Dedication

To the alumni of Portsmouth High School now in our armed forces and to those boys still in school who will be in the service before the war is over, we dedicate the 1943 Trojan. We hope that wherever they are wherever they will go . . . North Africa, Iceland, Guadalcanal - - - this book may be a reminder of the normal, American way of life for which they are fighting.

*M*r. W. Dennis Perkinson, the Superintendent, cooperates with the School Board in working out the policies of the city schools. Mr. Perkinson studied at Ohio Northern University for his B. S. degree and at Ohio State University for his M. A. degree.

Miss Thelma Hopkins is secretary to Mr. Perkinson. Miss Hazel Toney assists Mr. Ridenour as secretary.

*T*he men who serve on the Board of Education plan for the progressive development of our school system. Members of the Board are Mr. Lawrence Daniels, Mr. Wesley Ridenour, Clerk, Mr. Creighton C. Craig-miles, Mr. Arthur D. Lynn, President, Dr. S. E. Moor-head and Dr. William Stone, now a Captain in the U. S. Army.

Mr. Olin B. Smith is completing his second year as Principal of P. H. S. Mr. Smith earned his B. A. degree at Ohio Wesleyan and his M. A. at Ohio State University. He attended the University of Kentucky for graduate work.

Miss Colene Cox and Miss Aline McKeen assist Mr. Smith in the office.

The Dean of Girls, Miss Margaret Woodburn, works with the Girls' League and other organizations in promoting the social activities for the year. Mr. R. E. Hopkins is the Dean of Boys. He promotes the financial activities, such as the sale of Defense stamps and activities tickets. The Deans act primarily as Counsellors. They are working with pupils in developing methods of study. Their work also includes failure guidance, the school calendar and a good selection of subjects for students.

Miss Anderson

To become a member of our faculty a teacher must have a bachelor's degree or experience equivalent to it. Some are well on their way toward their M. A., and almost twenty-five percent of our staff have this degree. On the next few pages of our school annual we are attempting to show some of the outside activities of our teachers, though many of them have said that there are a great many things they would like to do if they had the time. In endeavoring to show some of these outside interests and these after-school activities and hobbies of our faculty we find that most of them are interested in nature and music. Among the musically-inclined, we have Mr. Kenneth Anderson who, besides having music as an outside activity, directs the High School Band and Orchestra.

Miss Blanche Evans, Miss Genevieve DuPre, and Miss Octavia Shinkle are enjoying some friendly singing. Miss Evan's love of music is brought out through the rhythmical writing of shorthand which she teaches to first year students. Miss DuPre is one of our sophomore English teachers, while Miss Shinkle shows the girls the fundamentals of sewing.

Shown as she directs the choir is Miss Elizabeth Moore, who combines her outside interest and her school work in this field. The girls', boys', mixed and colored girls' choirs all have Miss Moore as their skilled conductor. She is also the producer of the yearly operetta and she sponsored several excellent choral assemblies this year for the benefit of the students.

Mrs. Nellie Niswonger and Miss Margaret Anderson didn't tell us what the name of their duet was, but it certainly has us curious. In the mathematical field, Mrs. Niswonger explains the various triangles and rectangles in the geometry class. Some of the seniors become more interested in English and literature through the efforts of Miss Anderson.

Miss Pfarr Miss Schwartz Miss Johnston

Nature in general holds a special attraction for some of our faculty. Miss Carrie Pfarr and Miss Mary E. Schwartz are examining a young birch in the upper left corner of the page. Miss Pfarr, who blends English, literature and history of the same era together in school, is also interested in reading and has a collection of poetical works. Also an English teacher, Miss Schwartz enjoys the arts in general and has a collection of Egyptian works. In the spring she likes to go hiking. Ancient history is Miss Johnston's subject. She is at the upper right leafing through a magazine. Miss Johnston is one of our teachers who likes nature in general; who likes the nature you meet along the paths and in the hills. In spite of the fact that the teachers are around the building most of the winter, they take advantage of the spring and summer days to make up for lost time. Miss Marie Trowbridge and Miss Ruth Hazlebeck, at the lower left, are descending the stairs at lunch time. They both teach mathematics. Miss Hazlebeck enjoys reading, plays the cello, and was a member of the Portsmouth Little Symphony last year. Though Miss Hazlebeck knits for The Red Cross, Miss Trowbridge admits that needlework is one of her weaknesses. She has a great interest in birds and therefore likes to hike.

At lower center, we find Miss Margaret Smith, English teacher and TROJAN sponsor. Flowers are the part of nature she enjoys and it's an unusual sight to see her desk without some.

Another member of our English staff, Miss Isabel Musser, and Miss Hazel Wyant, one of our History teachers, don't seem to mind our interrupting them for this picture. Miss Musser's love of nature is shown through her personal collection of pictures. Hiking intrigues Miss Wyant who is also doing nutrition work for defense.

Miss Wittenburg

Scouting can be indirectly called Civilian Defense because it trains us to become good citizens, and teaches us how to defend our rights. Although they don't have scout troops of their own, several of our teachers help with other scout troops. Miss Alberta Wittenburg is shown at upper left with her troop of girl scouts. She instructs a typing class in our school and makes an excellent teacher because of her interest in hiking, camping, biking and activities that would interest girls of this age.

Mr. R. E. Hopkins and Mr. Carl Meadows are both interested in scouting and take hikes with the boys several times a year. They are shown at lower left admiring an enlargement of the Boy Scouts emblem at Scout Headquarters. Dean of boys at school and officiating at football and basketball games, Mr. Hopkins knows in what things boys are interested. Mr. Meadows, who is now a Marine, had an insect and leaf collection in connection with his biology classes and was interested in anything having to do with nature.

Miss Haney

Miss H. DuPre

Miss Woodburn

Many of the faculty members have found time to do war work besides teaching. The following is a list of the teachers who have taken first aid or are doing some kind of Red Cross work (others pictured): Miss Anderson, Miss Ball, Miss Bell, Miss Blazer, Miss Burke, Mr. Lorentz, Miss Mackoy, Mr. Meadows, Mr. Radjunas and Miss Shinkle. Among those who knit for the soldiers are the three teachers hard at work in the picture above. Miss Ruth Haney keeps up the South American Good Neighbor Policy as she teaches Spanish classes. Miss Haney finds time in her after-school hours to take up musical instruments and she plays the piano, the accordion, the violin and the organ. Miss Helen DuPre, an English teacher, sitting next to Miss Haney, enjoys knitting for the service in her spare time; while Miss Margaret Woodburn, Dean of girls, has quite a few other outside activities, including a Girl Scout troop.

We are very proud of the fact that we have all of the different types of Air Raid Wardens represented in our school. At the bottom of the page, we have District Warden, Mr. A. K. Wheeler, (center) a Post Warden, Mr. F. B. McComb, (left) and a Block Warden, Mr. Marvin L. Sturm. The men are examining some Civilian Defense literature at the Mound Park post, and Mr. Wheeler, who is a physics and chemistry teacher at school, is drawing their attention to a certain item. Mr. McComb, another of our mathematics teachers, is the warden at this post and is justly proud of the fact. A new arrival at our school this year is Mr. Sturm, who discusses History and Civics with the senior classes.

Mr. McComb Mr. Wheeler Mr. Sturm

Miss Gulley

The sports represented on these pages are almost exclusively reserved for summer. Miss Elsie Gulley, who amazes everyone through the chemistry lab., is very proud of her rock collection - - - some of which she has personally gathered and others have been brought to her from all parts of the world. Discussing whether this bait should or should not be used under certain fishing conditions, are Mr. Joe Kegley and Mr. C. E. Schneider. A Civics and History teacher during school, Mr. Kegley enjoys gardening and fishing during the summer months. Mr. Schneider instructs both boys and girls in the machine shop across from the main building. He is also interested in track and boxing. Another teacher who makes English, Grammar and Literature interesting for the students is Mr. Bert Leach, pictured at lower left. Interested in many things - - - mainly photography and painting - - - he is shown directing some of the many successful plays he has presented this year. We didn't ask "Uncle Bert" if he considered this an activity; we simply watched him perspire and gave it that name.

Mr. Kegley

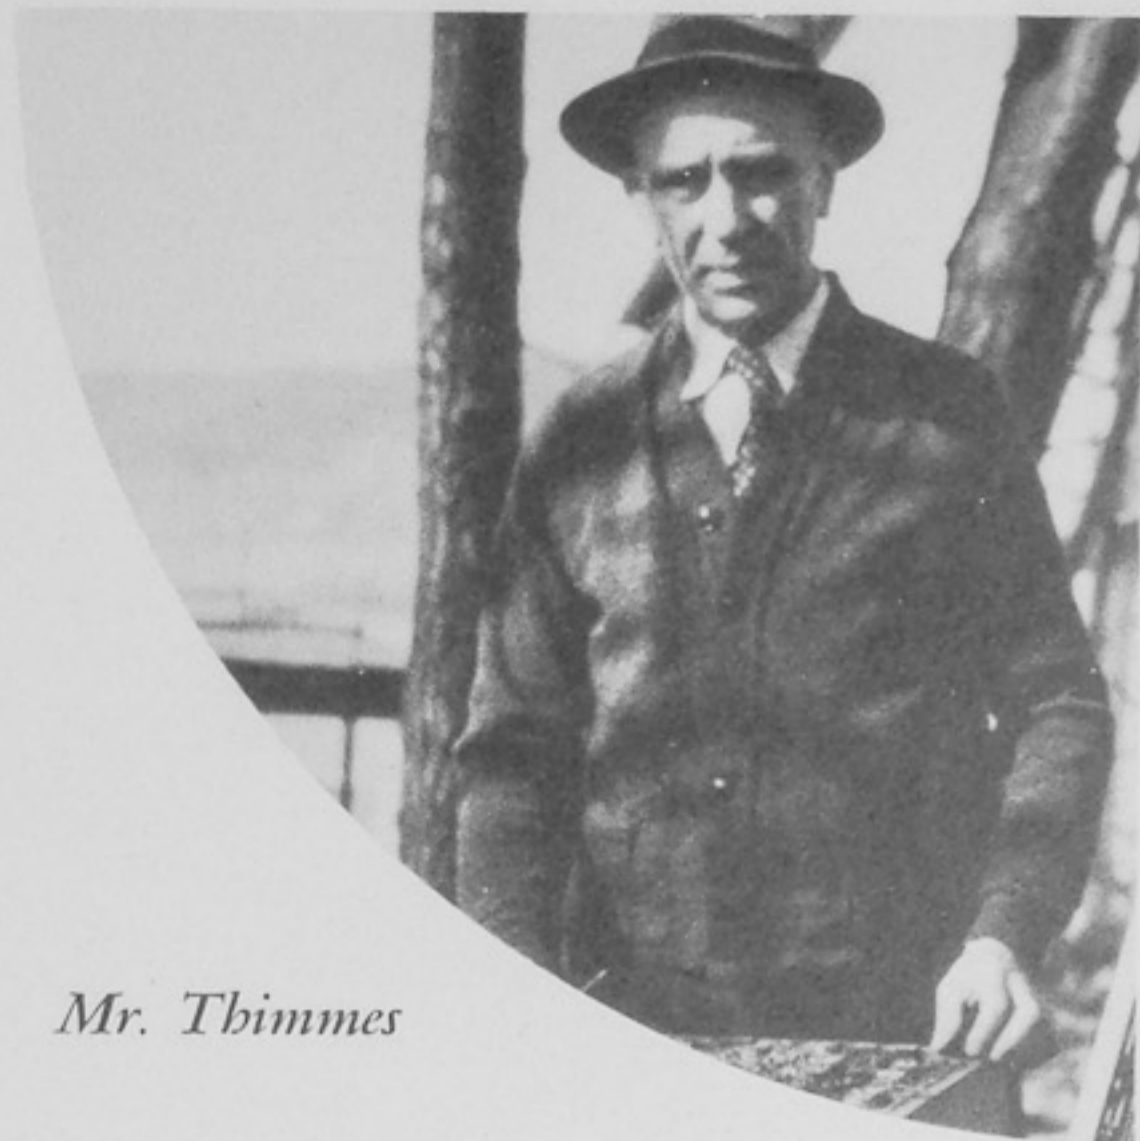

Mr. Schneider

*M*r. Walter Thimmes is the brave person at the right, who stands near the bee hives. One of the instructors of the machine shop where the students study about the different types of engines and learn from actual experience how they work. Mr. Thimmes raises these bees in his back yard. Shown in the center admiring a pheasant they're probably all saying they shot are Mr. Owen Burkhardt, icles. Mr. McMains, bookkeeping teacher, enjoys fishing, too, but would rather hunt - - - a sentiment to which all the other men in this group would heartily agree. Admiring his favorite hunting dog at the lower right is Mr. Dent Rowson, another instructor in our enlarged machine shop. Besides having an interest in hunting, he likes football and tennis.

Mr. Fred Multer, Mr. Raymond Smith, and Mr. Howard McMains. Mr. Burkhardt and Mr. Smith are instructors in the machine shop for the students and the adults who are taking this course after school hours. Mr. Multer has charge of the woodshop and helps the boys turn out many handsome art-

Mr. Rowson

In the field of Science, Biology is represented by Miss Ruth Lindsey, and General Science by Mr. Lowell Adams. They are shown at upper right probably trying to decide what kind of a bush is reaching out its thorns toward them. Miss Lindsey, who is a newcomer to our school, is taking over the class room so that the Marines can take over Mr. Meadows. His collection of rocks and minerals is one of Mr. Adams' outside hobbies and swimming is the sport in which he is most engrossed.

Examining some archery equipment are Miss Mary Krausz and Miss Freda

Burke. They are admiring some of the equipment for the girls in the gym. Miss Krausz is interested in bowling for a sport and pictures for a hobby. She teaches math and helps our Senior Class get through their many problems. Collecting pictures is also a hobby of Miss Burke's. She teaches the social studies but swimming is her favorite sport. Nature also intrigues Miss Burke, who likes hiking.

At the bottom of the page, we have our basketball coaches, Mr. Willard Ellsesser and Mr. C. A. Lorentz. "Peg" also coaches the football team and has coached our team through many victorious seasons. He teaches Physical Education to the boys. Science is Mr. Lorentz's specialty in school but athletics - - - tennis, football, basketball and swimming are most popular with him after school.

