Travis, Ty
Activities: JOGS, Quiz Bowl, Spanish Club, National Honor Society. Future Plans: to be a writer. Likes: writing, reading, driving, socializing, poker, Metallica, sarcasm, illogical jokes. Dislikes: Old Navy commercials, stupid social news reports that interrupt my favorite shows, Saddam Hussein, France, our subtly fascist government, tomatoes, arrogance, narrow-mindedness, pride, those who blame others yet are blind to their own faults, people who carry their urges too far, network over vacations. Special Thoughts: it seems to have taken an eternity, yet now that you're here, it seems but an instant. To finally be here is almost unbelievable. This has been the best year of my life (no thanks to certain people). I've made many new friends this year.
I'm sure I'll forget someone. Martina, although you whine constantly, you're always fun to be around and are a great friend. Jennifer, you are such a nice gentle person. Only a few know the truth. (Just kidding) You're also a great friend. Terri, I love just hanging around and talking with you. There aren't many people I can say that about. You, too, have been a great friend. Who else? Sara, for always treating me as an equal, as a friend. Becky, the best person I know, for standing up for me in National Honor. Christina, for being so nice all the time. Stephanie, for always treating me as a friend (and for being a founding member of SHS) Heather, also for NNHS and for being a great friend. Derek, for being a partner in adventure, and for being a friend since the beginning. Josh, for being there as well.
Anna for providing comic relief in Spanish 2 & 3. Nora for being the nicest German I've known. Daniel for being the silliest Brazilian I know. Ivan for being the craziest Mexican I know. I'm sure I've missed a couple. Please don't hate me. I ain't all that smart. The end of this year need not be the end of these friendships. If you're reading this and we haven't talked, give me a call. I'd like nothing more than to keep these friendships alive.

Have a great high school experience; you'll be a Senior before you know it. Always go through life with your eyes open and sometimes it's better to trust your head instead of your heart. I'm going to have a blast raising our families together. I'm sure I'll have to help you with the housework. Christy--My greatest friend. I'm so grateful to have had you in my life for the past seven years. It was on the Vernon swingsets that you let me in on our secret. We've shared so many since then. From eraser wars in A.G. to camping trips, we have so many memories. Going through rushes, tough times, and lost loves, we have always been there for each other. I still can't believe we've known each other for so long and haven't had one fight! You know I think of you as a sister. Even though the thought of graduating is terrifying, I look forward to experiencing life. Especially since I know I'll have such a wonderful person in it. To all others at SWHS: These halls, which once seemed so large, have gotten smaller through the years. And in them are memories that can never be replaced. Thanks for making it great!

