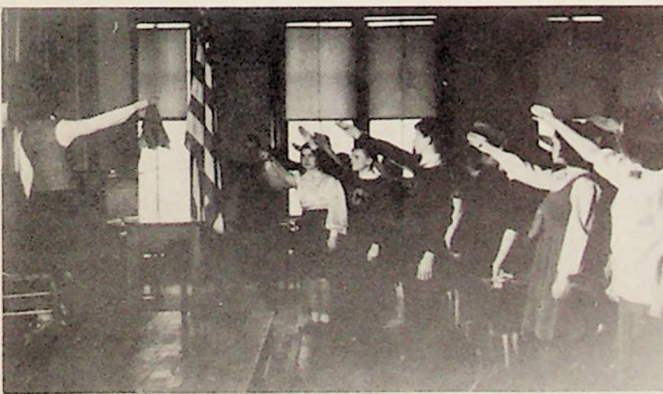

January 22 Semester tests began today. No time to write more - have to get back to my studies. I even stayed home from a basketball game and did not see Central beat Minford again, 63-27.

January 23 More tests! There ought to be a union!

January 24 Still more tests! But at last they are over, and to celebrate, the Troubadours of Il Poverello sponsored a Post-Exam dance. The gym had the prettiest decorations it's had in a long time.

January 25 Central added another victory to the list by defeating Sciotoville, 18-16.

January 26 Sunday: To start the new semester out "right" the high school went to Communion in a body. 100% attendance, too!

January 29 The Titans are in the "groove"! Central wins again over Ashland Holy Family by a 39 to 32 score.

January 31 Those strange noises coming from the Freshman Room this morning were some French songs that the French I and II students were singing during their French Club meeting.

February 1 Central Titans met defeat at Springfield. But that's only the second defeat and the last (I hope). The final score was 32 to 22.

February 3 Second Semester Vigilantes were announced and presented with their membership pins.

You'd better look out, you who do not wish candid shots of yourself. Their hobby is reaching the "dangerous stage".

February 5 The Junior Scientists' interest in photography is increasing.

Titans made up for their defeat of February 1, by topping Ironton St. Joe Flyers with a score of 42 to 12.

February 6 Started a ten-week course in First Aid tonight. Miss Kline, our Red Cross teacher, said that anyone who gets sick easily should not come. Oh, me!

February 8 Rita Briggs brought some of her paintings to school for exhibit. Her pastels of landscapes and portraits surely demonstrate her ability as an artist.

February 11 Dismissed from school at 2:45 to enable the students to hear the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra at P. H. S. The music was beautiful and I enjoyed it very much.

February 13 Today marked the end of Boy Scout Week. During this week the scouts observed their thirty-first anniversary. Saint Mary's troop celebrated by receiving communion in a body on Sunday, and by preparing a window display of their work done in wood carving.

February 14 Monthly meeting of C. S. M. C. A few Freshmen gave a short skit in rhyme.

February 19 The Titans are in a winning streak! Came out victorious over the New Boston Tigers.

February 20 The library has been unusually busy the last several days. It's the pamphlet exhibit. Never knew there were so many Catholic magazines, newspapers and pamphlets available.

February 20 What was that smell drifting up from the Chemistry class today? They called it "hydrogen sulfide" but we called it "disagreeable".

Marian Rally in Assembly! Purpose was to start the sale of the Annual! Here's where I pester my relatives.

February 22 Saturday! Went to the radio station, W. P. A. Y., this morning to witness the Spelling Contest between 6 Juniors and 6 Seniors. Marjorie Pugh, George Vetter and Janet Russell brought home victory for the Juniors.

February 26 Titans defeat Alumni Quintet 41-17.

February 28 Homer Chailleux made his annual visit to Portsmouth. He addressed our assembly on good citizenship and the part the American Legion plays therein.

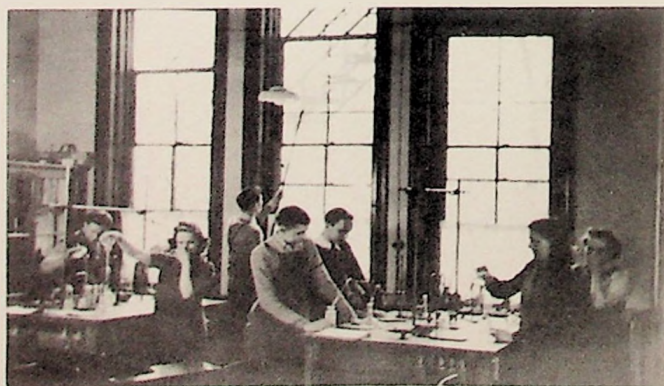

February 28 We had an open forum on topics of the day conducted by Mr. William Burke and Mr. Charles Vandervort.