Mr. Lorentz Mr. Ellsesser

Miss Lillick

Mr. Dailas

Despite the fact that some of our teachers are more interested in activities, we have those who enjoy immensely their collections. We have a well represented group of items being collected --- jewelry, glassware, antiques, coins, books, and pottery. At the upper left, we find the Coordinator of Cooperative Commercial Education, the person who trains future stenographers, Miss Dorothy Lillick, who collects matching sets of jewelry. Miss Lillick is also interested in flowers and her room is usually full of growing plants. Scanning through LIFE while seated on one of her prize pieces of antique furniture, is Miss Margaret Ball, instructor of the language of the Romans and Julius Caesar. Miss Ball has a collection of glassware and other antiques in the form of pictures.

Miss Mackoy

Well known for his collection of coins is Mr. W. G. Dallas. At center left, he is holding the oldest coin in his collection. He has charge of Distributive Education classes and teaches the future clerks the fine points of salesmanship. In charge of our largest room in the building, "321", is Miss Carolyn Mackoy. Miss Mackoy has a large collection of glassware consisting of several different sets and she is particularly fond of her most complete set with which she is shown at the center right.

Miss Waller

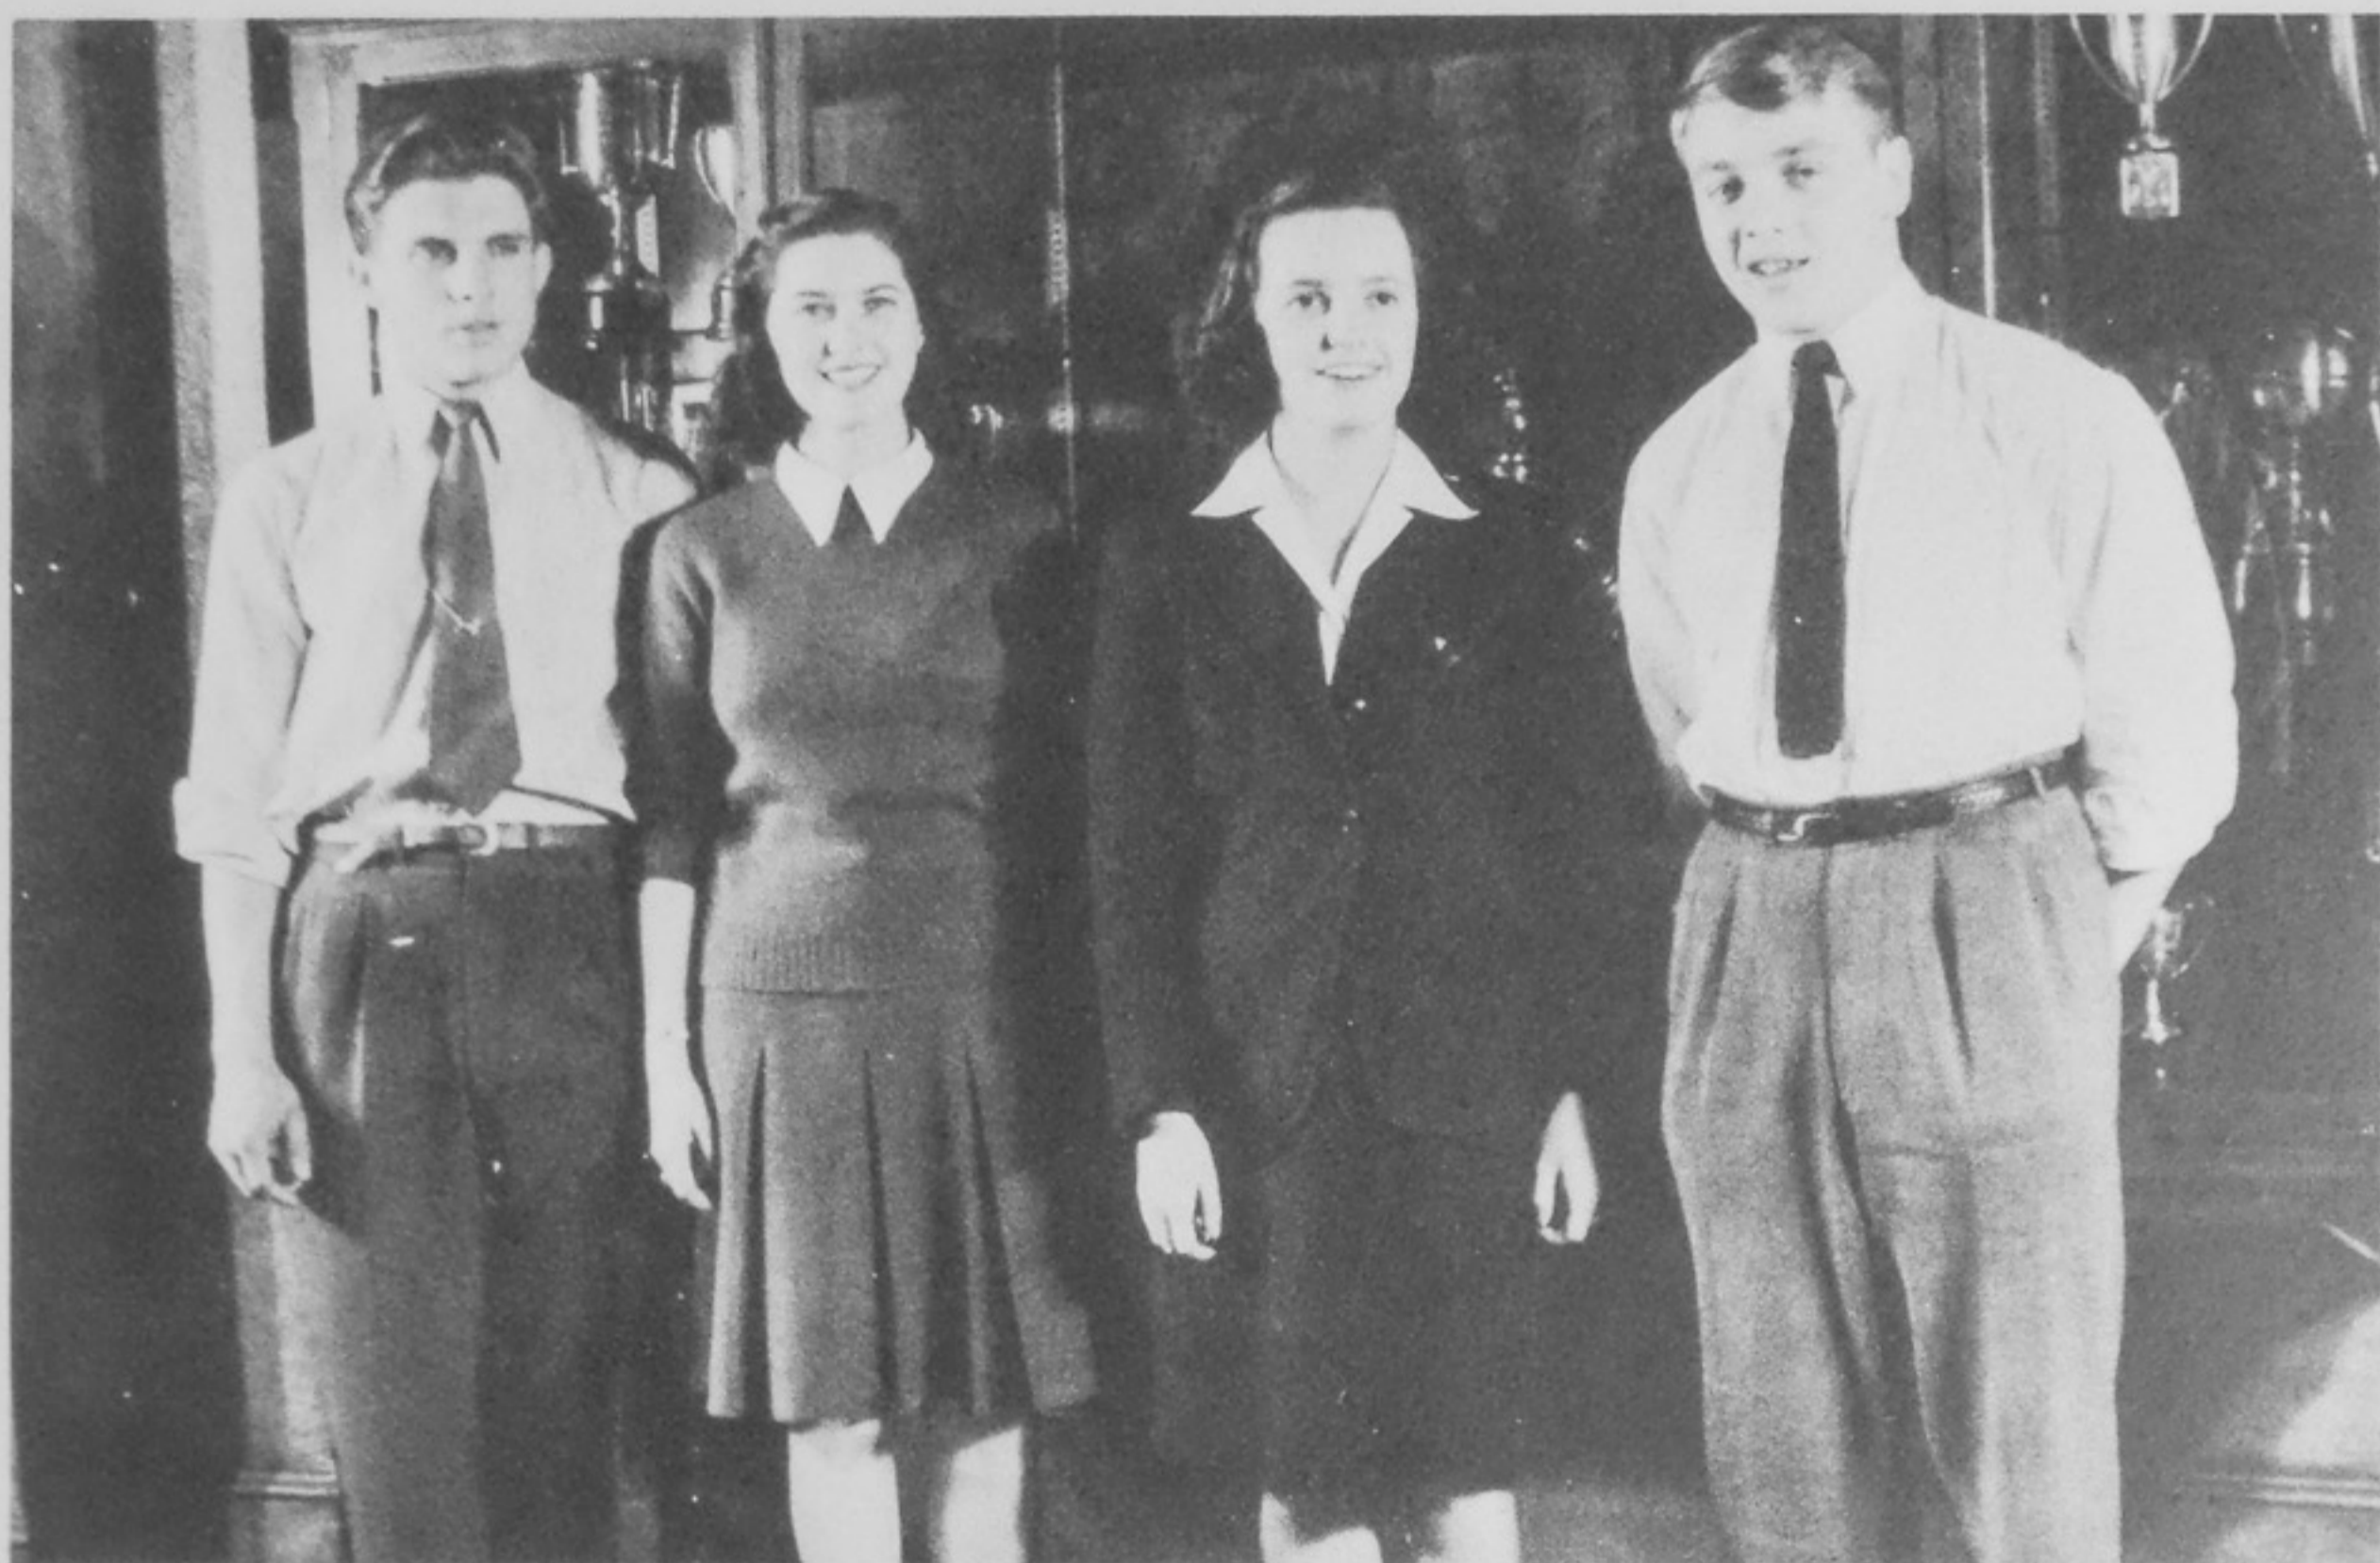

Below Mr. Dallas and seated with a magazine is Miss Dorothy Waller. Miss Waller has a large collection of pottery at her home and she is very proud of her many pieces. The girls interested in Home Economics are taught cooking and nutrition rules by Miss Waller.

Miss Warren

At the bottom of the page is Miss Martha Warren who has a private collection of books as well as having charge of the school Library. Miss Warren has several other smaller collections, including bookmarks and baby shoes.

On these pages we have tried to show a few of the things that our faculty would like to do more of but which they have to put off in favor of their school work.

SENIOR CLASS

Entering high school in September, 1939, the class of '43 quickly and easily adapted themselves to a new environment and soon elected officers. The president chosen was Howard Baughman. Scoring various successes in minor attainments, in May the "frosh" reached the peak in entertainment with the annual skating party.

The next year this ever-ready group, now seasoned sophomores, displayed the same enthusiasm for their work. Early in the semester Glenn Russell was elected president. With the class officers to guide them, the committees sponsored a very original sophomore dance.

As upper classmen, these juniors instituted uniform class rings. An election showed Edgar McCall to be official leader of the group. Miss Mary Krausz was chosen sponsor. The junior activity calendar offers a wide variety of things to do and this class eagerly undertook all ventures, large and small. Many were selected for membership in the National Honor Society. The junior "sweater dance" was a novelty, while the play, "Reserve Two for Murder", proved to be something different in class plays. Bill Pressler was made prom chairman and the preparations got under way for the biggest event of the junior year.

