DEDICATION

In order to show our appreciation, love, and respect for those who have accomplished so much welfare for our school and its students, we the class of Nineteen Hundred and Fifty, wish to dedicate this annual to the pupils and communities of Clay Township.

FOREWORD

We the Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred and Fifty in editing this annual have endeavored to record some of the happy events of the events of the days spent, especially in our Senior year. With this purpose in mind we have worked unceasingly to accomplish our goal, and we hope that this annual will remain a cherished souvenir in the coming years.

We deeply appreciate the guidance and help that our class advisors and others, have given us.

TO OUR CLASS ADVISORS

We sincerely appreciate your cooperation in assisting us with our 1950 annual.

We also want to thank Mr. Seeley for his cooperation during our Freshman and Senior years, and wish to thank Mr. Bandy for keeping our finances in such excellent condition throughout our four years which we have spent here.

TO THE SENIORS OF 1949 - 50

It has been a source of considerable pleasure to have had the privilege of being home room teacher of the graduating class of 1950. To me they have demonstrated the ability and initiative necessary for making a successful career.

I should like to take this opportunity to extend to each and every one of them my sincere wishes for a most happy and successful future.

Mr. Seeley.

PROPHECY

SENIOR CLASS OF 1950

I received a telegram from a business associate of mine last week which called me out of town for a few days, but I learned more in those few days than Mary Belle Justice writes in her gossip column in a year's time.

I left on an early train for Missouri and certainly didn't think I would meet anyone I knew but as I sat down in the nearest vacant seat I found hidden behind a sport page, Marcella Canter who was reading a review about her "Girl Wonders" a professional basketball team which she coached. She seemed so interested, I knew better than to interrupt her at this time so I just read the Ads on the back page. I saw that Bob Pelphrey was making a fortune on his best seller "How To Play Hookey and Get By With It." This was surprising enough but I also read that "Charles of the Ritz" also known as Charles Keaton was faced with a law suit filed by Ruth Ruby and Phyllis Russell, two professional models who had intrusted their beautiful locks into the hands of Charles for curling. It seems their curls didn't compare with the blond curls of Charles. A young lawyer by the name of Bernard Sword is handling the case.

Marcella turned a page to finish her review and on the next page in the lower left hand corner was an advertisement of a race. Motorcycle VS. Hotrod in notional feat. This sounded interesting so I read on. The motorcycle was to be ridden by Audrey Wills and the Hotrod driven by Don Bentley. Both are nationally known for their daring stunts. At this time Lowell Curtis is to exhibit his marvelous talent for blowing bubble gum. That seemed to be all of interest on this page so I looked out the window. We were passing a huge farm called "George's Grape Groves," George L. Schuler, proprietor. It certainly was a huge place.

Marcella finished her review so I began to inquire about several of my friends who had left our city. She told me that Pauline Chandler and Erlene Young were becoming famous as lady wrestlers. They are contributing all of their technique to the gym classes of Clay High.

The train pulled into Grand Central Station and since I had a short wait before I boarded my plane to Missouri I took this opportunity to see the city of New York.

PROPHECY

As I walked down 5th Avenue I came to a millinery shop. There placing one of her latest creations in the window was Doris Burchett. I stopped to talk with her for a few minutes and found that she was in partnership with Joyce Bryant who was away on business at the present time. Doris told me to tune in the "Donahoe Variety Show" later that evening and hear the wonderful talent. I walked on until I came to a pet shop and whom should I find feeding bon bons to French poodles none other than Jim Bennett and Paul Elam. They seemed very happy being bachelors.

I turned the corner of 42nd Street and at first I thought I was hit by a hurricane but I found that it was a young executive of wall Street by the name of Gene Porter. Since he was late for his appointment, I decided not to press charges. The cop, Jack Baldrige, found a cab for me and I hurried back to my waiting plane.

I took a seat next to a young lady reading a comic strip entitled "Mutt & Marvin" posed for by Don Miller and Marvin Cameron. She introduced herself as Charlotte Carver. Seeing her portable radio I suddenly remembered the Variety Show. It was a little early for it but she turned it on and we heard a strangely familiar voice, a man seemed to be making a speech. At the close of the program the announcer said, "You have just heard one of a series of campaign speeches for the governorship of Ohio presented by the Democratic Candidate, Frank W. Coakley." To me this was a shock for as I remember Frank took no interest in politics.

I had no time to voice my opinion for the orchestra was playing the opening strains of the famous Donahoe rendition of "Mule Train" This opened the program of talent I know I shall never hear again. Some of the talent were ones I had never heard before. A team of comedians, Claude Wright and James Bender were presenting a skit with an impersonator named Kathleen Cook. Following this program was a panel discussion given by three well-known women. June Flagg supervisor of John Hopkins Hospital, Carolyn Miller, Dean of Girls at Stephen's College and Gladys Stamper, a commander of the Waves.

