MR. DUDUIT, who does his utmost to make our school life enjoyable, is both our friend and adviser.

EDWARD R. McCOWEN County Superintendent

Mr. McCowen received his B.S. degree in education from Ohio University and his Master's degree from Northwestern University. His broad vision has helped make it possible for our schools to continue to offer new courses as the need arises.

In a letter this year to the County Board of Education from Mr. L. L. Louthian, High School Inspector of the State Department of Education, Mr. Louthian said in part, "Scioto County is one of the finest systems in the state, the leadership is very superior and the several units are making more improvements and are functioning at a higher level than at any time in the past." This report speaks for itself as to the schools of Scioto County and the leadership. Mr. McCowen points out that the motto for our schools should be, "Go Forward Scioto County Schools."

Supt. McCowen points out, "We will continue in the years to come to serve our boys and girls in the best manner and continue to improve the educational set-up in Scioto County."

Before being appointed to his present position, Mr. Duduit was a teacher of history and government in the high school.

J. DONALD McCOWEN

Mr. McCowen continued to serve as Assistant Supervising Principal since the return of Mr. Duduit. Before Mr. Duduit's return from the Navy he served as assistant to Mr. Smith. CLASS POEM

WINGS OF OPPORTUNITY

As birds early learn to fly
And leave the nest that has been their sanctuary;

By gaining knowledge as the years go by,

We, too, earn our wings.

Wings that take us out into careers,

Into a world of opportunity and wide horizons,

And, too, a world of strife and shadowy .fears,

But let us wisely use the wings of confidence.

Only a brief moment in life we have tarried,

In gathering the mere particles of Knowledge,

Use it wisely; your future will be carried

On wings of opportunity.

Agnes Alene Blanton

It is the year 1960 and we, Joanne Purtee and Loretta Armes, have returned to Wheelersburg, now the biggest city and the capital of Ohio, to look for some new scents for our Bubble Bath Factory. Upon entering the city, we find Sid Smith is the owner of a super-fish market. We go in to talk to him and ask about some of our classmates. He tells us that Gerald Hall is now manager of Ohio State's basketball team, and Jesse Ramey is owner of Ramey's Feed and Live Stock. Don Williams and Janet Turner are now Mr. and Mrs., and own one of the greatest hotels in the city, where we are staying. Jerry Bailey runs Chaboudys' ice cream parlor. As we depart from the market we see Patty Fairchild who is now manager of a dime store here in town. She tells us Julia Fout moved to California, but is expected back soon. We journey on down the great wide streets of Wheelersburg to learn that several of our classmates have prospered very well. Pat Hehl and Beulah Horner own the "B" Sweet Beauty Shoppe. Tom Bowen owns Bowen's Chicken Farm with Bob Mauk his manager. Joe Turner, owner of the "Snap-It Studios" has as his photographers, Ernie Williams and Sonny McFerren. Don Hoover is the principal of the high school and Juanita Monroe is the girls physical education teacher. Joe Merrill and Royal Fritz are chief electricians at the Ohio Power Company. Near noon we begin to feel hungry and so we stop in at the Wheel to find that it is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Setters. We begin talking and are informed that Frances Lewis is happily married. Paul Means and Juanita Wright are prominent singers with Jack LeMaster's orchestra at Don Smith's nite club.

Finished with lunch, we leave the Wheel and see none other than Jim Bennett and James Kidd, now Co-Presidents of the Hop Scotch League. And who else should we see but Pat Dold, taking her dog to the veterinarian. We stop at the Wheelersburg Public Library to learn that it is run by Agnes Blanton with Lillian Sagraves as chief librarian. We chat with them and they tell us that Rosemary Cleary and Rosemary Collingsworth both are married and are now living on Dogwood Ridge. Don Gleim owns a huge truck farm and Earl Evans is his top foreman. We come out of the restaurant and are almost run over by a florist shop truck. We were amazed to see James Evans driving. He is the proud owner of Evans Floral Shop, the largest in the state. We stop to talk to him and he tells us that Lt. Don Ellis just signed up for three more years in the navy. We all decide to take in the monthly P.T.A. meeting and are surprised to find Jeanetta Roberts president of the club, and Charlotte Green taking an active part as vice-president. We leave the meeting about seventhirty and decide to take a cab back to the hotel. This brings us two surprises, Jim Woodrum is the driver, and he informs us that Joann Wright is the owner of the company. We arrive at the hotel just in time to see Ensign Charles Roe, home for a short leave from the Navy. He tells us he has just seen Paul Ishmael and Paul now is the business manager of Maurita Gleim's Vegetable Farm. We go up to our rooms and decide to read the paper. We see two familiar names in the headlines on the sports page. Killer Wade Wright, now a famous boxer, won the feather weight championship of Ohio. Bill Hall is a star on Ohio State's basketball team. As we turn on through the paper, our attention is called to a fashion show to be held the following day in the exclusive shop of Kathleen Thompson. One of the lovely models will be Juanita Staggs. We regret very much that we will not be in town for the show, but satisfied with our trip to Wheelersburg, we go on our way to continue our search for scents.

Class History

Ho! at last we, the Senior Class of '49, has reached the goal —our senior year — graduation — for which we have labored for 12 long years! How long that seems to be as we look back to the day when we hastened to school for the first time. Then, how, for eight years we worked and played — slowly advancing from one grade to another until we entered high school.

We started our high school career with an enrollment of seventy-six eager freshmen. We had a party, a hayride, and a weiner roast. Our Sponsors were Mrs. Kelso, Mr. Russell, and Mr. Speares. Our class officers were Sid Smith, President; Don Smith, Vice-President; and Janet Turner, Secretary and Treasurer.

In the Sophomore year the enrollment was the same as the freshman year—seventy-six. The first party of the year was at Halloween. Other activities were, a hayride, and a weiner roast at the roadside park. We were assisted by our Sponsors, Miss Mitchell and Mr. Snook, and our class officers Don Smith, President; Sid Smith, Vice-President; Janet Turner, Secretary; and Lillian Sagraves, Treasurer. We concluded the year with a picnic at Lake Vesuvius.

Salute us as Juniors, with an enrollment of sixtyfive! We missed several of our classmates. Our sponsors Miss Richards and Mr. See, and our class officers, Royal Fritz, President; Joe Merrill, Vice-President; Janet Turner, Secretary; and Lillian Sagraves, Treasurer, guided us through a year of steady activity. Our class play, "Every body's Crazy" was a great success, directed by Mrs. Scher er and Mr. See. Our banquet, held at Hotel Henry Clay in Ashland, was the high light of our junior year. We concluded the year with a picnic at Lake Hope.

All hail! We began the year with an enrollment of fifty-two. The officers chosen to oversee the completio of our senior year were Jack LeMaster, President; Erni Williams, Vice-President; Anna Thieken, Secretary; an Lillian Sagraves, Treasurer. Our Sponsor was Mr. Se assisted by Miss Richards. Five of us were on the basket ball team. Our senior class play "Brides to Burn" wa given the first part of April. The annual was published be the seniors with the help of three juniors and two sporsors. The climax of our senior year was the Junior-Senio banquet and a picnic. This was the most pleasant year our school life.

At last our school days are about over. Soon it wibe a pleasant memory to us, but never can we forget ou dear old Alma Mater. It looms up before us in ever undertaking and serves as our key to future success. Snow, dear school, we bid you a reluctant farewell. Ou ship which is bound for the distant port of Success, has set sail upon the stormy sea of Life and we find ourselve out of the harbor, —out into the deep, "To strive, to seek to find and not to yield!"