Returning to school with a world at war, the seniors "got down to brass tacks" and launched a patriotic campaign. Many students helped with different types of rationing; boys joined the country's armed forces; and all did their best to aid the cause. Edgar McCall was again elected president with Jack Mac Donald, vice-president; Charlotte Perkinson, secretary; and Ruth Anne Kendall, treasurer. A senior dance was held; the class play, "Eyes of Tlaloc", played to two large crowds; and committees for graduation were chosen. The prom was given for the departing seniors; caps and gowns were fitted; and then came baccalaureate services. After the long awaited commencement, the seniors looked forward to new fields to conquer.

Senior committees are chosen each year to assist in planning for graduation. Seniors are ranked individually on a scholarship basis. The duty of the grievance committee is to check the records in case of a mistake or misunderstanding. After the announcement committee has selected five samples each Senior votes for his choice and a uniform announcement is selected. It is the responsibility of the cap and gown committee to take measurements and to do the clerical work for checking the apparel. Last of all, the Commencement and Baccalaureate committee attends to the decorating and planning for the Baccalaureate service and the Commencement exercises.

JUNIOR CLASS

*T*WO years ago last fall a new class entered the portals of P.H.S. To insure a good beginning they elected Eugene Fultz as president. As freshmen they conducted a skating party and last year planned and held the Sophomore Victory Dance. They elected Tom Cross president.

This year we found this class hard at work toward high scholastic aims, journalistic adventures, and dramatic successes. Miss Henrietta Dupuy and Miss Ruth Hazlebeck guided their activities. They elected officers: William Middleton, president; John Spriggs, vice-president; Charlotte Knost, secretary; and George Zoellner, treasurer.

Many juniors attained high scholastic ratings and were taken into the National Honor Society. This year they tried a new system of publicizing school news, which was a column in the Portsmouth Times, under the heading of "As The Students See It". Of course the juniors selected a class ring. Several participated in the three one-act plays given by the Sirocco and Revellers Clubs. Of great dramatic interest was the Junior Class Play, "Double Exposure". Mr. Bert Leach directed an all-boys play, called "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party", to help raise money for the annual Junior-Senior Prom.

The Junior Dance was another means of making money for the prom. As a finale for this eventful year, the juniors entertained the seniors at this outstanding social event of the year which was held on May 28.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

SEPTEMBER of 1942 saw a new class of freshmen entering P.H.S. They were the proverbial "freshies" — again making all of the mistakes over which upperclassmen go into hysterics. After a short while the class officers were elected: Robert Gardner, president; James Breece, vice-president; Jeanne Dougherty, secretary; and Richard Hopkins, treasurer. Mr. Raymond Smith was chosen sponsor. The traditional freshman skating party was held, and it was a huge success. Also the freshman cheerleading squad proved to be a great help at the football and basketball games.

This year when school started most of them were back again, but this time they were hardened sophomores who could tease the "greenies" with the "greatest of ease". Officers again were elected, and this time they were: James Fout, president; Patricia Dunn, vice-president; Mary Ann Babcock, secretary; and Margaret Burks, treasurer. Mr. Smith was again chosen sponsor. The usual sophomore dance was planned for April 2, and it was quite a success. We know that if our sophomores keep on as they have been doing, P.H.S. will be proud of the class of '45.

Although the activity calendar for "first-termers" is limited, these boys and girls held a skating party which was a great success. For this reason, much will be expected of the class of '46 as it passes through the years here at P.H.S.

Jack MacDonald, Capt.
Senior Quarterback

After seeing their 13 point lead wiped out, the "never-say-die" Trojans pushed over a touchdown in the final minute of play to give a story-book finish that left 3,000 fans limp with excitement. Two long Flamer-to-Monk passes set up Boling's plunge in the second quarter for the first score. Boling again scored after Flamer's open field running and Wales' plunging carried the ball to Akron's one. Monk converted the extra point. Akron then marked up two quick touchdowns and both extra points to go ahead 14-13. Undaunted, Wales passed 23 yds. to Flamer, and on two plays Boling fought his way for 40 yds. to the nth inch line. With seconds left Flamer dove through the air for the winning goal. Whew!

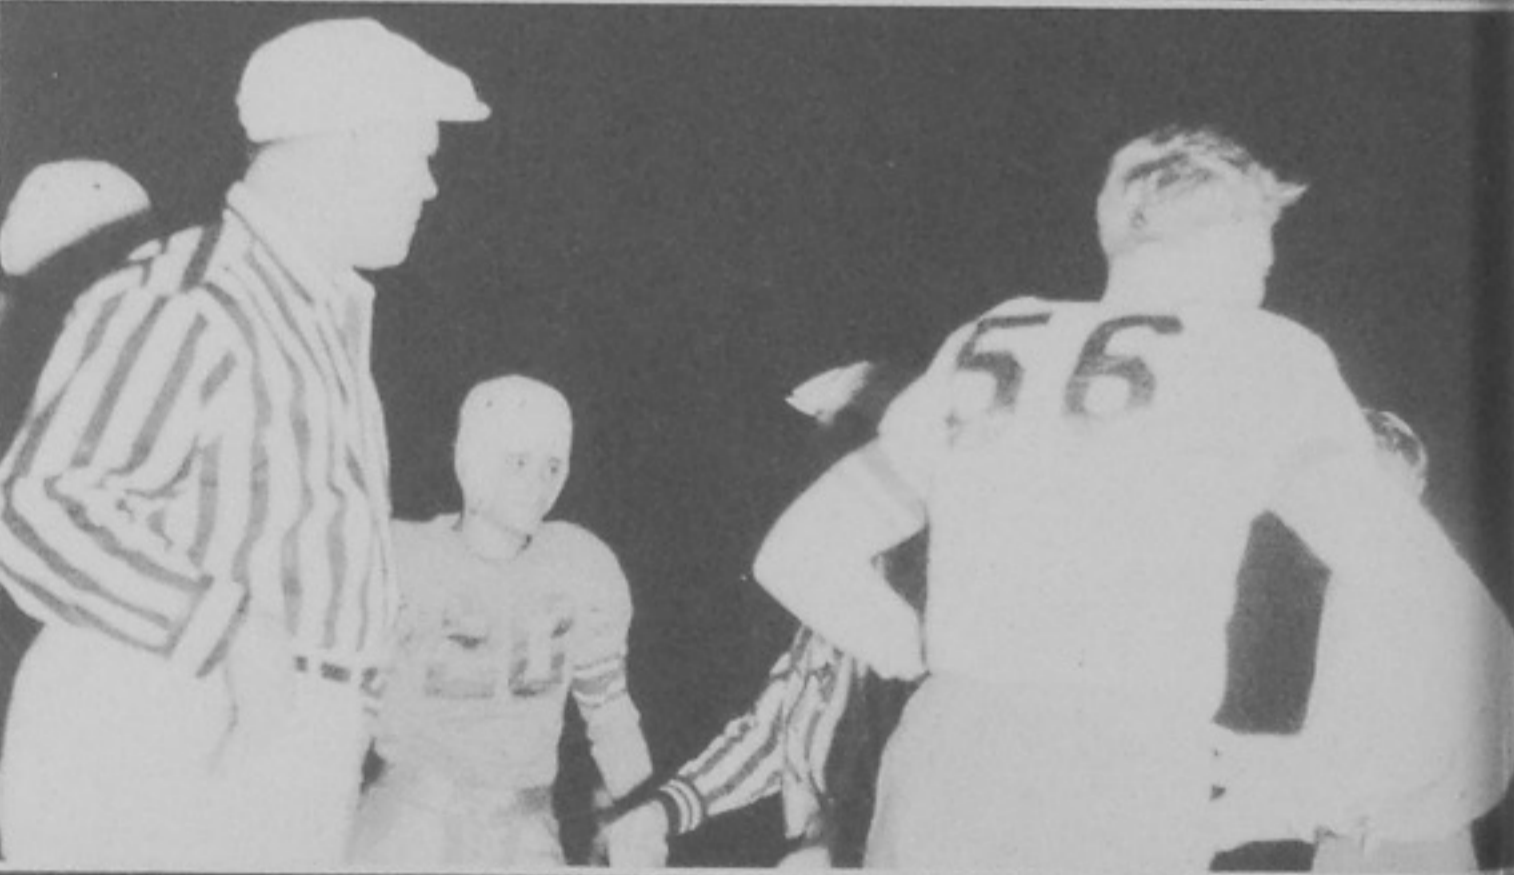

Playing most of the time in East territory, the Trojans could only push over one touchdown, an extra point, and get a safety while East smashed five unsuccessful goalward marches. In the second quarter after End Howard Coburn pounced on an East fumble on the Columbus 36, drives by Barber and Flamer placed the ball on the three. James Jones, substitute back, went over to score and Monk placekicked the extra point. In the third quarter East held another drive deep in their territory and risked some running plays. McKnight of East was smothered by Monk in his end zone for the two point safety. The East team only entered Trojan territory three times and had a net yard gain of 11 yds. from running plays, against 250 for the Trojans.

Outshining the victors by gaining 199 yds. from scrimmage to 152 for the Teddies, our boys lost their first game by a narrow one-point margin. The Trojans controlled the game except for two little jaunts by Claude Henley, Dayton's fullback, the first—58 yds., the second—52 yds. His first run on the first play after the kickoff was anteceded by Miller's place kick that meant victory. Then the Trojans buckled down and Danny Wales went over for a few big inches after Monk dived to catch a 45 yd. pass from Flamer. In the third quarter nine straight line plays netted 39 yds. with Wales covering the last 6 in. Monk and Flamer missed the two tries for an extra point. Midway in the final quarter Henley snatched the game out of the fire by his second sprint. 13 just wasn't in the books for the Trojans.

Making eight first downs to the Wildcats' seven, the Trojans scored the hard way while Springfield made just one touchdown in which a penalty was not the all-important factor. Without lifting a finger, the Wildcats were on our 20 yd. line by process of penalties. After blocking Flamer's kick, Springfield failed to score; but a penalty helped them and the second score came—12-0. Boling returned the ball to the 40; a temporary penalty took us back to the 15; and we went back to stay on the 2. Recovering a fumble by Wales, Springfield marched 17 yds. to make the score 26-0 in the third quarter. Jones, Barber, and Flamer carried the ball 52 yds. with the latter scoring and converting the extra point in the same quarter for our only drive.

Sporting a new offensive that found Flamer on the bench injured, the Trojans took the odd game of the three game series with the Highlanders. Defensively our line stood like Stalingrad from end to end. In the second quarter Jones, Boling, and Wales lugged the pigskin for 62 yds. with Boling scoring on the old Statue of Liberty play. Monk's kick was good. With one minute in the half, Boling eased down the sidelines 40 yds. for the second score. At the outset of the third quarter, Jones was trapped after going after a bad pass for a safety and two points for East. Wales picked up 25 yds. and the Trojans pounded forth 'til Boling plunged through for the third touchdown. Monk converted from placement. The final score was made after Monk had recovered his second fumble. Wales, Reeg, and Boling went the 26 yds. with Reeg scoring. Monk's kick was again good.

Whitewashed and not able to muster an offensive, the red and blue faded in the third quarter as the Middies pushed over two quick touchdowns. The first half, mostly defensive on the part of the Trojans, had two beautiful goal line stands by Portsmouth. The third quarter found the first touchdown made after a 70 yd. sustained drive by Middletown. Soon after a 35 yd. pass brought the last score of the game. The Trojans never advanced any further than Middletown's 20 yd. stripe. This loss gave the Middies a one game advantage in the eleven game series.

Statistics again gave the edge to the Trojans — 10 first downs to 3 for Mansfield; but this away-from-home jinx worked overtime. To start the game two pass-play mixups of the Trojans gave two interceptions to the Tigers, and led to as many touchdowns. After Burton partially blocked a punt on the Mansfield 7, it was recovered on the 3, and Wales sneaked over to score. Monk booted the extra point. The third quarter opened with the Tigers recovering a Trojan fumble on our 21 yd. line. They promptly broke through and scored. Two minutes later Mansfield took the ball on the Portsmouth 15 after a short kick against the wind. Some "razzle-dazzle" netted the last touchdown from this position. Bill Lewis, a former Portsmouth boy, kicked all four extra points for Mansfield.

Playing the first double-bill in their history, the Trojans easily defeated a heavier Tartan team in two quarters 16-0. Two runs by Boling for 70 yds. gave Portsmouth its first touchdown after receiving the kick-off. Center Tom Williams blocked two East kicks keeping them from invading Trojan territory even once. In the second quarter a 51 yd. march with Flamer going over netted the last touchdown. Both of Monk's kicks were good. Later, as Henderson of East attempted to kick from deep in his territory, a bad pass went into the end zone and gave a safety to the blue and red. The Tartans were powerless gaining only 24 yds. to the Trojans' 233 yds., but their job was to wear the victors down for the second ensuing half and a fast Central team.

A fresh Titan team, although losing 7-6, gained a moral victory over a tired Trojan eleven in the last two quarters of the twin-bill. In the opening plays speedster Ed Schmidt of Central slipped through tackle and ran 83 yds. for the first score. His pass to Ferrante was long for the extra point. A couple of plays later after the kick-off, Flamer dashed 57 yds. to score, and Monk made his night perfect by kicking the winning goal. The Titans staved off three more Trojan drives and were heaving long passes to threaten to score at the end of the game.

Close to 3000 fans were in the stands as rival bands cut up; the home-coming queen, Alice Duncan and her attendant, Jeanne Newman, were presented; the players' moms and dads were honored; seniors played their hearts out in their last game; and, oh yes, Ironton was beaten! Two breaks for Portsmouth led to the first two touchdowns. After recovering a fumble, Boling slashed over from the five to score. At the end of the quarter Barber scored after Monk recovered another Tiger fumble in the pay-off territory. Unable to score up close (losing the ball on the 1 and 6 yd. lines) the Trojans made good in the third quarter as Reeg, aided by perfect blocking, returned a punt 64 yds. to score. Monk's kick was good to end the scoring. The season thus ended with five victories, three out of town losses, and one home loss. Billy Southworth, manager of the baseball world champion St. Louis Cardinals, spoke at the annual banquet. Don Monk was given honorable mention on the All-Ohio high school team.

