"Miss South Webster"

It was a great honor to represent SWHS in the 1994 River Days Pageant. Various activities kept my summer schedule full, and a lot of hard work and dedication was involved in preparing for the big night. It was a privilege to spend my summer with the other candidates, and I made many friendships that will last a lifetime. Many thanks to all of my sponsors, friends, parents, and the community for your help and support. You made my reign as Miss South Webster unforgettable.

Farrah proudly represented SWHS in various parades in the area.

people who are jealous of others' successes, backstabbing friends, people who party on Saturday night and go to church on Sunday, people who can't keep their noses out of other people's business, people who think they're better than everyone else, people who don't fix their hair (but need to), people who complain about the yearbook, people who criticize real talent.

Interests: I enjoy performing and studying jazz, tap, ballet, and lyrical dance, modeling, photo shoots and acting. I love spending time with the Schwann Man and hangin' out with Tars C. and Sara S. How dare you leave me here!

Future Plans: I plan to attend Marshall University and major in communications, become an anchorwoman for a major communications firm, articulate what exists in the world, be a reliable source to the media and have an impact on our world.

Special Thoughts: A true friend is someone who dares to dream your dream with you. Life is a journey, not a destination.

ACADEMICS

Miami And Upward Bound

During the summer of 1994 I was selected as an Honors student to attend Miami University at Oxford, Ohio with their Junior Scholars Program. I was enrolled in college classes and lived on campus for six weeks. The educational experience was tremendous. However, the motivation and encouragement given by the staff at Miami was even greater. Along with my peers, I was able to enjoy a time in which learning occurred at a faster pace and was looked at with a positive attitude. I am thankful for the Scioto Area Foundation and Pixley Scholarships and to John Smith for his sincere support. I hope others will take advantage of such rewarding academic opportunities. Dawn Tevis

Preparing For The Future

South Webster offers several different organizations allowing students to prepare for the future. As we all remember, being a senior is a very confusing time in one's life, especially when it comes time to determine a career. Therefore students are allowed to choose a profession and visit their mentor frequently getting a hands-on experience of what that career offers. We also have a JOGS (Jobs for Ohio's Graduates) Program. This is a scheduled class that offers many different facets on how to get a job. They do several community service jobs such as the STAR Search for the Diabetes Association and the walk for The March of Dimes. Junior Honors is an organization where students have the opportunity to attend various job locations and colleges enabling them to narrow down the choice of careers. Here are the names of the following students! Mentorship: Cindy Hamilton (Engineering), Rachel Taylor (sports Medicine), Lori Stonerock (Medicine), Jessi Estepp (Education), Farrah Fugett (Optometry), Wes Chamberlin (Optometry), Dawn Tevis (medicine), Alison Moore (Communications), Matt Brockett (Engineering). SWHS Mock Trial

The South Webster High School Mock Trial team competed at the county meet this year. Several of the team's members participated in the competition. A few of these members received high honors for their contribution. Amber Hobbs, a senior, received the distinction of outstanding attorney in her trial. Haleigh Hollback received a similar award pertaining to her role. She was named outstanding witness. This year's court case was quite different from ones in previous years. It was an actual criminal case dealing with issues such as freedom of speech and curfew violations. It was quite a challenge and rewarding experience for this group.

Key Club

The Key Club did some wonderful projects this year. Several of the members "adopted" a grandparent from Best Care Nursing Home. Almost everyone involved enjoyed this project. Other members started a Young Authors Program at the elementary school. These projects will become an annual event with the high school club.

SWHS Chorus

Jeremy King and Gavin Rogers add some goofy entertainment to the Christmas concert.

The South Webster High School Chorus welcomed many new faces to its ranks. One of the newest is our choral director, Mrs. Rebecca Climer. She brought many wonderful changes to our vocal music department, but she kept all the great things about it from the past. Mrs. Climer introduced classical music into our daily music classes. Most of the students didn't feel as though they would enjoy this learning experience, but to their surprise everyone has. Mrs. Climer also allowed us to study opera. We even took a trip to Columbus to see a Broadway play.

Changing Our Tune

Although traditions are hard to break, we discovered that life goes on. For the first in a long time, our band marched to the beat of a different drum. Ed Keslar, our band director for many years, retired. John Parker, however, was brave enough to step in and take hold of the reins. Under his leadership, we have had the opportunity to experience many new and exciting things, including a performance at The Ohio State Fair. We greatly appreciate this time and efforts. We extend him many thanks for making our year the greatest!

1994-1995 Soccer Team

This year, the Jeeps returned to the field well prepared for the season ahead of them. Despite weather conditions, they were ready to face the opposition. Each player put forth their best effort throughout the season. Because of their hard work and dedication, the Jeeps earned the right to leave the field, after each game, with their heads held high. Under the leadership of Brenton Cole and Brady Rose, team captains, the Jeeps had a very successful season.