You are the only person I know who can pick a fight with just about anyone. By the way, I love your earring that is trashy you---. Annie-- All I can say is good luck with Chris. All the parties at your house were great. Yes, the tables at American Eagle do have wheels on them. Did you know you're really honest when you're *? Don't fall asleep at ACT's. I don't want to have to kick your chair. What kind of car ride on the way home from convo? You need to learn how to take that "stuff" out of your lip yourself. Thanks for being there with me through the hard times. Eric-- You are one of the greatest guys I know. Thanks for always taking your Mom's van and driving to the convo and mall. "Can I pierce my ear please? I'm going to hold up this wall over here!" If you are going to moon someone, don't swerve all over the road! Is it legal to pass four cars at a time in a van? No, you can't have your turtle back! You're not supposed to come to a Chruch Volleyball game with "A HEADACHE!" In the future, try not to get beat up by 6'0" 250 lb. Cowboys! Earth Mover! Never forget we own the table of truth! What did you say about Shawn's mom? Thanks for being one of my best friends in the world. Josh-- You have been my best friend always. Even through all our fights in my driveway and on my front porch you have always tried to protect me. Sorry about all the bad times, but I think there have been more good. I'm sorry I always made you watch "8 Seconds" and "Steel Magnolias," but I think you started to like it. I don't know what I'm going to do without you and the rest of the gang. Just think, though, you don't have to hear me and say "Yeah, sure, whatever, dear." or "It's your fault." anymore. Just leave the door unlocked. "What does everybody need?" EARTHMOVER! I own the deed to ____! I'm glad you're finally happy with the girl of your dreams! Jared-- You are a great guy! You have always been there to make me strive to do better. Thanks for always giving me advice. You are one guy I can always trust, even if you do get pretty mouthy sometimes and get everybody ready to kill each other. I have always had a good time hanging out with you. I hope you get everything you want out of life. You deserve it. Even though you are the only guy I know who can do nothing and still get straight A's! Beth and Abby-- I'm glad you decided to come to Webster. It was fun spending my last year with you. Beth, you have the best stories and come up with the best questions for Truth or Dare. Abby, you are the sweetest girl. Be good to Pork, Chris H.-- You are the only person that knows everything about me. You are the strongest person I know. I know you would kill anyone who tried to hurt me, but you don't have to worry about me. I'll be all right. Brian (Pork)-- Be good to Abby. I know you will love HER! Be careful in everything you do and don't tell me about. Brandon-- Thanks for being our softball manager. You're the best! Don't let anyone hurt you. You can get pretty crazy sometimes, but you still protect all of your friends. Remember that Sarah, Nikki, Lisa, and Jamie-- I'm sure your lives will be better now that the c/o '99 is gone. Although, I never hated you guys. Sarah S.-- We had some great times and our parents trust us together. Good luck in the future. Missy-- Where do I begin? We have done so much together so all I can say is I will miss you so much. I know I can't say goodbye because I can't go ten minutes without talking to you. You know what I'm thinking before I do and I will always be here for you to lean on. By the way...gain some weight. You're getting on my nerves! Just kidding. Josh H.-- I hope you figure out all your girl problems. If you are just yourself you will be fine. Shawn C.-- Keep your faith in God and stay strong. Eventually the right girl will come along and steal your heart. Ryan S.-- Thanks for being the first guy to ever cheat on me. However, you are always stuck with me as a friend. Kristen B.-- You have always been my little sister and I will miss you. Keep your faith in God and never say the "C" word. Coach McCorkle-- There is so much I have to say. You have taught me so much. When I think of some of my greatest times, I think of softball. Even though you yell at me constantly and always drill balls at my head and shins, I thank you for teaching me the basic rule of "always do my best." You are the only coach I know that lets his team stay at his house overnight all the time. By the way, what are you going to do now that you don't have me and Annie to yell at? I still think you should go on to college with us. Is it just a coincidence that I am the only person you nailed with a pitching machine at 70 mph? I hope you never forget me. I will never forget you! To my brothers--You all three mean so much to me. Thanks you for always trying to beat me up. I love you guys. To the rest of my family--Thanks for always believing in me and wanting me to be my best. Daddy-- I will always be your baby girl wherever my future takes me. The past has been rough, but it has only made me a better person. I know I can tell you everything and you will do your best to make it better. I'm sorry for being a brat sometimes, but I hope I have made you proud. I will always remember you pushing me to be a winner and never stopping. To my mother--Dad I still remember "Sucks to lose, but you win." Sis? Guess you better try harder than I do. I love you! To my best friend in the world, Christy-- Mom--You have been my rock and saved my entire life. When I have felt that the world has shut me out you have opened your arms and loved me. When I didn't know what was going on, some things were happening, you were there to cry with me. I know there have been times in my life when I have disappointed you, but I hope there are more when I have made you proud. I love you with all my heart. Love, Rob-- I don't know why I'm writing to you. Nothing I could ever write could express how I feel about you. You have made my world into a great one. I know I can make you proud and I'm sure you are right now and I will be. Even when you're mad, though, you will be there to know you care. I hope and pray that all of our problems work out the way we want. I'm sure they will because we have already overcome several obstacles. I can talk to you about anything and you have been there for me through so much. You always have a way to make me laugh. Always remember that even if I do go away to college, there is no other guy for me but you! I love you! To the Senior Class of 1999: You have all been great friends to me and I will never forget any of you. I love you guys and God bless. Remember, we are the ending of an era. The best there is, was or ever will be!