Freshman Learn Fundamentals

This year an eager group of Trojan yearlings entered Coach Fred Multer's squad. The boys soon learned that Coach Multer stressed the fundamentals of blocking, tackling, punting, passing, etc. In the ensuing weeks while practicing these, many a young Trojan tasted the dust and mud of Labold Field. Throughout the season the Freshmen played four games—two with Sciotoville and two with Portsmouth Central. Although the boys did not win, they offered tough competition for the Sciotoville and Central Catholic Reserves. The second game with Central ended in a 6 to 6 tie.

VARSIITY BASKETBALL

Willard Ellsesser, head coach, and Charles Lorentz, assistant and reserve coach, crossing out another name on the varsity list.

The Trojan basketball squad, even though weakened by the loss of five seniors that graduated at mid-year and the injury of the star center, Don Monk, finished the 1942-43 season with a record of eight wins and twelve losses. The climax to the season's play was the fine showing made by the spirited Trojans in the tournament at Grant gym and Athens, Ohio. Greenfield and Portsmouth High Schools represented the southern half of the southeastern district in the finals at Athens. After losing to Marietta in the semi-finals, the Trojans outclassed a strong Chillicothe team by a score of 57 to 38. The improved showing in the tournament play was chiefly due to the splendid spirit of the entire squad. Don Monk, center, was high point man for the season with a total of 138. Joe Barber was second with 82, and Harry Kinney, third, with 76. The Trojans scored 574 points to the opponents' 695.

With the return of several varsity and reserve letter winners, Portsmouth High School can look forward to an improved record on the hardwood court next season. Joe Barber was the only senior on the squad. Bill Reeg earned a gold medal for being the only three-year letter winner. Frank Berry, Bennie Boling, Wm. McKinney, Don Monk, Sherril

Meyers, and Richard Smith, manager, won silver medals for their two years of service. Letter winners were: Joe Barber, J. R. Jones, Mathew Johnson, Wm. Newman and managers, Richard West, George Ashley and Nickey Helmsin.

The reserve squad, most of whom will be varsity players next year, ended with a season record of eight wins and three defeats. These boys are likely candidates for the varsity: David Doll, Ray Eisnaugle, Calvin Flamer, Richard Hopkins, Gilbert Lakeman, and Marvin Triggs.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Under the supervision of Coach Fred Multer, the frosh cagers put up a good showing during the season. Although they won only one game in their nine-game schedule, the opponents sported larger and more experienced teams.

Some of the teams which the Tots played were: Green Township, Sciotoville, Central Catholic, Clay Township and South Portsmouth reserves. At the end of the season the players were awarded basketball letters. The basketball managers are pictured below.

INTRAMURAL and CLASS BASKETBALL

Two Intramural Leagues, playing games after school in the boys' gym, gave exercise and recreation to two hundred boys. Twenty-four teams participated. In the Independent League, composed of eight teams, the Spartans were the winners, while in the Homeroom League, made up of sixteen teams 205 took the honors. Mr. Howard McMains had charge of the intramurals.

The "Big Termites" won the boys' class tournament. Winning teams of the regular class league games in which over 400 boys participated, played the tournament in the gym. The finals between the "Rangers" and the "Big Termites" were played in Grant gym.

HOCKEY

The veteran senior hockey team not only won the hockey title, but they could also brag that their goal had never been crossed during the season. They downed the juniors, 9-0; the sophomores, 4-0; and the freshmen, 7-0. The high-spirited sophomores were second—trouncing the juniors, 2-0; and the freshmen, 6-0. The juniors had one win of the season when they won from the freshmen 6-0. Although the freshmen were defeated in all games theirs is a team which promises to be a winner in the next year or two.

BASKETBALL

When the 1943 girls' class basketball came to an exciting close, the ever powerful Senior team emerged without a single loss to their record. The mighty Junior team came in second with two losses to their name, both to the Seniors. Coming in third was the fighting Sophomore team, with the "never give up" Freshmen winning no games.

The Seniors played the Freshmen in an exhibition game during the "back to school night."

VARSIITY BASKETBALL

After two exciting and hard played games the Blue Varsity team won both contests from the Reds. As in previous years the teams were chosen by Miss Bell from the four class teams, as the select players. Both teams played "bang-up" ball which accounted for the two close matches. Although the Red team played a good game, the Blue team proved to be more powerful by capturing the championship.

VOLLEYBALL

The surprise of the season came when the quick-thinking sophomore team captured the volleyball championship without a loss. Running a close second was the senior team with only one loss to the sophomores. The juniors wound up in third place with the freshmen having no wins. The finale of volleyball was when Miss Bell chose four girls from each team, who in turn selected four boys to play in the mixed volleyball tournament.

Instead of having the usual class softball teams, Miss Bell continued last year's plan of having as many girls as want to get a team together, join a league. There are three leagues, just as in major league baseball, with one manager over each league. These managers see to it that there is an umpire, ball and bat, and someone to keep score at every game.

A formal induction of new members of the Girls' Athletic Club was held in the school library under the direction of Miss Charlotte Bell. Officers for the year were: Joan Salladay, president; Carolyn Williams, vice-president; Joanne Werner, secretary; and Jean Baily, treasurer. The girls of the G.A.C. served at the Trojan Football Banquet in the fall of the year. In December the club put on a play at B assembly with Guidance Week prevailing throughout. The play was directed by Mary Ann McCauley.

TENNIS

Due to the lack of transportation and war conditions, the high school dispensed with the usual tennis team this year. However, a tournament of doubles open to all interested players was held. Shown on this page are players who played in the tournament, and who played on the team last year.

Organizations

Our high school band of 1943, ably directed by Mr. Kenneth Anderson, has encouraged the football team, inspired the basketball team, and in general, put no ceiling on music during this wartime year. However, because of gasoline rationing, the only town lucky enough to see one of the spectacular performances of this organization was Springfield. In spite of the war, the band gave two assemblies and held its annual concert on May 31.

ORCHESTRA

The Portsmouth High School Orchestra, an organization prominent ever since this school was founded, has an interesting list of activities for the year. It entertains the audience before and between acts of school plays and accompanies the Glee Club in its annual operetta production. The orchestra plays patriotic songs when a group of foreigners become naturalized. On several occasions the musicians entertained groups of people with dinner music.

The orchestra plays at the Baccalaureate service which is held every year for the graduating seniors, and their last great performance, at the end of another school year, is for the Commencement exercises. Mr. Kenneth Anderson, director of this group, must be given credit for these fine orchestral performances.

Members of the orchestra include: Sarah McQuain, Barabara Brandel, Ann Diener, Ruth Eastwood, Olive Royse, Rosemary Clausing—violin; Zelma Edwards, Delores Carr, Betty Jenkins—viola; Richard VanMeter—cello; Herman Rigley—string bass; Helen Scott—piano; Joan Richey, Robert Frazier—flutes; Howard Harcha, Bill Combs—clarinets; Betty Snook, Marilyn Farris—French horns; Bill Wagner, Jim Marsh—trumpet; Robert Powell—trombone; and Edward Slaughter—drums.

The Glee Clubs and the High School Choir are under the capable direction of Miss Beth Moore. Miss Moore attended Miami University and received her B. A. degree from Ohio State University.

The High School Choir consists of voices selected from the Senior Glee Club and the Junior Glee Club. Any boy attending high school may join the Boys' Glee Club. The Junior Glee Club is limited to those girls who have had at least one year of training in the Junior Glee Club. A new group of singers has also been organized this year. From the Junior Glee Club and the choir are selected experienced voices for the Girls' Ensemble. This group sings for various club meetings and organizations during the year.

SYNOPSIS
Bob Kent, young inventor of a new color process, Verticolor, intends to sell it to Mr. Norton, President of Quadrangle Pictures. On the day of the sale, the machine, because of work on the part of someone who wishes him to fail, breaks down. Because of work on the part of the studio in a week, Bob, with the help of his friend Windy Byron, Mr. Norton's daughter, Marcia, and a few faithful stars, makes another picture, captures the copyright, and sells his process to Quadrangle Pictures.

SENIOR HONOR COUNCIL

The Senior Honor Council is a group of senior girls selected for their outstanding scholastic ability and personality to serve as "big sisters" of the freshman girls of the school. It is the duty of the members of this organization to aid these newcomers to become accustomed to high school life and to be contributing factors in the progress of the school. Mary Jane Noel served as chairman of the council, and Miss Margaret Woodburn was the sponsor.

The club first sponsored the Freshman Mixer, at which the "big sisters" were introduced to their freshman groups. This was followed by an assembly at which the council members familiarized the freshman girls with the various clubs of the school. Two important social events were the Mother-Daughter Banquet given on December 2 and the Senior Tea on February 11. Mrs. Clarence Feil was guest speaker at the tea. At the end of the year an assembly was held for the announcement of next year's Link Girl and Senior Honor Council.

GIRLS'

LEAGUE

Standing:

Seated:

R. A. Kendall, B. Robinson.

The Girls' League, the only club to which all the girls of the high school belong, has been very active this year. The purpose of the organization is to promote a spirit of comradeship among the girls. The officers for this year were Jane Day, president; Janice Apel, vice-president; Joan Lathouse, secretary; and Marylee Ruggles, treasurer. Miss Margaret Woodburn acted as sponsor.

Pianists were Helen Scott and Betty Robinson, while Patty Denton and Ruth Anne Kendall served as songleaders. The committees and their chairmen were as follows: social, Martha Moore; program, Louise Tremper; membership, Janice Apel; health, Betty Hewitt and Ruth Cooper; and publicity, Ann and Ruth Diener.

At the beginning of the year membership tickets were sold. This was followed by the "Beat Ironton" Tea Dance on the afternoon of November 12, and during the Christmas season the Carol Sing was sponsored. On March 12 came the Girls' Tag Sport Dance, which featured a floor show composed of Quinn Snyder, Eddie Purdy, and Dottie Pendergrass. The social highlight of the year was the Coed Prom on April 30. This "girls-take-boys" affair was a formal dance which all the girls of the school were privileged to attend. Lou Martin's orchestra provided dance music in a clever and unusual prom setting.

The Student Council of Portsmouth High School is the governing body of the school. Every homeroom is represented by its president. Early in the year officers elected were: Bill Daehler, president (pictured at right); Mary Anne Babcock, secretary; Catherine Marting, corresponding secretary; and Betsy Ross Donohoe, treasurer (not pictured). Mr. Smith acted in the capacity of an advisor.

This year Student Council sponsored drives for materials vital to national defense. On Monday evening, February 1, the members arranged a "Back to School Night" for the parents. Each homeroom president acted as a guide for persons unfamiliar with the building. Added to the social events of the Council were several dances.

Excellence in scholarship and craftsmanship has been the aim of many people in every generation in recorded history. As a result of the many achievements made in early life, a number of individuals have attained outstanding success in later life.

Portsmouth High School is devoted to the promotion of achievement by its students. In the senior class of this high school, there are many students who distinguish themselves by their perseverance and success in their studies. It is fitting that these individuals should receive special recognition.

Approximately ten percent of this year's graduating class has been designated as the Senior Honor Roll. The students who are thus honored were selected by a point system. Each was required to have at least a 1.5 average; that is, an average of A for the four years of high school attendance.

The Revellers, senior dramatic club of Portsmouth High School, have enjoyed another successful year as one of the most popular groups in school. Its purpose is to promote interest in acting and dramatics among the students and to provide the opportunity for them to display their talents for the entertainment of the public, as well as for the student body. The following officers were chosen for this year: president, Glenn Russell; vice president, Bob Foster; secretary, Martha Jane Dodds; and treasurer, Martha Moore. Mr. Bert Leach served as sponsor for the club.

The main event of this year was the presentation of three one-act plays on January 29, by the Revellers and Sirocco clubs combined. They were: "Submerged," with Bob Foster, Earl Hayes, Bob Lenhart, Kenny Watkins, Bill Potts, and Rolland Scott in its cast; "Call It A Day," with the cast composed of Mary Anne McCauley, David Ladd, Barbara Webb, Katherine Blaine, Rhoda Lawson, Ralph Baker, Elsie Ralston, Vera Scamyhorn, Martha Dodds, Louise Tremper, Glenn Russell, Tom Cross, Charlotte Knost, Alberta Elkins, Mary Lee Ruggles, Joan Lathouse, Marilyn Watkins, Charles Kaut, Morris Gall, Joan Shelton, and Martha Moore; and "Undertow," with Jarlath McMahan, Betty Curnutte, Esther McQuain, Anne Duvendeck, Betty Jane Kiser, Pauline Allison, Betty Ann Kah, Helen Herdman, and Catherine Marting.

SIROCCO

The school year of '42-'43 witnessed the founding of a new club, the Sirocco. Its members are juniors who are interested in the drama—theory and practice. Mr. Bert Leach was selected as sponsor, and at the first meeting, on October 26, officers were elected. They were: Barbara Webb, president; Tom Cross, vice-president; David Ladd, secretary; and Alice Dickson, treasurer. The most important activity of the year came on January 29, when the club combined efforts and resources with the senior dramatists, the Revellers, to present a program of three one-act plays.

PLUS ULTRA

Again this year Miss Margaret Ball guided the members of the Plus Ultra in their search for Latin culture and entertainment. As before, the members are third and fourth year Latin students, and at mid-semester second year students who had maintained at least a C average became eligible for membership.

The programs, arranged by special committees, were especially interesting. They included plays, skits, and radio programs—all in Latin. At the Thanksgiving meeting donations of fruits and vegetables, in the form of sacrifices to the Roman gods, were presented by the members. Then the gifts were given to the Salvation Army.

Even officers of the group are designated by Latin terms. Consuls for the year were: Bob Foster, senior; and Albert Linck, junior—each serving a semester. Quaestors, in Roman times the "keepers of records," were Ruth Anne Kendall as secretary and Charlotte Knost as treasurer. At the last meeting, awards were given for highest scholarship and to the group presenting the most interesting program for the year.

INTER NOS

*I*nter Nos, under the able supervision of Miss Anna Blazer, contributed much in the past year to the promotion of interest in Latina Lingua. Membership was open to any first year Latin student. Officers for the year were: Jack Hughes, president; Bill Phillips, vice-president; Judy Pratt, secretary; and Betty Handley, treasurer. Meetings were held on the second Tuesday of each grading period.