Central conquers Huntington St. Joseph again, this time by a 51 to 30 score.

March 1 Closing date for essay on "Lincoln and the Constitution." Handed in my "500" words this morning. Here's hoping!

March 7 Central's still winning! Finished the season tonight by defeating Chillicothe Central by a score of 38 to 26.

At the French Club meeting this morning, the two classes enjoyed compositions by French composers. The life of the composer was read by one member, and then selections from his works were played. Of special interest was the record from Bizet's opera, "Carmen". I understood every word. (oh, my, yes!)

March 10 Dear Diary, my secret ambition has been realized! An actress at last! We Seniors began practice today for "A Woman in the House"- and a double cast, too.

March 12 This was the day the Chemistry Club visited the ice plant and learned how ice is made. This is an awfully chilly business, but it has added to the comfort of mankind (in the summer, I mean).

The Freshman members of the Catholic Students' Crusade are beginning to pester the life out of us again. But then, it's for a good cause - Father Antonine and his Indian missions in Arizona.

March 14 Highlights of the Crusade play, "Popping the Question and How", were "Doc." Bodner's perfect timing to have a mouthful every time his line came up, and "Chink" Bowman's "glow" at the line, "Good-by, my little sweetheart".

March 17 Dear Diary, a little secret for you today. Subscription Drive closed today. Feel sorry for those who haven't ordered an Annual. We feel that it is the best ever.

March 18 We got "inspected" today. The gentlemen from the state department visited each class. Imagine having to go around listening to classes for a living! And in the midst of it the Ford Motor Company showed some Good Drivers' League pictures, also passed out entry blanks for a Good Drivers' League Contest.

March 20 Father Schulz was here today and told us about missionary life in southern China. He also had films showing the life of a Maryknoll priest.

March 23 Forty Hours' Devotion began at 8:00 o'clock Mass this morning. The altars were beautifully decorated and the ceremonies were very impressive.

Upper right: Annual staff at work; business and patron managers get together; upper left: Crusade Players give a play; a first-year typing class; a period in the assembly

March 24 Reverend Burkhard, here for Forty Hours, addressed students - held conferences for boys and girls this morning.

March 25 This morning Saint Mary's celebrated the feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and also closed Forty Hours' Devotion. Thanks to Father Goebel, Father Burkhard and Father Freund, both schools enjoyed an unexpected free afternoon.

March 27 To complete their studies on Communism, Fascism and Nazism, we Seniors conducted a panel discussion on these subjects with Frances Kopp and Mark Vetter as leaders of the forum. We'd never be able to convert many to Communism, I fear.

March 28 Dear Diary, something extraordinary happened today. Joe Luchi bought his first pad of paper since starting school. Honest!

March 28 Three cheers! We heard today that two of our Legion Essay Contestants won places when the papers were judged in competition with other Portsmouth students. Janet Russell's paper won district honors, and Dorothy Ferrell's essay was among the county winners. Wouldn't mind having the prize money they both won!

March 31 The Scioto County Tuberculosis and Health Association is testing all high school pupils. We were given the first shot this morning. One more to go!

April 1 No April fooling about this, Diary. You should have seen the crowd that started out for spring football today.

Upper left: Seniors conduct a panel discussion; Class Legion Essay Contest winners; March 25, two minutes after announcement of free day; lower right: First day of spring football.

April 6 Quite a number of Saint Mary's students went to Washington on the Cherry Blossom Excursion over the weekend. From what they tell me, they must have seen everything, except, unfortunately, the cherry blossoms.

April 7 Scholarship selection tests, today, and were they tough! Now everyone is waiting eagerly to see who is going to Athens (for tests, I mean).

April 9 Arbor Day! I can remember, Dear Diary, way back in the grades, when we used to plant a tree. Some of us recited poems, and then we all sang together. Today several dogwood trees were planted to help make Portsmouth the "Dogwood City". Mr. A. Marting, who gave the trees to the school, was present at the program and gave a short talk.

Easter vacation begins tomorrow! No more school until Tuesday. By the way, it's our last vacation, too, Diary.

April 13 Easter Sunday! A beautiful close to Holy Week. I never will forget this Holy Week, the devotion with which everyone attended the services. Particularly noticeable was the fine April weather in contrast to last year's cold March days.