When teachers assign reports, books, and essays over holiday break. When people act like something you care about is stupid. When school is called off after we're already on the buses. When people aren't treated equally. It's pretty funny that the smartest guy in the class (Ty) isn't in the NHS. Special Thoughts: Stephanie-- You are my best friend and one of the only girls I can totally trust in this world. You tell me what you think; even if it results in an argument or hurts my feelings. That alone is "true friendship." Your parents have also been wonderful to me and I just want to thank them for all that they've done. Tell Ryan I want to fight! Remember: Don't laugh when you have a really bad sunburn. Mr. Conley--UK RULZ! JOGS was the best. Mr. Canier--Oh my! I just don't know what to think about you. Sometimes you scare me because you are so direct. Other times it's because I think you've flown the coop! You're a great teacher, but I have to tell you that I really wanted to turn everything in your room upside down just to see if you really would go crazy. Sorry! To my family--Thanks for everything! To all my underclassmen friends (you know who you are)--Thanks for your friendship and good luck in the years to come. Finally, to Anthony--You are truly what gets me through the rough times. Whenever I'm feeling down, you are always there to love, respect, and understand me in every way. Everyday I look forward to spending the rest of my life with you and am glad to know you feel the same. I realize that you love me for the part of me no one knows and that you do everything you possibly can for me. I just want you to know that I love you and that I'm grateful for all that you do.

Last Thoughts: I would first like to give special thanks to all my teachers from kindergarten through my senior year. Each and every one of you have instilled in me the abilities to achieve my goals. The greatest teachers of all my life have been my parents, mammaw, pappaw, nanny, Uncle Joe, Gini, Chad, Grandma, Aunt Phyllis, Penny, Collette, Uncle Jimmy, and Grandpa. God bless my Uncle Mike. I know he would have influenced me, had he been here. To my other half—Kristen Malone—It all began seven years ago/An everlasting friendship, you know/you came from Vernon from afar/my best friend, my angel, my shining star/These past years you have been so strong/trying to help me figure out where I belong/It was as if we just met yesterday/I can see us on the swingset as we play/you tell me your secrets I will tell you mine/we will hold them inside until the end of time/all the years have flown on past/we are now at our senior year, our last/as I look at all the memories we have shared/I see how you were always there, how much you cared/I know you will always be there through it all/to pick me up if I begin to fall/you are my very very best friend/our friendship will last until the end! I LOVE YOU SIS! Jennifer—you have seen me when I was down/behind the truck, on the ground/I will be quiet if you will too/Let's keep that secret between me and you!/Bud's, Ironton, Taco Bell/we are lucky not to be in jail!/Just remember one thing is true/I will ALWAYS be here for you! LeaAnn—I will never forget the summer past/It seemed as though our friendship would last/I suppose our friendship had to go/what happened? I will never know... Brian—After all the trouble we have been through/I still manage to have a brother like you/You will always be there until the end/you are my very best guy friend/ I love ya Bub! Josh M—even though I just met you, I feel I have known you forever. Thanks for being there when I needed you most—Buddy!! Becky—you are a great person and wonderful friend. Good luck in all you do in life! Love ya! Jessica—you are by far the brightest, cutest freshman. My advice to you is to never let guys get in the way of how well you do in school. I promise you they are NOT worth it. Never settle for less than your best. Do not listen to what people say about you...they are just jealous. Love ya! Lisa—hey, the offer still stands for the adoption when I turn 18 and get me an apartment. I need someone there to clean my messes. Love ya! Remember if you need ANYTHING, I am there! Stef and Pat—I just figured I should write your names in here somewhere. Love you two! I really do love ya! Nicola—I hope you find the perfect guy. When you do, call me. Good luck in all you aspire to do. To all the people I forgot about—It is 2 in the morning and this is due today. I am tired and very sorry I forgot about you. I'll always remember you though, I promise! You guys know how forgetful I am. Just forgive and go on. Advice—to all the people who think they are better than everyone else, you're NOT. All I have to say is "what goes around comes around" Do not base people on what they look like, wear or drive. If you do this all your life, you will get nowhere. My motto is—live for today because tomorrow may never come.