Interesting programs were planned by committees of four, appointed by the president. Features of these programs of which the members seemed especially appreciative, included a fashion show of ancient Roman costumes, reports on Latin customs, quiz programs, Latin plays, and the singing of Latin songs.

ENGLISH CLUB

The English Club of Portsmouth High School this year has the privilege of being one of the largest clubs in the school. Membership in this club is open to all students of English. Its guiding purpose is to make the study of the English language both interesting and entertaining. The officers for this year were: David Ladd, president; Patricia Hendrickson, vice-president; Jean Scott, secretary; and Betty Snook, treasurer. The club sponsor was Miss Carrie Pfarr. The programs of this year's meetings included informative talks by Miss Ruth Haney and Miss Mary Elizabeth Schwartz, poems and stories by Mr. Bert Leach, and a playlet and carols at Christmas.

BUENOS VECINOS

This year the Spanish Club enjoyed the privilege of being one of the most important organizations in the country. Now, more than ever, Pan American Good Will is the vogue of the nation. The club chose as its officers: Bill Pissler, president; Bill Potts, vice-president; Carolyn Williams, secretary; and Don Webb, treasurer. Probably the most interesting meeting was the one concerning a Spanish Christmas. There were large pinatas filled with dulces (sweet things) and bon bones (bonos).

The name of the club is Los Buenos Vecinos (Good Neighbors) and the club has tried in every way to live up to its name. A drama was presented—"Noche del Año Nuevo"—(New Year's Eve) which was dedicated to a Spanish custom of bringing in the new year. A quiz about South America was presented under the direction of Ruth Cooper. Should we say, an American game with a Spanish accent?

On February 4th, the Spanish Club lost a very capable president to the navy. Miss Haney and the entire club felt a deep loss, but when Bill Potts, former vice-president, assumed the responsibility of president and Ruth Cooper became re-president.

BETTY LAMP CLUB

Mellow candle light, stately figures in the half-gloom—thus the new members of the Betty Lamp Club were welcomed with solemn formality this year. Any girl of the Home Economics Department who had attained 100 points was eligible for membership. The club is under the co-sponsorship of Miss Dorothy Waller and Miss Octavia Shinkle. Officers for this year were: Betty Hewitt, president; Betty Anderson, vice-president; Alberta Burns, secretary; and Emma Ruth Hart, treasurer.

The interests of the club were shifted this year from social gatherings to war-time problems and the home front in the war effort. This was carried out by reports, plays and demonstrations. The club gave a donation to the Red Cross Canteen; knitting needles and yarn were purchased and the members worked on an afghan, also for the Red Cross.

A Christmas dinner was given for the girls' mothers in the dining room. Preparation and decoration were attended to by the juniors and seniors; serving was by the sophomores, and the freshmen were responsible for the clean-up afterward.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Active interest has been taken this year in Chemistry Club, for at most of the meetings students have participated in the experiments and demonstrations. Some of these experiments centered about the making of rayon. The demonstrations were of practical use in our modern civilization. Mr. Edgar Massie, supervisor of the schools, was the guest speaker at one of the meetings. He discussed poison gases, their uses and effects in warfare. The club also gave an excellent assembly for the entire student body. Officers elected this year were: William Daehler, president; Earl Hayes, vice-president; Al Troxel, secretary; and Sarah Pack, treasurer.

JUNIOR RETAILERS CLUB

The end of the second year finds the Distributive Education Course an integral part of our curriculum. The seniors in this course combine their work in the local retail stores with technical classroom work so that they are well fitted for their chosen profession—selling.

This year over 80% of the students were employed 35 hours per week in their store work, for which they received one full credit. The other two credits of the course they earned in the classroom. The fourth credit of the regular student's schedule was an elective unit. Besides receiving school credit for their supervised store work, they will have earned an average of almost $400 apiece for their year's work. Many from the first year's class are now department heads or assistants. By graduation time every one in this year's class will be on a full-time selling job.

Juniors may enroll now in Principles of Retailing as a one-semester subject in order to gain necessary background information useful to them in the co-op work in their senior year. The students in this course form the Junior Retailers' Club which functions the same as all other clubs in our school.

JOURNALISM CLASS

Miss Mary Elizabeth Schwartz, faculty advisor, gives Tom Cross, Dave Ladd, Anne Duvendeck, and Pauline Allison "pointers" on newspaper writing.

Alice Dickson, James Singleton, Albert Linck, and Vera Scamyhorn type the articles.

Journalism as a curricular study was introduced this year and undertaken by thirteen eager juniors under the supervision of Miss Mary Elizabeth Schwartz, who had had previous journalistic experience. "As Students See It," a semi-weekly section in the Portsmouth Times, has been written and edited by these students with Anne Duvendeck as editor. Including regular English III work, this course developed clarity and brevity in the students' composition — essentials of newspaper writing.

Special effort was exerted to maintain a good balance in news, editorial, and feature writing; and each student received instruction in all types. The purpose of the course is to provide the community as a whole with a picture of school life and activities, but most important, to provide interested students with a basis for further college work in journalism.

Several sophomores were selected as apprentices during the second semester to carry on next year. These are: Raymond Buckley, Hubert Burris, Gene Dunn, Norma Henson, Paul Mitchell, and Joan Sutherland.

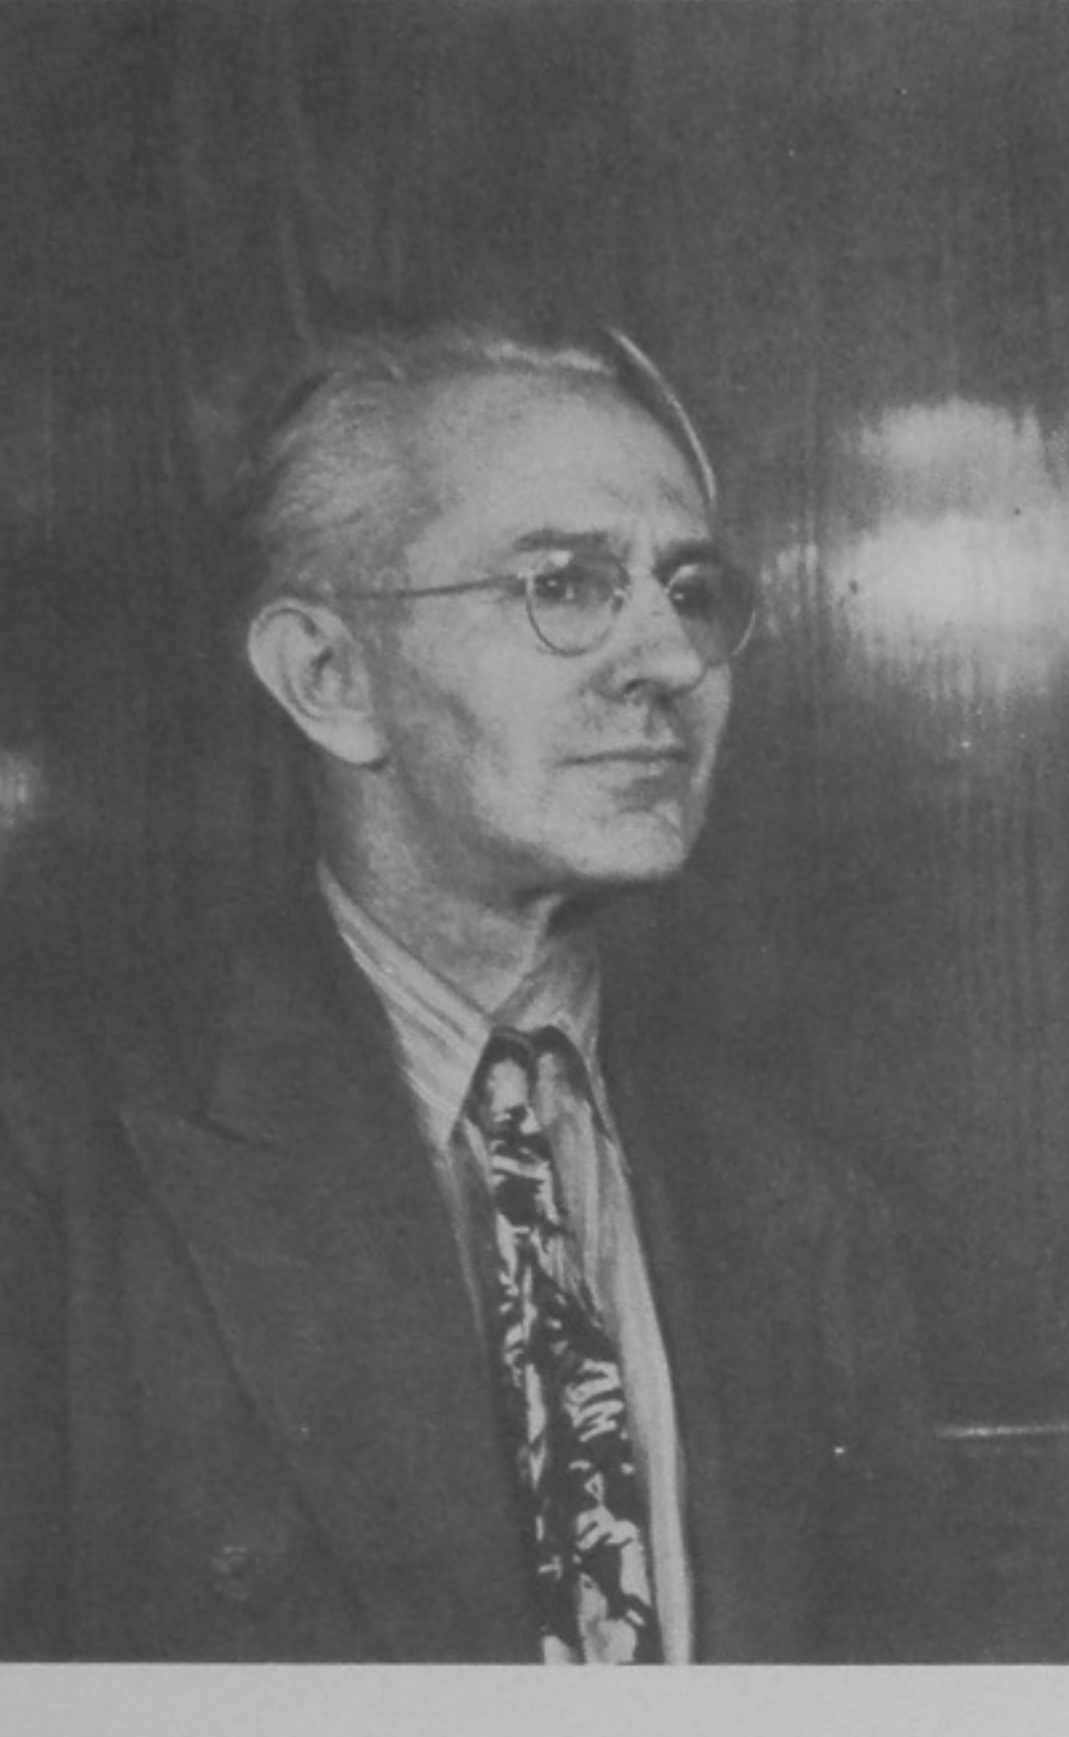

Maurice Cowdrey, Helen Herdman, Don Webb (standing) Barbara Webb, and Alberta Elkins type and learn to write "heads."

a psychiatrist's nephew who took his uncle's place. Complications set in and the sanatorium became a mirthful madhouse.

"Submerged," the first of three one-act plays given by combined Revellers and Sirocco clubs, was a tragedy portraying the last moments of the crew of a disabled submarine. "Undertow" was the startling disclosure of a jealous embittered spinster at a history club meeting of elderly ladies. "Call It a Day" reflected the trials of a doctor's wife, inexperienced in the medical profession. The senior class play, "The Eyes of Tlaloc," was an intricate mystery filled with secret passages, Aztec gods, and hidden treasure. The annual all-boy extravaganza was a mad jumble of pirates, zombies, and sweet old ladies. This wound up the season on a note of hilarity and success.

The driving genius behind six hits on the list of plays this year was the dynamic dramatic coach, Mr. Bert Leach. Bringing in a successful junior class play, "Double Exposure," as an opener for the season, Mr. Leach rapidly added "Christmas Trimmings," "Submerged," "Undertow," "Call It a Day," "The Eyes of Tlaloc," and triumphantly finished with the annual all-boy production, "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party." The junior class play was a parody on the adventures of Co-op Commercial seniors using office machines and indicating personal traits which are essential to the development of an employable personality.

Co-op Commercial students transcribing their shorthand notes and proving that they can "take it."

Co-op Commercial students learning in school how to follow instructions, to operate an adding machine, dictaphone, and to keep file records.

The Co-Op Commercial Program

Through the initiatory efforts of the Portsmouth Board of Education and Superintendent of Schools, Mr. W. Dennis Perkinson, together with the cooperation of Mr. E. L.

Heusch, State Supervisor of Vocational Trades and Industries, Cooperative Vocational Commercial Education was begun at Portsmouth High School, February 1, 1943. The Cooperative program bridges the gap between the school and work and provides an opportunity for the student to adjust himself to office routine as it exists in business. This program involves the employer, student employee, and the school. A work contract between the business employer and the school is established by Miss Dorothy M. Lillick, Coordinator of the program, and it is her duty to see that they all work together.

Mr. Heron Johnson, Harsha-Johnson Insurance Company, and Mr. Ralph Marting, Marting Bros., help adjust Commercial Co-ops to the complexities of office routine.