I arrived at the Missouri station a much better informed person than when I left the Eastern Coast. I am sitting in my hotel room tonight and hoping that the success they have won will follow them the rest of their lives.

CLASS WILL

We the class of 1950, of Clay Township High School, being of unsound mind, no memory, and no understanding, do make our last will and testament in the manner and form following:

Eugene Baldrige wills his love for all women to Ronald Marcum.

Audrey Willis wills her ability to stay engaged to Vernie Brushwood.

Carolyn Miller wills her ability to learn to Ronnie Powell.

Frank Coakley wills his ability to be popular to Georgia Evans.

Joyce Bryant wills her nice personality to Patty Vastine.

June Flagg wills her ability to love all boys to Delores Shively, and Jean Odle.

Don Miller wills himself to Evelyn Lybrook. (Just for the asking.)

Paul Elam wills his baseball captain seat to Ben Winters.

Charlotte Carver wills her tinted hair to Janet Jordan. (Too late Charlotte, she's already got it.)

James Bender wills his fishing ability to Ronald Horsely. (Boys, the hook goes on the other end of the pole.)

Gladys Stamper wills her sweetness to teachers to Paul Bandy.

Marcella Canter wills her space in detention to Earl Burke.

Jim Bennett wills his ability to skip school to Talmage Buckle.

Erlene Young, wills her love for Valley Township boys to Jean Moore.

Pauline Chandler wills her mysterious dates to Betty Jo Griffith.

Gene Porter wills his wise cracks to Ralph Ramsey.

Marvin Cameron wills his class ring to Bernice McManus.

Lowell Curtis wills his dancing ability to Juanita Smith.

Phyllis Russell wills her singing to Carolyn Queen.

Paul Haney wills his car to Paul Elrod and Freddie Shonkwiler.

Charles Keaton wills his bench warming ability to Jack Haney.

Bob Pelphrey wills his copying ability to Arnold Burchett.

Ruth Ruby wills her fascinating giggle to Lowell Purdy.

Ronnie Donahoe wills his artistic ability to Clarence Jones.

Doris Burchett wills her graceful walk to Corrine McCoy and Joyce Jewett.

Mary Belle Justice wills her snappy manner of speech to Richard Hayslip.

Kathleen Cook wills her bass voice to Ruth Kitchen and Garnet Erwin.

George Schuler wills his love for Minford High Students to Dow Whitt.

Don Bently leaves his keenly cut, curly hair and his slick line of smooth talk to Don Saunders.

Bernard Sword wills his love for Freshmen girls to Donald Bainer.

Claude Wright wills his yearly yearning to keep the school roaring with laughter to Gene Cunningham.

CLASS HISTORY

The graduating class of 1950 started their adventurous high school career when 57 students went out for the varsity team. During the year we students celebrated our victories by giving class parties to show our appreciation to our coach, Mr. Seely. Although our season started out with a bang it proved to be tough for some of our fellow team-mates took the easy way out. Some of them were June Carver, Juanita Lyons, Della Ray Mingus, Richard Hammond, and Betty Skeens, who preferred married life to a good education. Others lost from the team were: Phyllis Hayes, Madeline Logan, Don Freauf, Charles Clark, Vinson Guman, Don Wiley, Wanda Clark, Marcine Maggard, and Helen Sexton who were anxious to find out what public works were like. Two other losers of our team were Paul Wagner who couldn't wait to see what Uncle Sam's Army was like and David Staten who is more or less a near neighbor at Glenwood High. This brought our Freshman year of '46 and '47 to a close and left us with a much smaller Varsity team consisting of 41 Players.

Our Sophomore year we still had our varsity team of 41 students and four newcomers. They were: Ruth Stevens, Frances Banks, Mary Conley and Dorothy Terry, along with a new coach, Mrs. Hodgden. Each victory was celebrated somewhat as the previous year with a weiner roast and dance at the beginning and end of the year. Before we realized it another year of our high school career had passed.

Returning in our Junior year we were a few students short. Those those failing to return were: Betty Riffe and Betty Rigsby, who are now married; Frances Brooks, who moved to Texas. Mary Conley, Dorothy Terry and Don Whisman now employed in public works.

The following year, 1949-50 was a big year, for we were now Seniors, with our old coach Mr. Seeley. Failing to return to finish their high school course were: Irene Johnson and Fred Riffe, who are now married; Dave Bartlett, Don Greenhill and Don Van Meter serving in Uncle Sam's Army. June Reinhardt transferred to Lucasville.

This year we had still another coach, Mrs. Margaret Yonovitz who who took pride in our team and accomplished many things. The first big event was a dance followed by that exciting day when we received our class rings. We also had this year to thank for a successful Class play "Enter The Hero." The climax of the season was the Junior-Senior Banquet, at the Chez Paree, and the Junior-Senior Prom at school.

At the Homecoming Dance we chose our Queen. Our fourth year ended with the selecting of Baledictorian and Salutatorian followed by Baccalaureate and Commencement Exercises.