Wetter, Derek

Future Plans: Move to the Dagobah System and become a Jedi knight just like my father before me. Past Plans: I can't remember. Likes: ice cream, swimming pools, Spider Man, Adam Sandler movies, and string. Dislikes: Russians, sour milk, when people say "dude", orange juice after brushing teeth. Final Thoughts: Here we are! Our senior year! All through our school years we have been told this will be our best year ever, but we have been misled. So be it! We're out of here! Na-na-na-na-na! To those I will forget to mention, I'm sorry, but I forgot. Underclassmen—learn all you can about me, tell others, and keep the dream alive! Ty Evans—you were there with me on the first day of school, and you'll be with me there on the last. It was fun. Thank you for your kindness, criticism, a way to school my junior year, and your abstract thoughts. Michelle—thanks for the laughs and acting with me in English class. Try not to worry about anything, everything will be all right. Stephanie M—we have a lot of inside jokes, so here are some of them: do you read Sudder Cain? I killed Mufasa! I'm Batman! Pascoe, Abracadabra, I would walk 500 miles, homewrecker, God, the bed wasn't even cold, Word Jumble, and finally—Dogma. Jessica H—you have given me so much good advice, so here is some for you: don't eat cereal with a fork, don't hit yourself with a phone, don't ever buy a solar-powered flashlight, never laugh when a hearse goes by, for you may be the next to die, don't let a giant step on you, don't knock anyone out with that rock on your finger, never do anything on ER night, stay away from angry jackals, and finally—don't let yourself get so busy that you forget how to have fun. Nora—thank you for all your information about Germany. I hope you enjoyed my country and your time here. I hope you enjoy this TEXT a lot. Gattin—don't forget invisible white-out...our plan of world domination. Heather—we'll always have Freshman English class. Good luck with everything you do, you're one of the nicest people I have ever met and you deserve all the joy life has to offer. Beth A—try not to burn too many things. God—thank you for everything. Stay the same. Don't ever change. [don't worry, Derek, he won't!] Terri—I am an Aerosmith boy! Shawn R—Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, Matt Damon and Ben Affleck, Bert and Ernie, and you and me. All best friends. This is it! No more pencils no more books—no more teachers' dirty looks! We are out of here, Ruth! The only bad thing is that we will have to go our separate ways, and that pains me. Who will be there for me when I have a stupid question? Who will be there for me when I make a stupid joke? Who will be there to help me get teachers off track? Who will be there? I am going to miss you. You are the type of friend I can call at 3 in the morning and tell that I woke up with a dead body in the bed (I guess I am the type of friend that would do that—just kidding). You are the kind of friend that will stand up for you no matter what. And though you will probably think weird things of me for telling you this, I love you man! Melissa—You graduated last year, but I don't care. You deserve to be in this, no matter what. You have been with me all through my years here in one way or another. You've been a basketball coach, lunch friend, friend, girlfriend and so much more. I barely have any memories of this school that don't include you. I love you, baby. XOXOXOXO

“ QUOTABLE QUOTE ”

Why do I enjoy Mock Trial? It's interesting to learn about the court and legal system...and hey, it's just fun to argue in an organized argument situation. Not just for argument's sake, but to learn how to construct a finely crafted statement of your point of view.

It also helps with speaking skills and learning to present yourself in public. It has been a very enjoyable experience and I intend to do it again next year.

The Sun'll Come Out Tomorrow...

SWHS Music Dept. Presents Broadway Show "Annie"

HARD KNOCK LIFE! Jodi Puckett, Jodi Smith, Emily Grimm, Claudia Claxon, Haley Messer, Marissa Zinker, Kiri O'Hara, Morgan Allard, Beth Ellsesser all from the middle school were the orphans.

REHEARSAL TIME Jessica Horner, Samantha Cole and Jeremy Moore rehearse entrances wearing their designated microphone numbers.

LIVIN' ON EASY STREET Amber Huffman, Sara Miller and Jordan Grimshaw dream and scheme to get Daddy Warbucks' money.

TIME OUT Samantha Cole, star of Annie! takes a break for a photo shoot.

THINK I'M GONNA "SEEK!"
Crystal Smith, Jeremy Samantha Cole, Adam Fin performs a musical number on stage.

TOE TO TOE

John Rollins and Samantha Cole stand toe to toe as Daddy Warbucks and Annie meet each other for the first time.

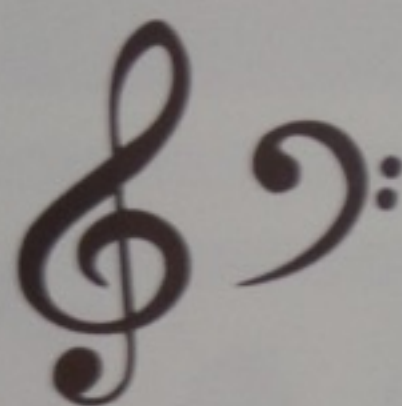

A CHORUS LINE

Tiffany Arnett, Caleb Stevens, Les Claxon, Ross Lemon and Dustin Keslar match steps as they do their dance number.