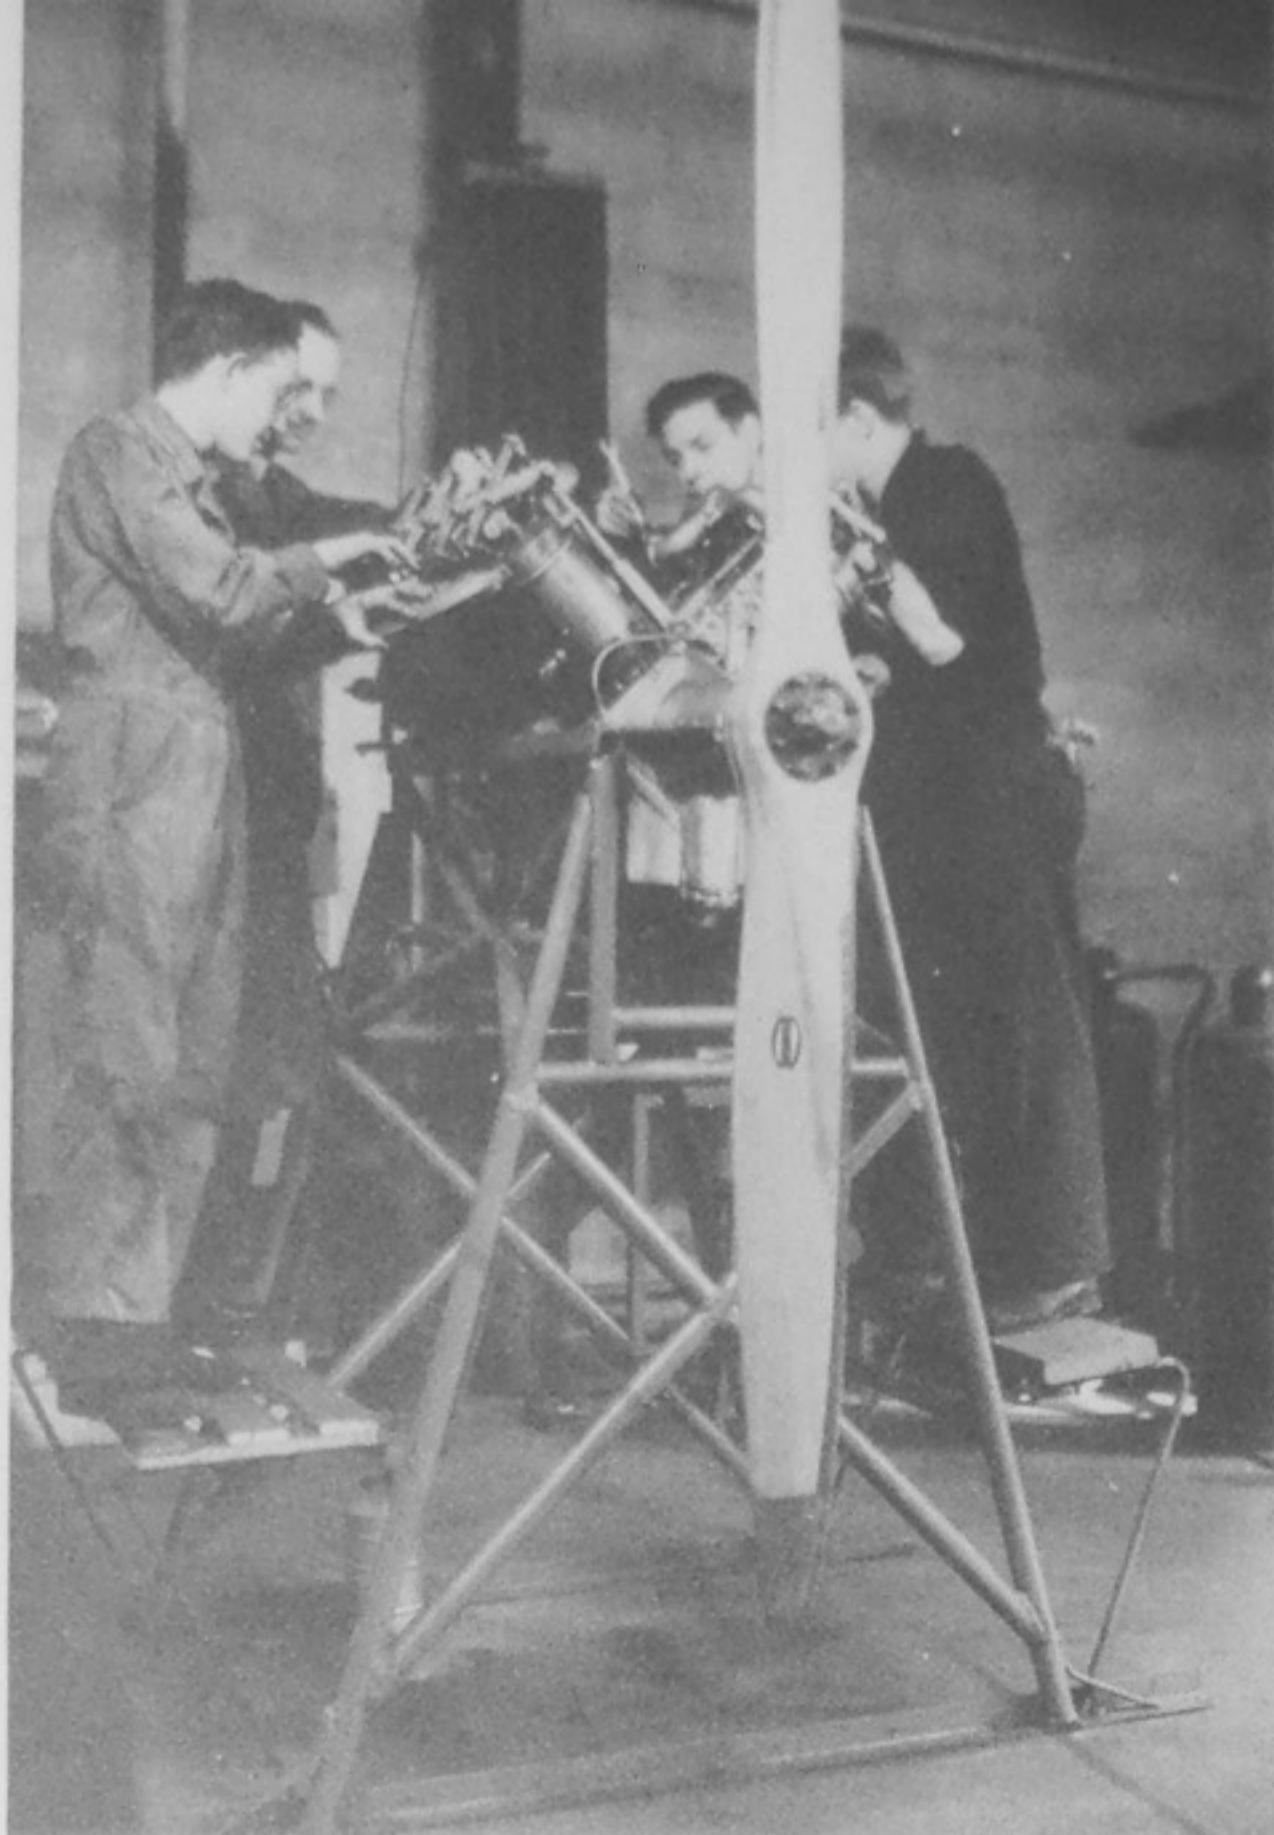

Mr. Charles Hollenbeck, Selby Shoe Company, is doing a good job instructing Commercial Co-ops to operate calculating machines in the Pay Department. Mr. O. Carson Barklow, County Engineer, pauses between letters dictated to a Commercial Co-op at his office in the Court House.

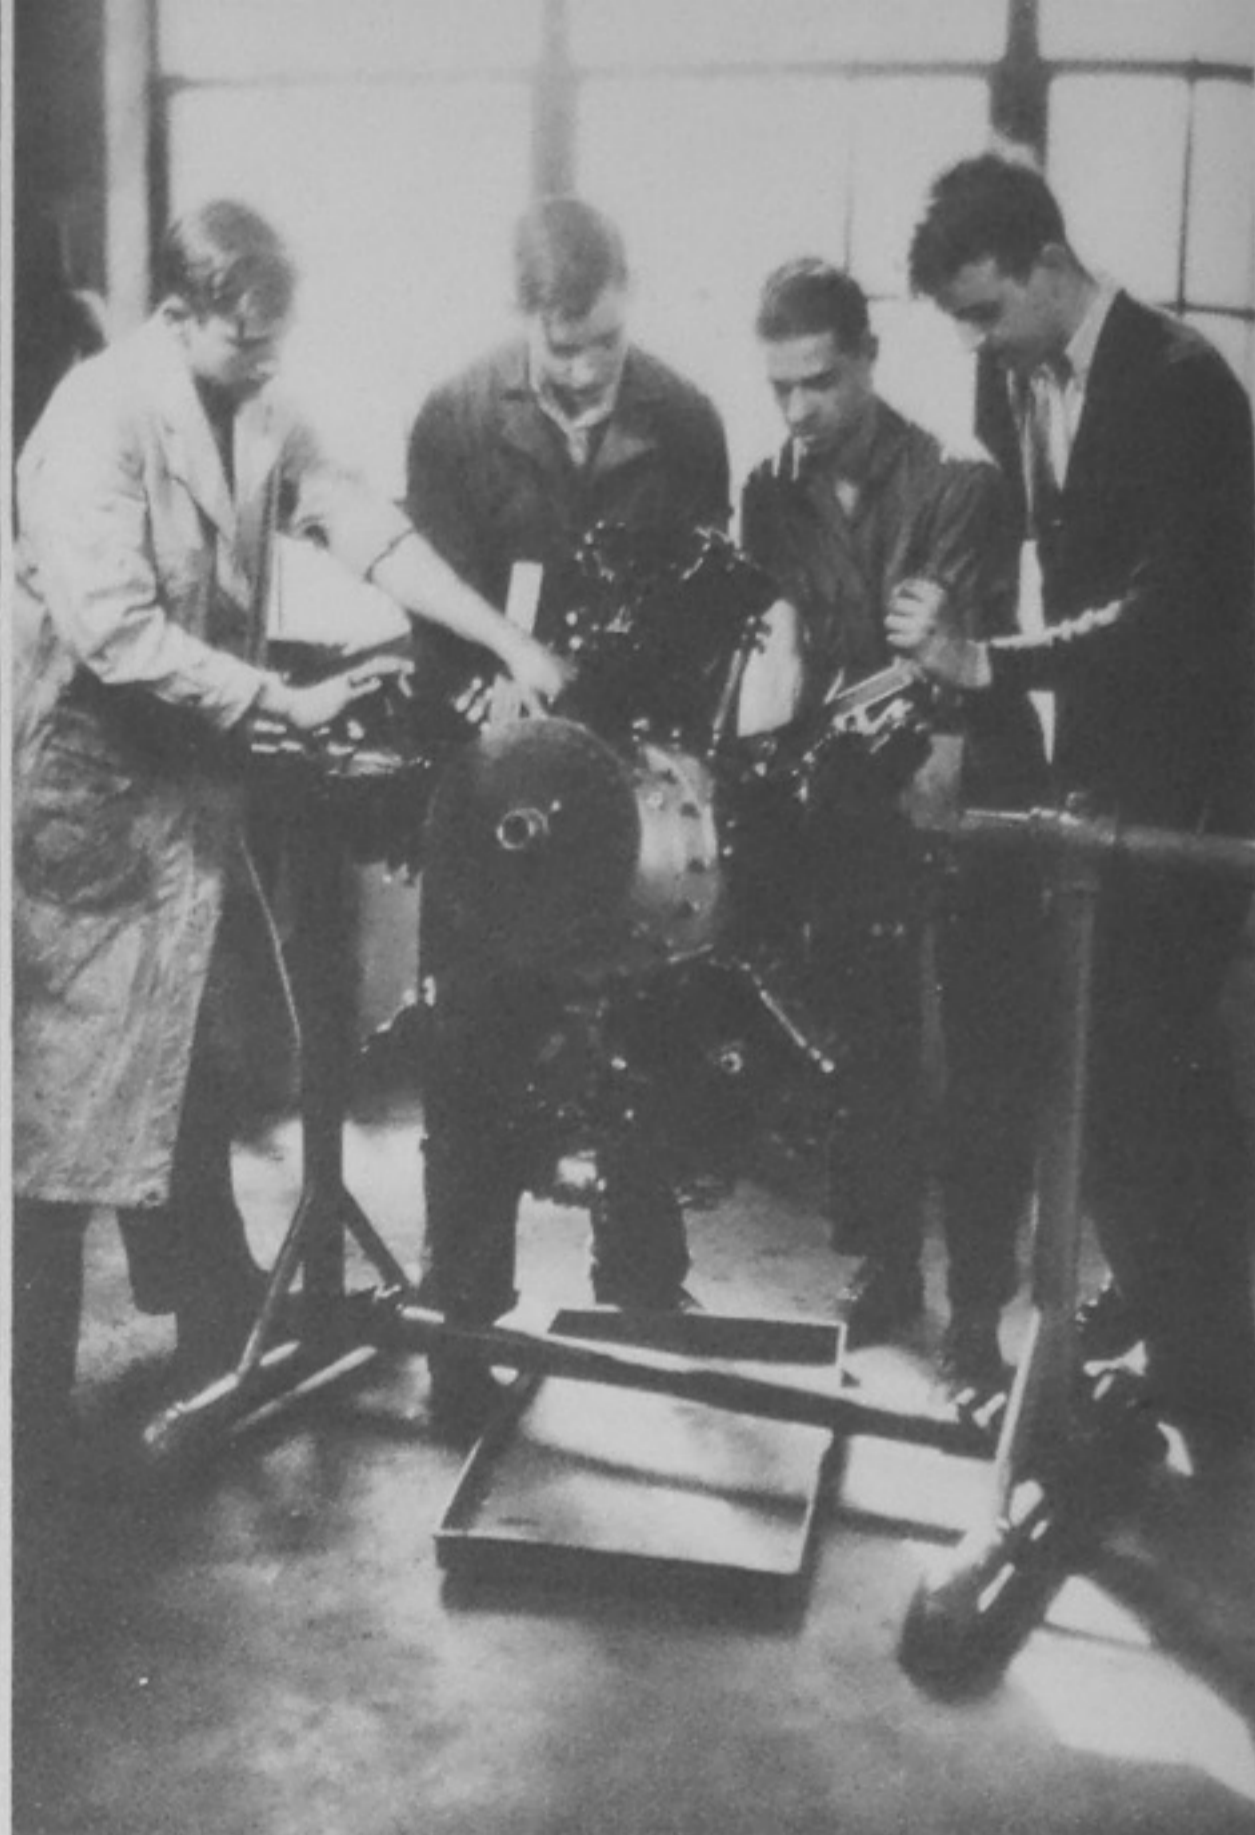

Commercial Co-ops study applied typing, dictation and transcription, business English, office techniques, and mathematics during their in-training period. Local businesses are cooperating with the school to help produce better trained office workers.