April 15 The scholarship team was announced today. Thirty lucky boys and girls are now preparing to do their best in Athens in May. Good luck!

April 17 Some of our biologists went on a big expedition into the wilderness today, searching for that terrifying amphibian, the tadpole. But--not a tadpole could be found.

April 18 After the monthly meeting of the C. S. M. C., a group of sophomore girls presented a little skit entitled, "Betty Bought a Pamphlet". It helped a lot to encourage the reading of all those pamphlets in the rack in the hall on second floor.

April 21 Dress rehearsal for a large audience of grade pupils this afternoon. Now that the time is getting close, several attacks of stage fright are in evidence. Trying hard to sell a few tickets in between times - I want that prize! Incidentally, Diary, we Seniors wouldn't mind that free day we've been promised - IF . . .

Palm Sunday - Holy Thursday

April 23-24 At last, the senior class play is over. It was the first attempt at acting for both casts, but everyone of us had loads of fun. Everyone seemed at ease, and from what we heard, the audience enjoyed "A Woman in the House" as much as the Seniors enjoyed putting it on.

April 28 A real surprise, Diary! We Seniors sold our quota of tickets, so, no school today! Three cheers!!!

April 29 Lots of sunshine, today, so the K. E. C. Club put aside their sewing baskets and their knitting needles, and off to Two Mile Hill they went for a good old hamburger fry. Couldn't help but wish for a minute that I were the domestic kind.

May 3 Scholarship tests at Athens, today. Going and coming is the most fun, Diary, as those tests are no snap - and I mean no snap. Congratulations to those who brought home the honors, though; we're proud of you.

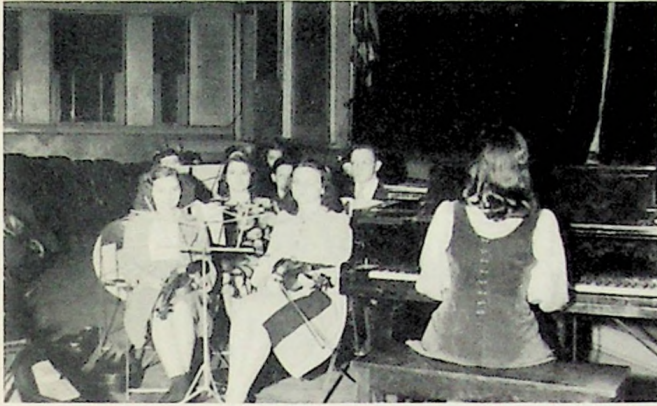

May 8 Went down to the American Legion Hall tonight to hear our winning contestants read their essays in a specially-arranged program for their friends and relatives. The best part (for them) was the awarding of the five-dollar prizes. I know whom I'm going to shadow for the next few days!

May 11 Mother's Day! We honored our Heavenly Mother by receiving Holy Communion in a body at the eight o'clock Mass this morning; then we Seniors entertained our mothers at a breakfast in the cafeteria. But we didn't forget our dear old dads - they were present also.

May 14 Another step closer to graduation, Diary. Our announcements arrived today. Now, pencil in hand, each Senior is seen checking over long, long lists.

May 16 The last meeting of the C. S. M. C. was held this morning, at which we voted on Seniors eligible for the Paladin Award. The lucky one will be notified on the last day of school.

May 22 Ascension Thursday, and the first holy day that has fallen on a school day. All the grade children enjoyed a picnic, while the Freshmen and Sophomores stood by and envied the Juniors and Seniors who had a "glorious" time at the Junior-Senior banquet and prom. Our last formal get-together with the Juniors, Diary, and it gave us a rather weepy feeling at times.

May 25 Today the Seniors walked down the aisle, one by one, in their caps and gowns - girls in white, and boys in blue. The Baccalaureate sermon was beautiful, but it reminded us that the end is coming all too fast. This evening the church was a mass of flowers as everyone in school participated in Crowning our Mother Mary as Queen.

May 26-27 Tests again, Diary, but I guess we shouldn't mind. There won't be any more for us, perhaps.

May 29 Report cards were given out today, and several awards made to outstanding students for various achievements. The last day, Diary, and really I'm sorry. . .

June 3 Caps and gowns - diplomas - an inspiring address - lovely singing - flowers - and yes, dear Diary, tears - for this is Graduation Day, and now 26 Seniors have joined the ranks of Saint Mary's Alumni. Farewell, Alma Mater, we shall not forget!