"I THINK I'M GONNA LIKE IT HERE!"

Crystal Smith, Jeremy Moore, Samantha Cole, Adam Fox and Caleb Stevens perform a musical/dance number on stage.

The show MUST go on...
despite dress
rehearsal jitters

"The first night of dress rehearsal, I was physically sick. I didn't think we were going to be able to go through with it--and to think of all the hours we'd put in, not to mention the resources, financial and otherwise. But by the second night, we were all smiles. Everyone did a great job...even the dog!" --Judy Ellsesser, Co-Director

"Producing a major musical is such a tremendous undertaking. I push the kids really hard--sometimes I'm ashamed of how hard! But, if you're going to do something, make it something you can be proud of...and we were! Really proud!!" --Becky Climer, Co-Director

"The musicals give us all a chance to work together and develop closer relationships with each other. The reward is watching the faces of the audience and feeling the pride in the fact that "it all came together." --Brad Painter Co-Director

BACK STAGE

Hard work behind the scene necessary for success!

SCENERY

Annie and orphans sing their songs against a backdrop painted by the hard-working art students of Mr. Painter's art classes.

MUSIC, MAESTRO!

Musicians from all over Scioto County volunteer their services to give a professional sound to the musical numbers.

SOUND CHECK

Mrs. Climer works like a "woman possessed" to make sure that the microphones and sound system work properly.

LIGHTS!

Adam McClintic and Aaron Clarkson put in many hours aiming the lights, recording light settings for certain scenes and then running the very complicated light board.

MAKE-UP!

Stephanie McNelly applies makeup to Amber Huffman while Sara Miller waits her turn.

PROP MAN

Brandon Hickman folds up the blankets for the 1,000th time so the orphans can throw them off yet one more time!

STUDENT DIRECTOR

German exchange student Nora Mewis checks plugs on microphones while Student Director Beth Acox checks out the cast names in the program.

Caylah Phipps prepares to transform Jodi Smith and Emily Grimm into those adorable "rotten orphans."

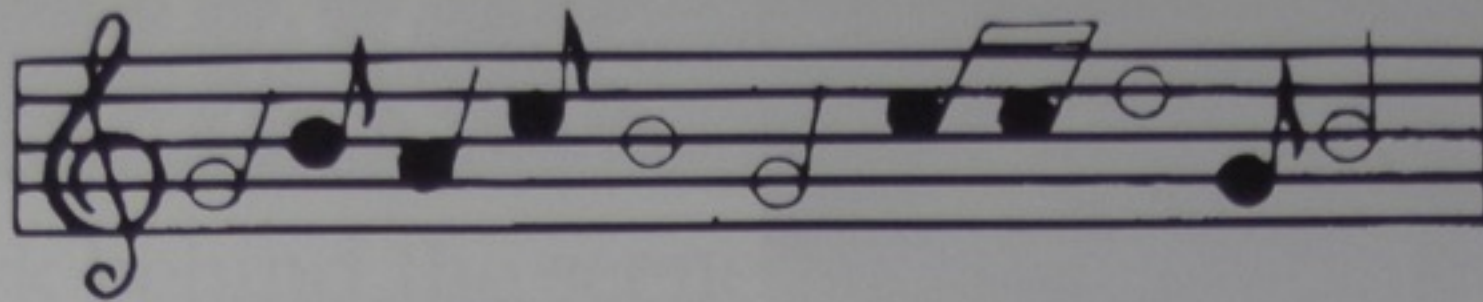

Back-Stage card games help to pass the time while cast members wait for their cues to go on stage.

Some cast members prefer to do their own hair and make-up, as Jennifer Moore illustrates.

Emily Daily, the wardrobe lady, puts in countless hours collecting, sewing, repairing, altering and managing the wardrobe for our productions.

Sports

Defining Defensive Effort...

Make it Soccer!