Judge Emory Smith finds time in his busy day at Probate to do his part in the training of better office workers. Mr. Earl Clayton, Laurel Biscuit Co., gives a Commercial Co-op actual experience by letting him handle his afternoon

Auto-Aeronautics students spend most of the eleventh year in the shop-study of auto engines. The entire twelfth year is devoted to the aero-plane engine. Sheet Metal students spend the eleventh year in general sheet metal work, and the twelfth year is directed toward aero repair. All trades students work three hours daily in the shop and two hours daily in the classroom studying related science, mathematics, and drawing.

Mr. Burkhardt checking accuracy of a production job performed on a lathe by two seniors.

The Milling Machine is one of the most complex machine tools. Instructor Dent Rowson observing two students on a milling job.

Each shop course is two years in length. Machine Shop students spend the eleventh and twelfth years in the study of basic machine tool use, care and operation. As in Sheet Metal and Auto-Aeronautics, the day is divided into three hours of shop and two hours of related subjects, i.e. machine science, machine mathematics and machine drafting.

The Vocational Trades and Industries Courses are open to boys and girls who have completed eight units of credit, including the courses prescribed for graduation from Portsmouth High School. Students completing the courses are graduated from the high school with the same credits as those earned in any other department.

Homeroom Treasurers

The Homeroom Treasurers attend to the sale of War Stamps, Bonds, Activities tickets, Trojans, etc.: A stamp plan, in weekly installments, made it convenient and possible for more students to purchase athletic tickets and Trojans this year. Sales by the students amounted to the following: Athletic Tickets, $1,025; Bonds and Stamps, $3,202.50; Trojans, $1,800.

War Stamps and Bonds are sold each week in the homerooms. Pictured above is the group of students in charge of the sales. The total for 1942-43 (when The Trojan went to press) was $3,202.50.

"Any Bonds Today?"

American Legion Essay Winners

In the annual American Legion Essay Contest this year, Oral Scott won the trip to Washington—all expenses paid. District winners receiving War Stamps as prizes were: Alice Bemse, William Daehler, Virginia Looney, Charlotte Perkinson, and John Bus. This is the second consecutive year that Portsmouth High School has had a state winner.

Corridor Monitors

The corridor monitors are on duty one period a day—a study hall. These boys are selected on the basis of conduct and efficiency. Some of their important duties are: (1) To direct all strangers to the Principal's office; (2) To check lockers; (3) To ask for hall passes from students in the halls during class time.

SCHOOL CALENDER

SEPTEMBER—1942

Students sizzle in September heat, as first wartime school year begins. Not only are the "freshies" bewildered this year, but seniors are confused by some of the changes . . . "F'rinstance" lunch will be held in two 45-minute periods this year . . . Assemblies are to be held during the fourth period . . . Something new has been added in the way of promoting school spirit . . . student activity tickets . . . Freshie girls get acquainted with their big sisters at the Freshman Mixer. Some of these "little sisters" are really cute, too!

OCTOBER:

Who says boys have a monopoly on bright colored plaid shirts? The feminine members of P. H. S. go in for "loud" colors too . . . Seems you have to have a tax stamp or a penny to get into the gym at lunch to pay for the "juke box." It's worth it, everyone agrees . . . Ed McCall, Bill Middleton, Jim Fout, and Jack Hughes are elected class presidents. Incidentally, Ed served as class president in his junior year, too . . .

Speaking of elections, it seems that Bill Daehler's going to have his hands full this year. He's president of National Honor Society, president of Chemistry Club and president of Student Council!

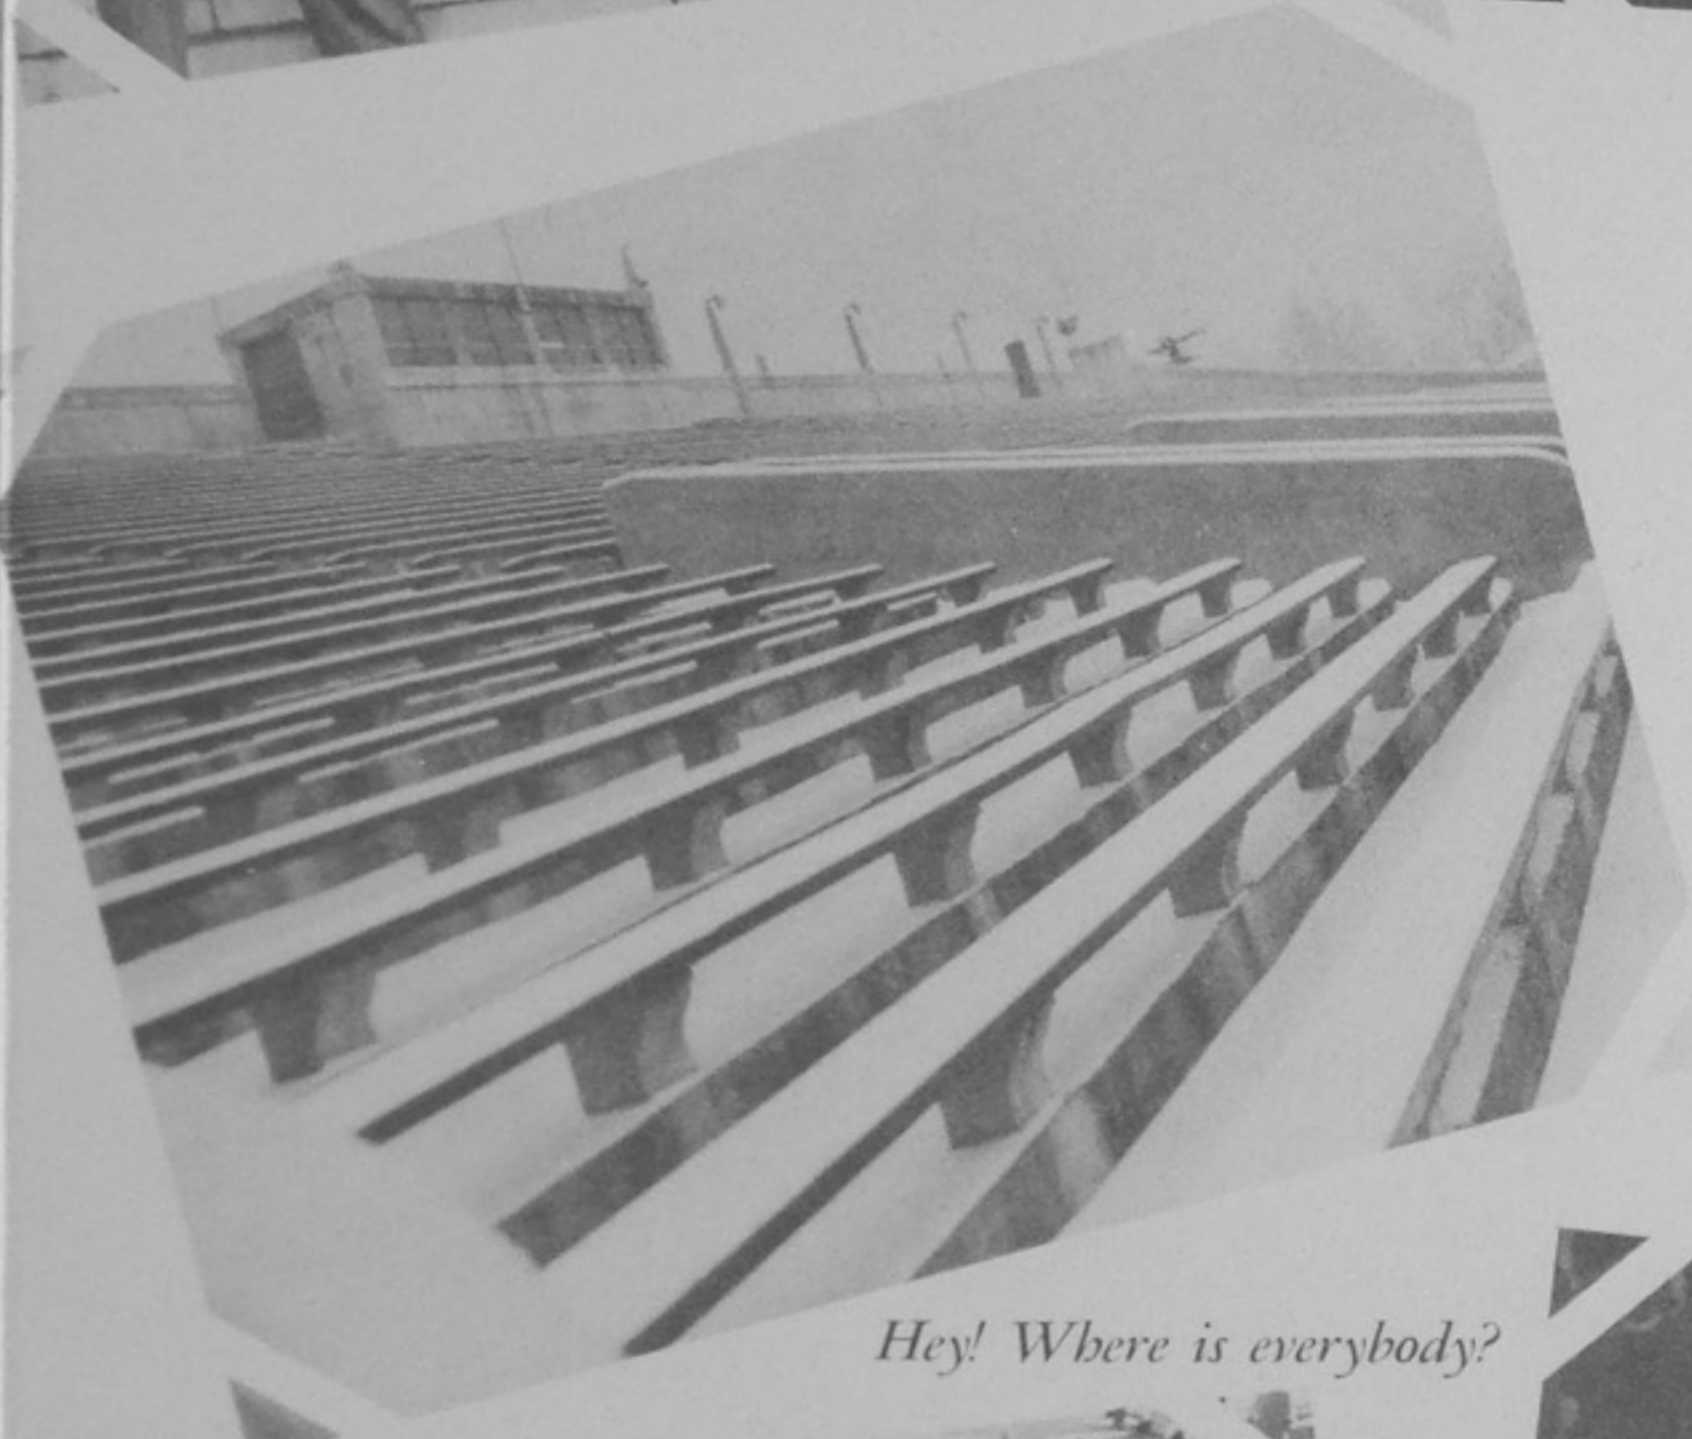

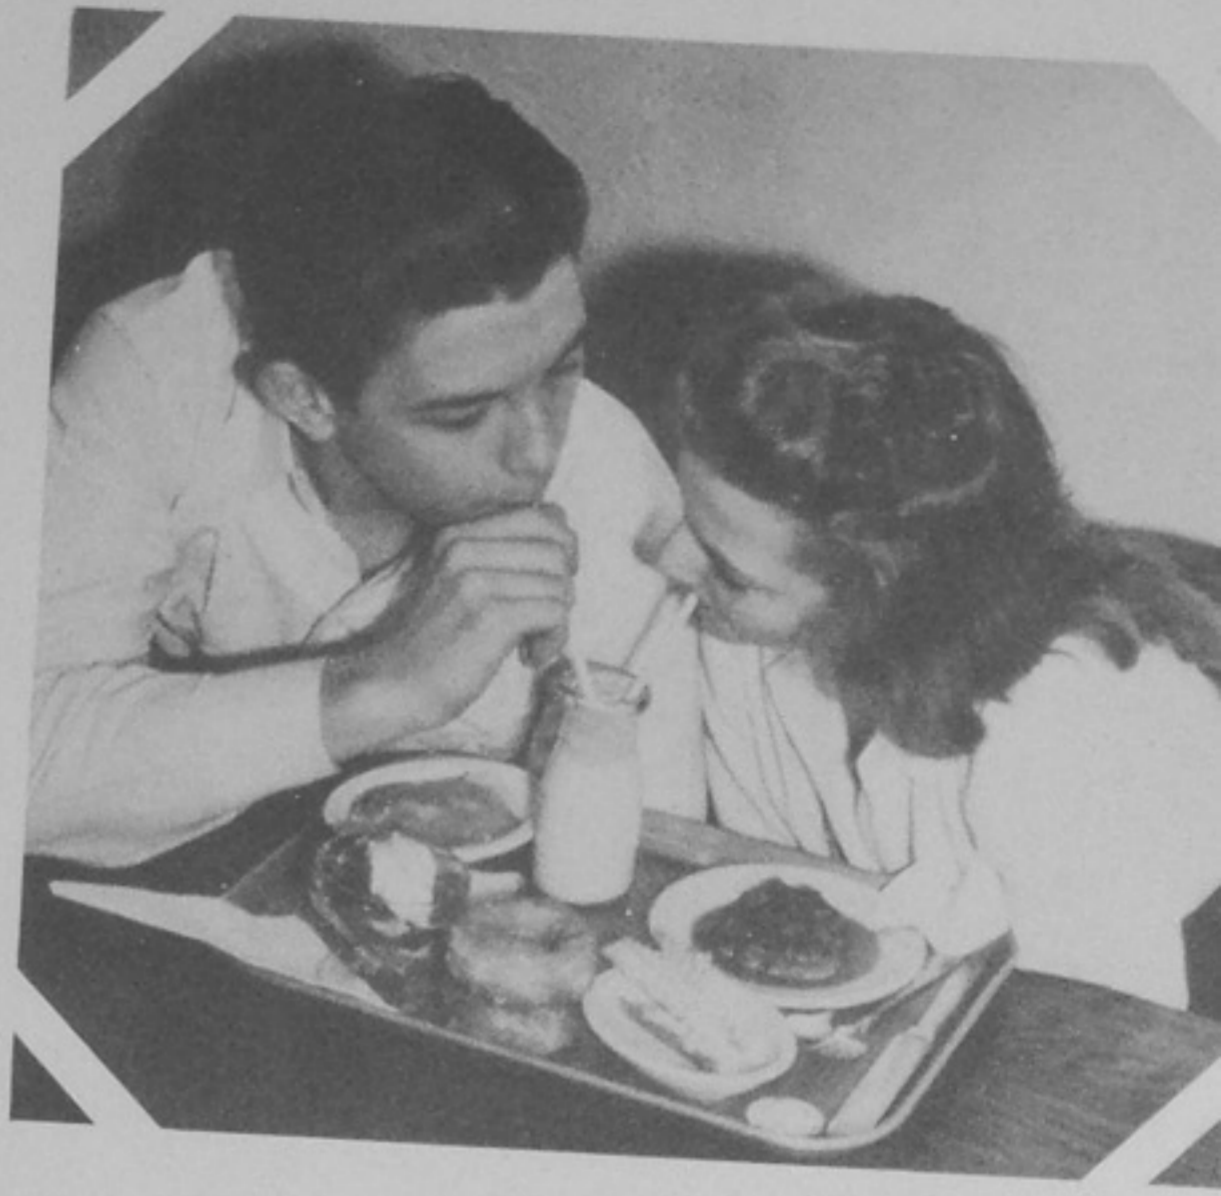

NOVEMBER:

A dull month gets off to a bright start with an interesting address given by Mrs. Clarence Feil at an all girls' assembly . . . Students sigh as gasoline rationing starts, but those helping with registration welcome week's vacation with no make-up work. By the way, does anyone know where you can buy a horse? . . . Trojan staff starts its campaign with a rousing assembly. Glenn Russell really raised the roof with that 1912 cheer . . . Homecoming queen, Alice Duncan, with Jeanne Newman as attendant, reigns at the Ironton football game . . . Senior Dance with Howard Harcha's orchestra proves very successful . . . Students eagerly welcome short Thanksgiving vacation. Turkey day is just being celebrated on one day this year, much to everyone's satisfaction.

Who says this is a man's world!

Food rationing

Hey! Where is everybody?

The end of a perfect (?) day

"My Sister and I"

DECEMBER:

Social Hygiene speaker, Mrs. Bertha Hess, speaks at three interesting assemblies the first week of December . . . Senior Honor Council gives a Mother-Daughter Banquet and according to both "gals" and "moms" it is a big success . . . Everyone gets a big kick out of "Double Exposure," the junior class play. Dave Ladd's moustache causes quite a sensation . . . Pupils put in a busy week taking English tests. Woe is us! . . . Girls get in the Christmas spirit with annual carol sing in the Auditorium. Everyone was convulsed as "Mert" Moore playing Santa Claus vainly tried to pass candy canes and keep her whiskers on at the same time . . . Glee Clubs give Christmas program of beautiful music. Where have you been keeping that wonderful voice, Annette?

JANUARY:

Everyone drags back to school after longed-for Christmas vacation. That is, practically everyone. Many senior boys, having completed their credits for graduation, leave during the month for college, to get as much education as possible before Uncle Sam calls. Among those are Howie Baughman, Lee DeLotelle, Bob Wolery, Pete Spicard, Paul O'Neil and—a staggering blow to the Trojan Staff, photographers, George Davis and Stan Beck . . . Students aren't walking around with anxious looks on their pale faces because they're worrying about breaking their New Year's resolutions, oh, no! Why does this air of catastrophe hang over the building? Semester exams, no less!

FEBRUARY:

Shortest month of the year gets off to a flying start with "Back to School Night." Fond mamas and papas, breathless from three flights of stairs, proudly watch their offspring struggle valiantly through classes. Oh, those embarrassing moments when the flustered pupils don't know the answers! Student council members act as hosts and hostesses and the evening is pronounced a success by all . . . Tryouts begin for musical comedy and senior play. Both look very promising. Because of the shortage of men, it was impossible to get a double cast of boys for either one! . . . Senior Honor Council girls work hard moving chairs out of lunch room for Senior Girls' Tea . . . Spanish Club loses its president as Bill Pressler leaves for the Navy . . . Since the movie "Casablanca" was in town, everyone goes around singing "As Time Goes By."

"Juke Box Saturday Night"

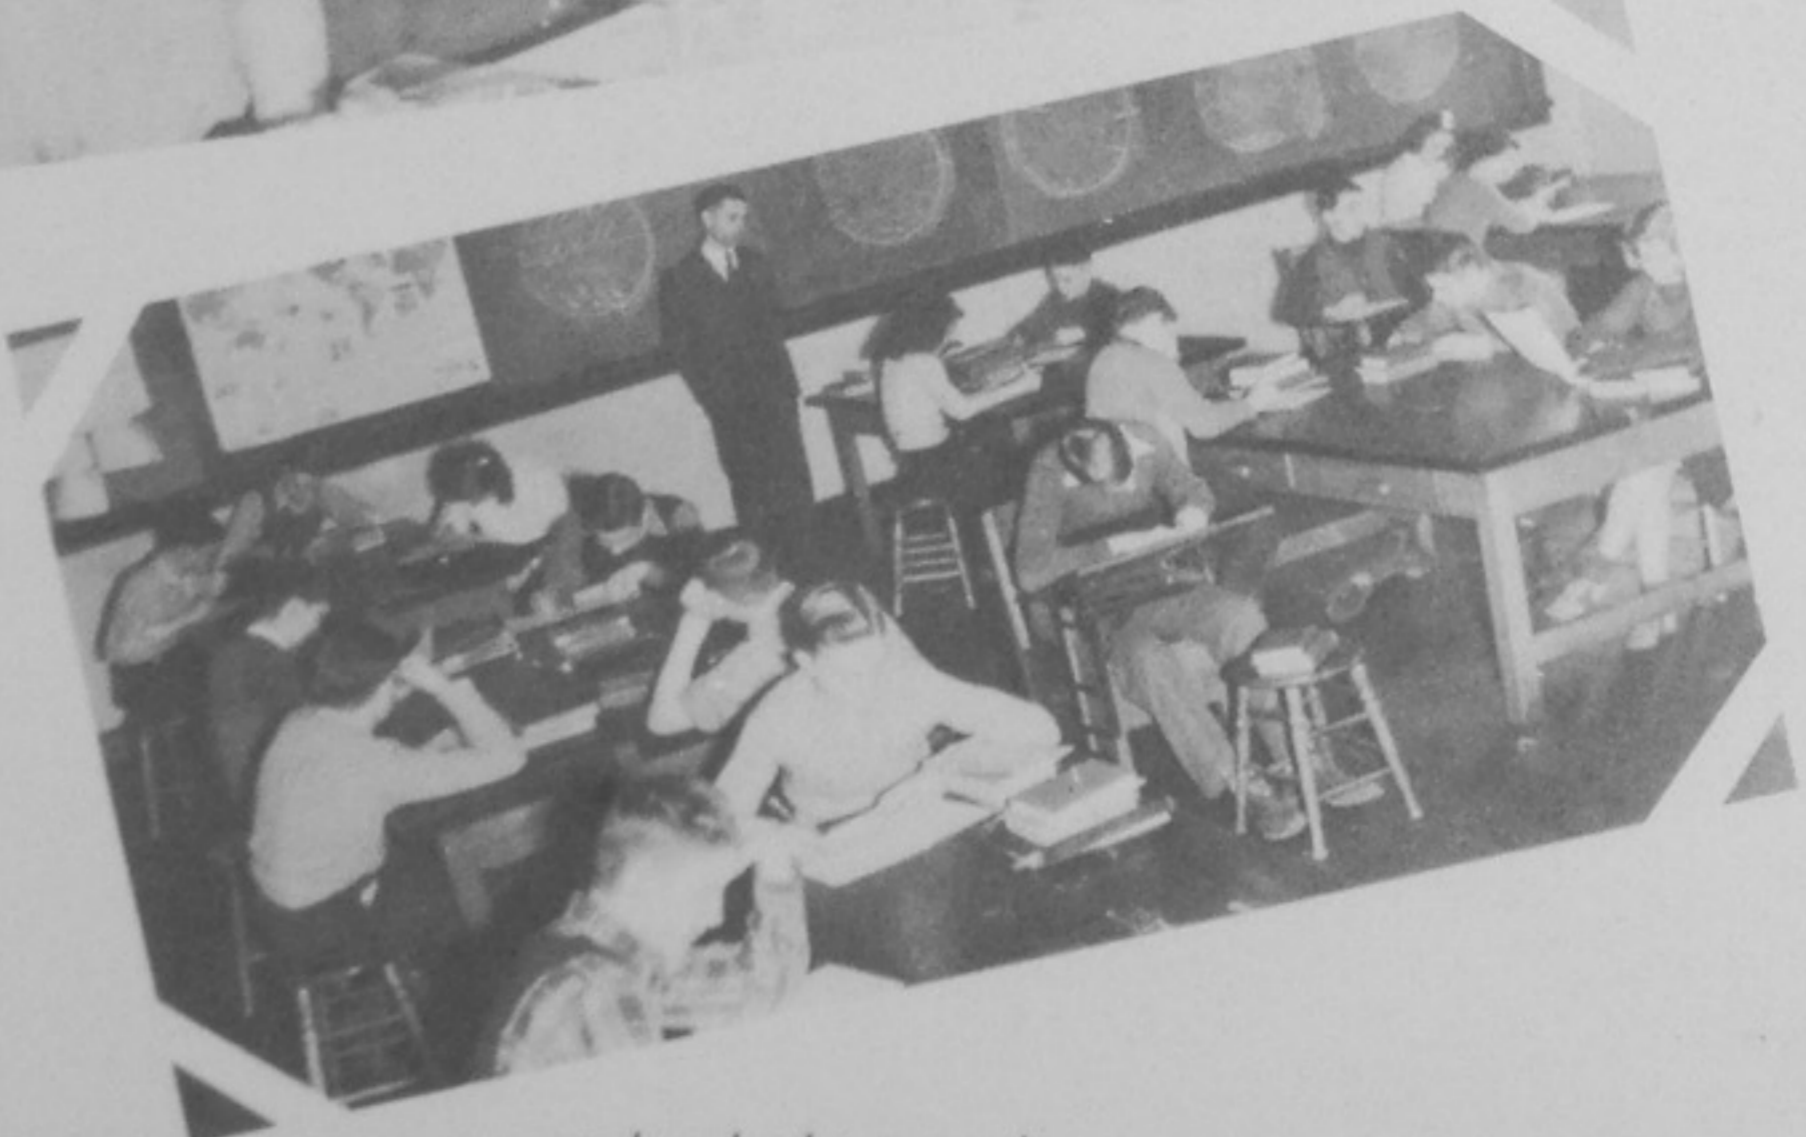

"Locker" inspection

Could it "B" that they "C" A's?

Please pass the butter

Glad it's only once a semester!

MARCH:

March comes in like a lamb and everyone is happy that spring has sprung at last . . . Girls' League gives girls' tag dance . . . Rehearsals for senior play, "Eyes of Tlaloc," continue at full speed; although Carl Wendelken suffered an acute attack of appendicitis three weeks before the play "the show must go on" and he made a speedy recovery in time for the performance . . . If you heard a loud crash in the vicinity of 207 about lunchtime there was no cause for alarm; it was only "Red" Wittenberg running into the door in his effort to get to lunch before anyone else . . . YoYo craze sweeps school as a sure sign of spring . . .

APRIL:

Army and Navy tests given to senior boys. Who knows, maybe P.H.S. will have a general or an admiral before the war is over . . . Colds, colds everywhere and the cast of "Hollywood Bound" is hit harder than anything else. It seems Miss Moore thought she'd have the operetta in the spring this year to avoid losing the cast to "Old Man Flu" . . . Up and coming sophomores give annual dance . . . Pupils weary after long winter's work (?) eagerly welcome spring vacation . . . It's said Easter is the latest this year that it has been in the last two hundred years . . . Back to school again and Joe and Josephine Student step out at annual girls' tag Coed Prom.

MAY AND JUNE:

Coming into the homestretch of the school year, G.A.C. holds its annual party at which the coveted sportsmanship cup is given . . . Hit of the year as usual is "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party," a play with all-boy cast written and directed by Mr. Leach . . . Year draws to a close for seniors with Baccalaureate and preparing for Commencement biggest affair of the year, the Jr. Sr. Prom is informal this year because of the war, but it is a great success just the same . . . Seniors don caps and gowns and bid farewell to dear old P.H.S. at Commencement held in the stadium . . . Well, another year is over and all that lies ahead are the great plans of the long summer vacation. Goodbye and good luck until another September rolls around!

By and MULE WATER

The primitive modes of transportation in Portsmouth's early history served a progressive purpose.

Today they still serve. Combined with great fleets of cargo planes flying the oceans, the mule and barges, tanks and jeeps, have brought Victory in Tunisia - - - started a new world into being and the beginning of Peace to humanity. So with printing in its course of progress! The successful way uses all that is good of the past . . . This is Comptolith . . . The Modern Way . . . *24 HOURS A DAY-
7 DAYS A WEEK IS* OLD STUFF TO US!

We cheered, too, when the Government called on industry to work twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, until this war is won.

But continuous production is nothing new to the electric industry. We've always worked that way. That's one big reason why we were prepared to power the factories that are filling the sky with planes, the earth with tanks, and the sea with ships.

Production schedules that stagger the world are possible only because America is so powerfull. America has far more electric power than all the Axis countries combined. And today's power is quickly available at almost any point of need.

These things have been accomplished because America's electric companies have been built and operated the American way - by good business management.