In 1998, South Webster Soccer had another productive year. Despite the low number of goals, a strong defensive effort coupled with a supreme performance by the midfield pushed the Jeeps to another successful season. The seniors really stepped up to the challenge of taking control of the team. Eric McClintic led the team in goals. Josh Barnard was a human brick wall on defense and Tim Cook headed the ball farther than most can kick. Justin Yates and Jason Gleim also turned in great senior year performances.

Congratulations, Class of 99!

Jason Gleim...The lessons we learn from childhood are often the ones that teach us the most. Just pick up one stick at a time, NEVER overload your wagon, and ALWAYS keep a smile on your face. Good luck in all you do! Love, Dad, Mom, Zachary & Quentin

Christina Collins... We are so proud of the young woman you have become. Your determination to succeed, the willingness to accept a challenge, and most importantly...your awareness that God has blessed you with these strengths. We love you!

Mom & Dad

Sara Miller... You'll never know how proud we are of you. Congratulations and good luck in all you do! We love you!

Mom, Randy, Dean and Drew

Kristen... Congratulations! Always believe in yourself and remember...

Happiness is found along the way, not at the end of the journey.

Love, Mom and Dad

Hoss Cunningham "Blessed With A Son"

Son, you are the warmth, hope and pride of our heart...the joy of our life. Our hand will always be stretched out to you. You made us very proud.

Now go forth and make your dreams come true!

With all our love,

Mom and Dad

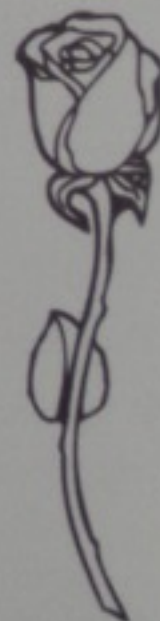

Stefani Hanes...

May your life be filled with as much joy and laughter as you have brought to ours.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Bart and Andy

Pink Yesterdays

*How can it be that when I bent to kiss you good-nite, my daughter, a beautiful young woman lay where only yesterday a little girl had been?
When did the barrettes and ponytail ribbons of birthday party days give way to the styling comb and make-up of Saturday night dates?
Wasn't it only yesterday crayons of all colors laid upon the table where now bottles of nail polish rest?*

How can it be the buggy you filled with so many dolls has been pushed aside and new suitcases are filled instead?

Did you ever know the finger you wrapped yourself around was tied right to my heart? It seems as though the ink has just dried on the pages of your baby book and here we are laughing over pages in your yearbook.

How did the ballet slippers of a little girl become the high heels of a young woman on her way?

Such a little while ago you cried, "Daddy, I'm scared," and now you whisper "Mom, don't worry. I'll be fine."

When did the teddy bear you hugged all night become the photo of someone you've chosen for life?

How can it be that the smell of baby powder turned to the scent of perfume, the giggles of a little girl became the tears of a teen, and the dandelions tiny fingers picked were treasured like the petals of a prom bouquet?

Wasn't it only yesterday ruffles and tea parties colored my world pink and today a new address and a good-bye kiss stain my world blue?

How did it happen so quickly and when did I stop to realize that my golden tomorrows will bask in the memories of pink yesterdays.

Thank you, Lord, for Pink Yesterdays.

Alice Collins

Congratulations, Terri. We're so proud of you!

Jessica Nicole Horner

Our Tribute To You

Tiny fingers played upon ivory keys-- Coaxing out a melody, where none seemed meant to be.

Days became weeks-- growing too quickly to years, but the melody became stronger-- more sure and more clear.

Jessica,
as each new verse is added to this song which is your life, may God's angels continue to shine on you-- illuminating your path with His Light.

All our Love,
Dad and Mom

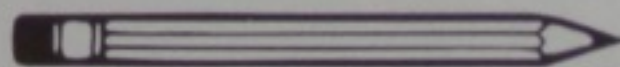

Nicki...

Through the kaleidoscope of change I look and see the world you have lived in. You have lived in more places than most people do in a lifetime. You have made friends and left them behind; you have built an entire childhood on constant change. And after all of that you have emerged a confident, successful and promising young woman. I cannot begin to tell you how proud I am of your accomplishments and of the dreams you have yet to realize. The world is going to hear from you and it will be a better place for it. Thank you for the gift of you.

Love, Mom, Chris & Beth
